P R E F A C E.

THE present Catalogue includes all acquisitions made by the Department of Manuscripts during the five years 1911-1915, arranged under the heads of Additional MSS., Egerton MSS., Additional Charters, Detached Seals, Papyri, and Facsimiles of MSS. The temporary diversion of the activities of the staff during the war into other channels is the cause of the unusually late date of its appearance. The total number of MSS. acquired in the five years amounts to eleven hundred and eighty-four; of Charters, to six thousand six hundred and twenty-six; of Seals, to two hundred and ninety-nine; and of Papyri, to two hundred and five. The number of printed Facsimiles available to students in the Department is increased by about seventy-seven.

As usual, the acquisitions have been materially augmented by donations and bequests. These have all been noted under the entries in the Catalogue, but several are of such importance as to call for special mention here also, viz. :—

(a) Under the will of Mr. Alfred H. Huth, the Trustees were enabled to select from his library fifty volumes at their discretion. The thirteen important MSS., all illuminated, which were acquired as part of the fifty, are described fully in the Catalogue of the Huth Bequest, 1912, and more summarily below, Additional MSS. 38114-38126. Of these, one—the interest of which is mainly in the inserted engravings (Add. 38123)—has been transferred to the Department of Prints and Drawings.

(b) The Hon. Henry Berkeley Portman presented in 1911 a large collection of State Papers, forming about three hundred volumes, from the family collections of the Earls of Liverpool (Add. 38190-38489, cf. Add. 38564-38581).

(c) Lady Layard (d. 1912) bequeathed a large series of diplomatic, archaeological, and other correspondence and papers of her husband, the Right Hon. Sir Austen Henry Layard, G.C.B., the explorer of Nineveh. This forms two hundred and thirty-four volumes (Add. 38931-39164).*

* The restriction placed by the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs on the use of certain of the Layard Papers (see p. 356) has now been removed so far as concerns Add. MSS. 39101-39127, 39130, 39135-39138, 39141, 39142, 39144-39151, 39157-39159, 39161.

(d) Another considerable series of family papers, to some extent already known to historians from the calendar of the Historical Manuscripts Commission, was presented in 1915 by Mrs. Edmond R. Wodehouse (Add. MSS. 39218–39252, Add. Ch. 59797–61129).

(e) M. Paul Heger, ex-President of the Royal Academy of Medicine in Belgium, and his sisters presented in 1913 four autograph letters of Charlotte Brontë addressed to M. Constantin Heger, the original of M. Paul Emanuel in “Villette” (Add. 38732).

(f) Lady Wernher (now Lady Ludlow) purchased for the Museum, at the Red Cross sale in 1915, five pages of the autograph MS. of the Pickwick Papers by Charles Dickens (Add. 39182). Another page was presented in 1911 by Mr. W. A. White, of New York (Add. 38510, f. 234).

(g) The Egypt Exploration Society presented in 1914 a collection of thirty-six Greek and Latin papyri from Oxyrhynchus, details of which are noticed below (Papp. 2040–2075).

It may be useful to indicate briefly, under various classes, some of the acquisitions of special interest, either purchased or presented:—

1. Among Greek MSS. the Oxyrhynchus papyri just mentioned include, besides documents, portions of the Ichneutae and Eurypylos of Sophocles, an ode of Bacchylides, the Meliambi of Cercidas, and Plato's Phaedrus. Another collection bought in 1911 includes a great part of the second book of the Iliad (Pap. 1873) besides many documents of the first to third centuries after Christ. A country other than Egypt has produced an unexpected find in the two parchment or skin deeds of the first century B.C. from Avromān (Add. 38895). Of later codices, we have an Acts and Epistles written in 1312 (Add. 38538), and a Life of St. Sabas, fourteenth century (Add. 38790). A Slavonic MS. of the Gospels, sixteenth century (Add. 38782), may be conveniently mentioned here.

2. Among Latin MSS. of early date or special palaeographical interest are fragments of a fifth century papyrus codex of Cicero's speeches (Pap. 2057), along with a few Latin documents among the Oxyrhynchus papyri allotted to the Museum; the Peristephanon of Prudentius (Add. 38646), and a Passion of St. Pancras (Add. 38914), both of the eleventh century; the Canonical Epistles from Morimondo in the diocese of Milan (Add. 38596), Origen on Numbers, Joshua, Judges and Kings, also of Italian provenance (Add. 38643), Vitae Patrum, from Ste. Croix d'Offémont (Add. 38684), and St. Augustine De Civitate Dei, libb. i–ix, perhaps written in Spain (Eg. 2905), all of the twelfth century; Palladius, Vitruvius and Vegetius, of English origin (Add. 38818), twelfth–thirteenth century; the New Testament, written in the South of France (Eg. 2907), early thirteenth century; and Ansileubus, Liber Glossarum, thirteenth century (Add. 38167).

3. Under the heading of Historical Manuscripts and Political Papers may be noticed two twelfth century MSS. of Bede's History, accompanied in the one case (Add. 38130) by a life of St. Neot, in the other (Add. 38817, from Kirkham Priory) by the Invention of St. Ragner at Northampton, a fragment (early thirteenth century) of an unknown tract on the exile of the Canterbury monks and the translation of St. Thomas (Add. 38686), an early text (late thirteenth century) of the Chroniques de Saint Denis (Add. 38128), William of Malmesbury's Gesta Regum and Historia Novella, third recension, fifteenth century (Add. 38129), two volumes (presented by the London Institution) of Froissart's Chronicles (Add. 38658, 38659), and the Compendion Historiall of T. Wall (Add. 38691). Besides the Liverpool Papers, mentioned above under presentations, which provide great masses of material for the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries (Add. 38190-38489); the Huskisson Papers (Add. 38734-38770) and the letters of George Canning to J. H. Frere, 1800-1826 (Add. 38833), throw much light on Canning's career. Earlier acquisitions are supplemented by a volume of Sir J. Caesar's papers, 1582-1619 (Add. 38170), many volumes from the Southwell collection of State Papers, including Lord Melfort's negotiations with the Pope, 1689-1690, Sir R. Southwell's letter-book in Ireland, 1690, War Office papers of W. Blathwayt, etc. (Add. 38142, 38144-38157, 38536, 38694-38714, 38861), three volumes from the Ormonde Papers, including the Duke of Ormonde's journal of the expedition against Cadiz, 1702, Irish petitions, etc. (Add. 38159, 38160, 38173), and one volume of the papers of Lord Mount-Stuart at Turin, 1779-1783 (Add. 38774). Purchases of sundry lots from the J. E. Hodgkin collection, besides miscellaneous original papers illustrative of English social history, include important correspondence of the Earl of Danby, 1677-1691, papers relating to the Pretender, etc. (Add. 38846-38857); and from the Townshend sale, among many miscellaneous State Papers from the reign of Elizabeth to that of George IV, are interesting letter-books of A. Moreau, Polish Envoy at the Hague, throwing light on the English Revolution of 1688 (Add. 38492-38508).

4. Of Monastic History there is unusually little. A fragment relating to Canterbury has already been noticed (38686), and a volume of Lives of Hexham Saints (twelfth century) includes a history of the foundation of St. Mary's Abbey, York (Add. 38816). A portion of Leland's Collectanea is in Add. 38132. General Constitutions of the Order of Austin Friars are in Add. 38649.

Guilds are better represented by two books, each belonging to a guild of Smiths, etc., the one of Bridgnorth, co. Salop, 1598-1752 (Add. 38834), the other of Coventry, co. Warw., 1684-1821 (Eg. 2906).

5. Liturgical MSS. include four Psalters, one of the twelfth century, probably from Bourn Abbey (Add. 38819), another, also from Lincoln diocese, of the end of the thirteenth century, among the Huth MSS. (Add. 38116), a Sarum Psalter of about the same date (Add. 38822), and the Breadalbane Psalter from Scotland, fourteenth century (Eg. 2899); an imperfect York Breviary, early fifteenth century (Add. 38624), and a Brigittine Breviary from Genoa, dated 1470 (Add. 38604); a Sacramentary of a monastery connected with Jerusalem, early thirteenth century (Eg. 2902), and Missal with Gradual, of Paris use, mid. thirteenth century (Add. 38723); a Benedictional of Saint Saviour, Anchin, near Arras, twelfth century (Add. 38645); a Cistercian Ordinal from Erbach, near Mainz, early fourteenth century (Add. 38786); the English Liber Regalis, early fifteenth century (Add. 38521, *presented by the late Rev. Heref., in 1635 (Add. 38915, presented by the late Dr. J. Wickham Legg); and the treatise De ecclesiasticis officiis of John Belet, twelfth century (Add. 38112).

6. General Mediaeval Literature is represented first by three sections of a MS. (two other sections have since been acquired) of the thirteenth century containing the recently discovered Chanson of Guillaume d'Orange, the Chanson of Guy of Warwick, Life of St. Margaret and Miracles of the Virgin, all in French (Add. 38662-38664). This important MS. was purchased by means of a donation from an anonymous benefactor, whose name may now be revealed as the late Mr. Walter Morrison. Other MSS. under this head are Latin Sermons, with exempla, by Odo of Cheriton, thirteenth century (Eg. 2890); another set of exempla on Virtues and Vices, fourteenth century (Add. 38654); Bernardus de Gordonio, De regimine sanitatis, and another medical tract, fourteenth century (Add. 38689); Merlin in French prose, the unique MS. of the text used for books i-iv of Sir Thomas Malory (Add. 38117, Huth Bequest); Lives of Saints in English verse, fourteenth century (Eg. 2891); Life and Passion of Our Lord, an English poem on church festivals, fifteenth century (Add. 38666); and seven Latin penitential psalms composed by Petrarch, written in 1491 (Add. 38603). Mention may also be made here of John Urry's collections for his edition of Chaucer (publ. in 1721) (Add. 38178-38181, presented by Sir W. S. M'Cormick).

7. Literary MSS. of more recent date include a copy of Sir Philip Sidney's Arcadia in its original form (Add. 38892), and drafts of Sir F. Bacon's Sylva Sylvarum, one leaf being probably in his own hand (38693); also the following autograph works:—John Locke's tract on Education (Add. 38771), Thomas Gray's instructions and additions for the 1768 edition of his poems (Add. 38511, *presented by Miss L. mentioned (Add. 38510 M, presented by Mr. W. A. White, and Add. 39182, presented by Lady Wernher), ballads by George Borrow (Add. 38794 Q, presented by Mr. T. J. C. Temple), W. E. H. Lecky's History of European Morals (Add. 38092, 38093, presented by Mrs. Lecky), Sir Spencer Walpole's History of England and History of Twenty-five Years (Add. 38582-38590, presented by Mr. F. C. Holland), poems by A. C. Swinburne (Add. 39216, 39217, bequeathed by Miss Isabel Swinburne), fables by Robert Louis Stevenson (Add. 39173), two sonnets by Rupert Brooke (Add. 39255 M, presented by Mr. Edward Marsh), and 'Tess' and 'The Dynasts' by Thomas Hardy, O.M. (Add. 38182-38185, presented through Mr. S. C. Cockerell). Lastly may be noted William Upcott's remarkable collection of assignments of copyright by English authors, 1704-1822 (Add. 38728 38730).

8. Illuminated Manuscripts. The beautiful examples from the Huth collection, shown in a special exhibition case in the Grenville Library, and illustrated in the Huth Bequest volume, must by this time be well known to many. A brief enumeration will suffice here. The two-volume Bible (Add. 38114-5) is first-rate French work of the second half of the thirteenth century. To the end of the same century belongs the Psalter (Add. 38116) illuminated in England, probably in Lincoln diocese. The Romance of Merlin (Add. 38117) is primarily of literary interest (French, fourteenth century). The two Apocalypse MSS. (Add. 38118, French, early fourteenth century, and 38121, Dutch, circ. 1400) are less important, but the latter is of unusually late date for a book of this class. The drawings in the German Speculum Humanae Salvationis (Add. 38119, late fourteenth century) belong to a group which is of iconographical interest, and the same applies to the French drawings in Les Trois Pèlerinages (Add. 38120, circ. 1400), but more artistic merit is seen in the Flemish Bible History drawings (Add. 38122, mid. fifteenth century). The Milanese school of the end of the century is represented by two MSS., an interesting Horae (Add. 38124) and a Petrarch (Add. 38125) which is worthy of comparison with the finest work of the period. Lastly, the Horae of circ. 1500 (Add. 38126) concludes the series with an example of the most exquisite quality of the Bruges school.

Other acquisitions are a New Testament, S. of France, early thirteenth century (Eg. 2907), a Sacramentary, in Italo-Byzantine style, early thirteenth century (Eg. 2902); a Bible, Italy, thirteenth century (Eg. 2908); a damaged portion of a fine Apocalypse, perhaps English work, early fourteenth century (Add. 38842); Giovanni d' Andrea on the Sext, written in Italy, illuminated in France, A.D. 1345 (Add. 38644); Spieghel der Maechden, Holland, early fifteenth century (Add. 38527); Horae, French, mid. fifteenth century (Add. 38528); and a Dutch Horae of similar date (Add. 38724). In addition seven cuttings of MSS. (French and Italian, fifteenth century) from the Rogers collection were transferred from the Department of Prints and Drawings (Add. 38896, 38897).

9. Music. The chief acquisitions are a volume of pieces for the lute, circ. 1613–1616 (Add. 38539); services by Purcell, with other sacred music, transcribed in 1734 (Add. 38648), and by Croft, autograph, 1719 (Add. 38668); dance-tunes, seventeenth-eighteenth century (Add. 38189); songs and harpsichord solos, chiefly by English composers, eighteenth century (Add. 38188); duets for oboes by R. Valentine, eighteenth century (Add. 38531); sacred music by Italian eighteenth century composers (Add. 39166), and a copy of Handel's opera 'Radamisto' (Add. 39180), both presented by Mr. W. Barclay Squire; English song-tunes collected by William Chappell (Add. 38789); F. Clay's opera 'The Bold Recruit' (Add. 38785, presented by Mrs. Godfrey Pearse); Samuel Butler's dramatic works 'Narcissus' and 'Ulysses,' written in collaboration with Henry Festing Jones (Add. 38176, 38177, presented by Mr. H. F. Jones); and a considerable collection of musical compositions, etc., by R. L. Pearsall (Add. 38540–38563).

10. Of collections of Private Correspondence, etc., the most notable are:—Thirty-nine Latin letters of Erasmus, 1522–1536 (Add. 38512); ten letters of Swift, 1711–1737 (Add. 38671, presented by Mrs. E. Bromley); papers relating to the family and friends of St. Teresa (Add. 38653, presented by Mr. R. B. Cunninghame Graham); correspondence of Sir Kenelm Digby, 1633–1668, and of Sir Sackville Crow and others of his family, 1671–circ. 1744 (Add. 38175); a large collection of family papers of the Mackenzies of Suddie and Scatwell, co. Ross, seventeenth-nineteenth centuries (Add. 39187–39211); correspondence of Leigh Hunt, 1807–1859 (Add. 38108–38111, 38523, 38524); and correspondence, chiefly of the son and grandson of William Hazlitt, 1814–1913 (Add. 38898–38913, bequeathed by William Carew Hazlitt). Interesting autographs will also be found by reference to the Index under Berlioz, Brontë (as noted above), Davy (Sir H.), Dilke (Sir C.), Etty, Gaskell (Mrs. E. C.), Hunt (W. Holman), Landseer, Millais, Shelley, Smith (Sydney), and Wallace (A. R.).

11. Miscellaneous MSS. and Archaeological Collections include important specimens of ancient Mexican picture-writing (Eg. 2896, 2897), with which may be mentioned a facsimile of the Rickards codex of the same character (Add. 38845, presented by Miss A. Breton), and vocabularies of Mexican tribes (Add. 38720). Heraldry is represented by the important fifteenth century roll of arms known as the Dering Roll (Add. 38537), and the curious fabrication connected with Ely Cathedral (Add. 38164); and genealogy by anonymous collections, temp. Hen. VIII (Add. 38133), collections by Nicholas Wotton (Add. 38692), Sir William Dugdale (Add. 38140, 38141), and the late Mr. H. C. Malden (Add. 38609-38617, presented by Mrs. Malden). Theatrical collections are those of James Winston (Add. 38607) and R. J. Smith (Add. 38620, 38621). A most useful collection of watermarks copied from documents at Canterbury Cathedral was presented by the compiler, Mr. M. Beazeley (Add. 38637-38642); and a Dictionary of monograms and identified paintings by F. P. Séguier was transferred from another Department (Add. 38796-38803). A printed copy of Pope's Iliad given by him to Gilbert White contains pen-sketches of the naturalist, believed to be the only portraits of him extant (Add. 38875-38880). MSS. chiefly interesting for their bindings are Add. 38820, Eg. 2892, 2900, 2903, 2904.

12. The Charters acquired are chiefly miscellaneous collections without special features, but mention may be made of early papal bulls (Add. Ch. 58421, 58422), some useful dated charters from Tournay (Add. Ch. 58916-59033), and English diplomatic documents, temp. Edw. I-Edw. IV (Add. Ch. 59140-59144). A good specimen of a private chartulary is that of Roos of Hamlake, temp. Edw. I-Hen. IV (Add. MS. 38187), and an important estate-map is that of the famous Davies estate in Ebury manor in Westminster, 1663-1670 (Add. MS. 38104).

The Catalogue has been compiled by the staff of the Department on the same scheme as previous volumes of the series, and the descriptions have been revised by myself. The descriptions of charters and papyri are of the nature of an inventory only. The fuller descriptions of the latter will appear in the special Catalogue of Papyri, another volume of which is in preparation. The fuller descriptions of charters are also in progress, and will be available in MS. form in the Department in due course. The revision of the Index has been mainly the work of Mr. J. A. Herbert, Deputy-Keeper, with the assistance of Mr. Wood, Assistant-Keeper, and Messrs. Hales and Schofield, Assistants.

38101. "ESSAI historique et politique de la Vendée par M. de Solignac, officier au Regiment d'Orléans infanterie, sorti de France en Janvier, 1794, et ayant servi dans l'Armée Royaliste depuis le Mois d'Avril, 1793, jusqu'au 4 décembre meme année, jour qu'il fut fait prisonnier au Mans": an account of the war in La Vendée from its beginning to the author's capture at the defeat of the Royalists at Le Mans. The date 4 Dec. above should be 14, and so too 3 Dec. on f. 11 b should be 13. The author is clearly the same as the "M. de Solilhac," a gentleman of Le Puy, an account of whose adventures is given by H. Forneron, Histoire générale des Émigrés, ii, pp. 4-5; see also the Mémoires of the Marquise de La Rochejaquelein, Paris, 1817, pp. 171, 347, 422, where also the name appears as Solilhac. It appears likely therefore that Solilhac is the correct form, and the present MS. cannot be the author's autograph. Corrections have been added in the margin by another hand, evidently that of a person who took part in the campaign on the Royalist side. In a note on f. 8 he appears to refer to a "mémoire" given by him to Westermann.

Paper; ff. 11. Folio. xviii-xix cent.

38102. "NARRATIVE of the Battle of Enniscorthy," 28 May, 1798, during the Irish rebellion, by the Rev. Thomas Handcock, D.D., rector of Kilcormick, co. Wexford, an eye-witness of the events recorded. The memoir was finished 10 Nov. 1798, and additions were made later. In a note at the end the author states that his MS. was used by Sir Richard Musgrave (Memoirs of the different rebellions in Ireland, 1801).

Paper; ff. i + 92. Quarto. Modern type-written copy. Book-plate of arms of the Rev. Brabazon T[homas] Disney, rector of Abbeyleix, Queen's Co., Ireland. Presented by Mrs. Sarah Disney.

38103. LETTERS and papers, mainly official, relating to Irish affairs, especially during the Lord Lieutenancy of the Marquis Wellesley (1821-1828, 1833-1834); 1782-1837. 20. Vindication by Wellesley of his impartiality towards Roman Catholics during his administration of Ireland, in reply to a statement of Lord John Russell; 1 Mar. 1837. Autograph. f. 217. Paper; ff. 225. Folio.

38104. PLAN of lands in the parishes of St. Martin and St. Margaret, Westminster. These lands, belonging to the manor of Ebury, formed the "Davies estate." They were formerly in the possession of Hugh Audeley or Audley, the money-lender (d. 1662), who seems (but the matter is somewhat obscure, see W. J. Loftie, Hist. of London, 1884, ii, pp. 102, 103, 406, and cf. the present MS. f. 2 b) to have settled them or part of them before his death on Alexander Davies, his great-nephew, brother of Thomas Davies, afterwards (1667) Knt. and (1676-7) Lord Mayor of London. On Alexander's death (1665) the estate passed to his daughter Mary, who married (1676) Sir Thomas Grosvenor, 3rd Bart., since when the greater part of it has remained in the possession of the Grosvenor family and forms the London estate of the Duke of Westminster. For a pedigree of Mary Davies see Midd. and Hertf. Notes and Queries, ii, p. 189.

The lands in question, which lie between "The Way from Tiborne to London" [Oxford Street] and the Thames, are marked in variously coloured parcels, corresponding to the various properties represented, and at the top of the plan are "Notes upon Mr. Audelyes titles to certeine lands expressed in this under severall numbers and colors." There are notes on seven properties, divided into "Contents of the first purchase" (1-6) and "Contents of y<sup>e</sup> second purchase." A history of each portion, with details of the various leases and grants, since the reign of Henry VIII, is given, references being added to the title-deeds, etc., and copious notes are also given on the plan itself, the dimensions of each parcel being specified. There are several queries, e.g. on "The Sawpit Acre," "Quaere whether both these parcells were not Mr. Audelyes, because some of his papers mention two rents payable by y<sup>e</sup> Ld. Andover." The following is a specimen of the references:—"See my notes lying in two boxes, y<sup>e</sup> one of suites, y<sup>e</sup> other of contracts and agreements about Goring House; in which notes & y<sup>e</sup> papers in y<sup>e</sup> respective boxes the state of all affairs of y<sup>e</sup> Lord Goring & about Goring House are collected & disposed in order." Place- and road-names of interest are:—"Tiborne Close," "feild next y<sup>e</sup> Lord Mayors Banqueting house," "Oselston," "The Way from Westminster to Tyborne" [Park Lane], "The Way from Knightsbridge to London" [Knightsbridge and Hyde Park Corner], "The Way to St. Giles's" [Piccadilly], "The Way to Westminster" and "to St. James's" [Constitution Hill], "Mulberry garden," and "St. James Parke gate" [site of Buckingham Palace and gardens], "Pimplico" [Pimlico], "The Princes Slaughterhouse" [in St. James's Park], "The old Footway from Chelsey to Charing Crosse," "The Old Horse Way from Chelsey to Westminster," "The old Way from Westminster [to] Ebury farne now y<sup>e</sup> Way from Chelsey to Westminster," "Toothill Feild," "The Way from Neat to Tuthill," "Abbotsbridge," "The Neatehouse," "Ebury house," "Abbots meade & Calve Haw alias Cawsay Hall," etc. For a discussion of the problems connected with Eybury and Neyte see Notes and Queries, Ser. x, vol. x, pp. 321-323, 461-463, vol. xi, pp. 22-25, 174-175, 231-232.

The date of the plan is later than 10 Apr. 1663, a lease of that date by Alexander Davi[e]s being mentioned; and it must be before 1670, as reference is made to a lease which "is to expire in 1670." It is therefore earlier than the map of the estate (1675) given in Loftie, op. cit. ii, p. 103, and may have been drawn up after the death of Alexander Davies.

Parchment sheet, 4 ft.  $5\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$  2 ft. 1 in., folded.

- 38105. "LOOK TO YOUR MORALS. A Comedy in Two Acts. By [James Henry] Leigh Hunt." Autograph (1833-1840). On f. 2 b four titles are noted by the author for consideration, viz. "The French Girl in England," "Modest Assumptions," "Look to Your Morals," and "Proper's the Word." Of these he had apparently adopted the second, but the third is that by which the work is referred to finally in the Autobiography, and it has been added to the present MS. in another hand. The play, which is there described as a "prose afterpiece, or petty comedy," is in its present form, despite the superscription on the cover, divided into three acts. The plot centres round the discomfiture of Sir Harry Creole, a West Indian Baronet, in his design to displace his nephew, Captain Creole, in the affections of a young widow, Lady Susan Arlyn. In their scheme to obtain from the Baronet the title to a contested estate the lovers are aided by Dobbs, the Captain's valet, and his young French wife Annette, these last being described in the Autobiography as the two principal characters. The scene lies in an English seaport and village at the (then) present time. For further description see Autobiography, 1860, p. 430. The author has subjected his original copy to considerable revision, and as the MS. stands there are one or two trifling inconsistencies, e.g. at the end, owing to the incorporation of folios from another version, Lady Susan is confused with Miss Charlotte Compton.

Paper; ff. 75 (f. 43 is mutilated). Small Quarto.

- 38106. "L[OVERS'] A[MAZEMENTS]": a comedy in five acts, by Leigh Hunt, written in blank verse, with one or two passages in prose. Autograph (1840-1850). This version differs extensively from the three acts of the play in its final form, as printed under the title of "Lovers' Amazements; or, How Will it End?" in Leigh Hunt's Journal, 1851, and reprinted in the American edition of Hunt's Poetical Works, ed. S. Adams Lee, Boston, U.S., 1866. The play was produced with great success at the Lyceum Theatre 20 Jan. 1858. As regards the two versions, there is a practical identity in Act I, scenes 1 and 3, and part of scene 2; in Act II, scene 1; and in Act III, scene 2, of the MS. as compared with Act III, scene 1, in the printed text. But despite this similarity, the two versions differ widely in their plots. There are more characters in the MS. than in the printed text, and while the interest in the latter centres round the love imbroglio of the four principal personages, in the former it leads up to the Duke of Vendôme's abandonment of opposition to the marriage of his daughter Gabrielle, the Countess Montalais of the printed play. For references see Autobiography, pp. 429, 430, 450.

Paper; ff. 217. Octavo.

38107. "A DAY WITH THE READER": an unfinished poem in blank verse by Leigh Hunt. Autograph. For the design of the work see Autobiography, p. 422. With some changes, the lines on Paganini in the introductory canto appeared in Leigh Hunt's London Journal, 16 April, 1834, under the title "Paganini. From an unpublished poem by the editor;" the second canto, in which the poet wakes and discourses on the morning, was utilized for 'An "Indicator" in verse' in the issue of 14 May with the title "Thoughts in Bed upon Waking and Rising." In the third canto, the poet, while dressing, describes the strength of the early sunshine, in the fourth he makes breakfast-time his theme. Notes relative to the further continuation of the work will be found on f. 22 b. There are also other disconnected notes; those on f. 21 b have reference to the education of children. Several pages, probably blank, have been torn from the MS. A note on f. 20 b refers to 1844. The lines on Paganini were reprinted in the Poetical Works, 1844, and later editions.

Paper; ff. 22. Folio.

38108-38111. CORRESPONDENCE of Leigh Hunt; 1807-1859. Four volumes. The great majority of the letters are addressed to Hunt, but some are written by himself, e.g. letters to Dr. Southwood Smith. The names of the writers are given in the Index; they include Lords Brougham and Macaulay, C. Dickens, T. N. Talfourd, J. S. Mill, John Forster, W. H. Ainsworth, John Bowring, and many others. Many of the letters are printed in Hunt's Correspondence, 1862. There are also letters addressed to Mrs. Hunt, to Thornton Hunt, Leigh Hunt's eldest son, and some others, bringing the extreme date down to 1862. Autograph MSS. of some of Hunt's literary productions are included, e.g. "The Dogs" (see The Liberal, 1822, p. 245). 38108, f. 204;—"Virgil's Hostess" (ib. p. 377). f. 247;—(c) "My Books" (see The Literary Examiner, 5, 12 July, 1823). f. 262. In 38109, f. 1, is the prospectus of the Magazine projected by Hunt while in Italy (see Autobiography, p. 368), and agreements with publishers are in 38109, f. 325, 38110, ff. 7, 67, and 38111, f. 133. The MS. form of the sign manual with which Hunt closed his Examiner articles will be found in 38108, f. 194. In 38111 (f. 445 b) is an Arabic MS. consisting of friendly messages from Khwājah Anton to Khwājah Fadl Allāh concerning his voyages in South

Western Europe; and in an envelope at the end (f. 450) is a lock of Thomas Stothard's hair.

Paper; ff. 340, 363, 411, 451. Folio.

38112. MISCELLANEOUS theological treatises, viz.:—

1. "Passio beati Thome martyris Cantuariensis archiepiscopi": the anonymous "Passio" printed from two other MSS. by J. A. Giles, Vita S. Thomae, ii, 1847, p. 137, Migne, Patr. Lat. cxc, col. 317, and by J. C. Robertson, Materials for the hist. of T. Becket, iv, 1879, p. 186 (Bibl. Hag. Lat. no. 8209). In the passage noted by Giles (Migne, col. 319, note 29) the present text agrees with the Paris as against the Bodl. MS., but with some differences. Beg. "Digne, fratres karissimi, huius diei preclara festiuitas." f. 1.
2. "Summa magistri Iohannis Beleth de ecclesiasticis officiis": the Rationale Divinorum Officiorum of John Beleth. Like all the extant MSS., it differs widely from the printed text (Migne, ccii, col. 13, etc.), which is indeed a free paraphrase by the editor, C. Laurimann (see B. Hauréau, Notices et Extraits, i, 1890, pp. 88–97). The text of the present MS. closely resembles that of Cotton MS. Vitell. A. xi, f. 3, and represents a revision of Beleth's work by some later editor; see ff. 50 b, 55, where statements by Beleth are contrasted with those of other writers (on f. 50 b Mauricius [de Sully], Bishop of Paris, 1160–1196, is thus mentioned). Royal MS. 7 C. vii, f. 23, probably gives Beleth's original text. Beg. "In primitiua ecclesia." f. 3 b.
3. "Libellus de uita et interfectione gloriosi comitis Flandrie Karoli": the Life of Charles the Good, Count of Flanders (d. 1127), by Walter, Archdeacon of Térouanne. Printed in Migne, clxvi, col. 901, etc. (Bibl. Hag. Lat., no. 1573). Prologue beg. "Domino suo et patri . . . Iohanni sancte Teruannensis ecclesie episcopo, frater Walterus." Life beg. "Anno itaque uerbi incarnati millesimo centesimo uigesimo septimo." Colophon, "Explicit libellus a domno Waltero venerabili Morinensis ecclesie archidiacono editus de uita et interfectione gloriosi comitis Flandrie Karoli et de uindicta in interfectores eius iusto dei iudicio terribiliter exerta (sic)." f. 62 b.
4. "Vita Karoli magni regis imperatoris edita ab Einhardo abbate": the life of Charlemagne by Einhardus or Eginhard. Printed in Migne, xcvi, col. 27, etc. (B. H. L. no. 1580). The prologue is here omitted. The text agrees with the MSS. of Pertz's Class B in omitting the mention of the death of Roland (Migne, col. 34). Beg. "Gens Merouingorum, de qua Franci reges sibi creare soliti erant." f. 75 b.
5. "Vita sancti Augustini episcopi": the Life of St. Augustine, Bishop of Hippo, by Possidius, Bishop of Calama. Printed in Migne,

- xxxii, col. 33, etc. (B.H.L. no. 785). The letter to Honoratus, of which in Migne (col. 60 ff.) only the earlier part appears, is here given in full. Followed by (a) the "Acta Ecclesiastica" concerning the appointment of Heraclius as Augustine's successor in the bishopric (Migne, xxxiii, col. 966, as Epistola cexiii). Beg. "Gloriosissimis Theodosio xii<sup>mo</sup> et Ualentiniano Augusto iterum consulibus." f. 99 b; (b) Beg. "Beatus Augustinus dum in Yponiensi sepultus esset regione": an account of the second translation of Augustine. This work is not noted in B.H.L. It occurs also in Add. MS. 35110, f. 29 b (in the description in Cat. of Additions, 1894-1899, p. 160, for "first" read "second") as a set of lectiones. There also it follows the Life by Possidius, but is preceded by a list of Augustine's works. f. 101. Prologue beg. "Inspirante rerum omnium facto[re]." Life beg. "Ex prouintia ergo (deleted) Affricana." f. 84.
6. "Translatio sancti Nicholai episcopi et confessoris": the translation of St. Nicholas, Bishop of Myra, to Bari (A.D. 1087), by Nicephorus (B.H.L. no. 6179). A somewhat fuller text is in Harley MS. 3097, f. 122, where, as here, the prologue is omitted. Beg. "Igitur dum omnipotens deus propensiori atque archano censuisset consilio." f. 101 b.
7. Anonymous commentary on the Song of Songs. Prologue (with rubric, "Prologus in Cantica Canticorum") beg. "Canticum amoris amanti amabile est." Commentary beg. "Partitiones uel capitula in cantica canticorum idcirco necessaria." f. 102 b.
8. The tract "De locis sanctis terrae Ierusalem" of Rorgo Fretellus, Archdeacon of Antioch. This work, which passes under the name of Fretellus, seems in reality to be an edition by him of an earlier anonymous treatise, printed by M. de Vogüé, Les Églises de la Terre Sainte, p. 412. For Fretellus see T. Tobler, Theoderici Libellus de Locis Sanctis, 1865, p. 151 ff., Serapeum, xiv, pp. 134-7, xv, p. 368, xix, pp. 101-5, 176, xxvi, 106-7, R. Röhricht, Bibl. Geogr. Pal. 1890, pp. 33-5. The texts vary greatly; the present one differs from the normal type (Migne, clv, col. 1039) in being dedicated, not to Raymond, Count of Toulouse (? v, 1148-1194), but to H[enry Zdik], Bishop of Olmütz, 1126-1150 (so too three of the MSS. mentioned by Röhricht, op. cit. p. 35), and in giving the list of "mansiones" of the Israelites in the desert (so too a Vatican MS. mentioned in Österr. Vierteljahresschr. f. Kath. Theol. vii, p. 400), contained in the anonymous treatise, but usually wanting in Fretellus. For others see Cotton MSS. Nero C. ii, f. 101, Cal. A. iii, f. 21 (dedication in this MS. omitted), Arundel MS. 291, f. 68 (do.), Harley MS. 5373, f. 53 b (dedication to Roderic, Count of Toledo); Harley 3113, f. 126, is the same text as in de Vogüé, as far as "quasi tribus miliaris" (p. 414). Prologue beg. "Reuerentissimo (sic) patri et domino

- H[enrico] dei gratia Olomacensium antistiti R[orgo] Fretellus stola iocunditatis." Treatise beg. "Modo autem reuerende domine mi." Imperfect, ending in the 34th "mansio" (leaves lost). f. 121 b.
9. Part of the "Collationes" of John Cassianus, viz. Paphnutius, Daniel (f. 132 b), Serapion (f. 140), Theodore (f. 149 b), collations iii-vi (Migne, xlix, coll. 557-668, Corpus Script. Eccl. Lat. xiii, 1886, ed. Petschenig, pp. 67-176). As art. 8 is incomplete and a new hand appears here, f. 124 being numbered 130, this must be from another MS., which doubtless contained the beginning of the work. The text resembles Petschenig's D, with which it regularly agrees against the other MSS. Where D is corrected the present MS. usually agrees with the corrected text. Beg. (coll. iii) "In illo sanctorum choro." f. 124.
10. "Liber de diuersis uirtutibus et uitis," by Alcuin. Printed in Migne, ci, col. 614. The dedicatory epistle and "peroratio" are omitted. Beg. "Primo omnium querendum est, fratres, homini." f. 157 b.
11. "Sermo sancti Augustini de misericordia": the sermon numbered cv a among the supposititious sermons, Migne, xxxix, col. 1949. Beg. "Qualiter nos inuicem diligere debeamus." f. 170.
12. "Sermo sancti Iohannis episcopi qualiter homo confiteri debeat deo delicta sua et semper secreta cordis sui perscrutari." What St. John is referred to is uncertain; the sermon does not seem to occur among Chrysostom's works. Beg. "Misericordia, fratres karissimi, peccatorum est remedium." f. 171 b.
13. "De inploratione misericordie dei qui iniquitatem suam agnoscit": an anonymous sermon. Beg. "Rogat Dauid ut multum ab iniquitate sua lauetur." f. 172 b.
14. "De contemptu huius seculi sententia sancti Clementis": the sermon elsewhere attributed to St. Augustine (Migne, xxxix, col. 1963, supposititious sermon no. cx a) and to Faustus Rhegiensis (ib. lviii, col. 887, sermon viii). Beg. "Modo, fratres karissimi, cum diuina lectio." f. 173 b.
15. "Sermo sancti Cesarii ad monachos"; variously attributed to Caesarius (x, Migne, lxvii, col. 1067) and Eucherius (ix, ib. 1, col. 855). Beg. "Videte uocationem uestram, fratres karissimi." f. 174.
16. "Sententie de opusculis sancti Ieronimi ad monachos": the so-called "Homilia ad Monachos" included among Jerome's supposititious works and made up of extracts from his writings. Printed in Migne, xxx, col. 311, etc. Beg. "Alii festinant ad celestia." f. 175 b.
17. "Tractatus sancti Augustini episcopi de obedientia": the pseudo-Augustinian sermon printed in Migne, xl, col. 1221. Beg. "Nichil ita deo placet quomodo obedientia." f. 180.

18. Death and miracles of St. Nicholas of Myra, viz. :—(a) “Obitus sancti Nicholai episcopi” (B.H.L. no. 6154). Other copies are in Harley MS. 3097, ff. 58–60, Cotton MS. Vesp. D. ii, ff. 57 b–58 b, and Add. MS. 36737, ff. 136–137, the text represented in which differs markedly in one or two places from that of the present MS. Beg. “Cvm igitur diuersis miraculis atque uirtutibus.” f. 181 b ;—(b) “De quodam qui sancto Nicholao uas aureum deuouit” (B.H.L. no. 6172). Printed in Smedt, Anal. Bollandiana, ii, p. 151. The first sentence, beg. “Igitur opere precium,” is here annexed to (a). Beg. “Cum longe lateque uirtutum.” f. 183 ;—(c) “De Christiano qui mutuo aurum accepit a Iudeo” (B.H.L. no. 6174). Printed in Anal. Boll. ii, p. 153. Beg. “Extitit preterea alius uir, qui mercimoniis intentus.” f. 184 b ;—(d) “De imagine sancti Nicholai flagellata a Iudeo” (B.H.L. nos. 6163–6165). Printed in Mombritius, Sanctuarium, ii, 168, col. 2 (without the short prologue), etc. Other copies are in Harley MS. 3097, ff. 60–61, Cotton MS. Vesp. D. ii, ff. 58 b–59 b, Add. MS. 36737, ff. 137 b–138 b. The present MS. differs considerably in one or two places from the text represented by these three MSS., which in the main agrees with Mombritius. Beg. “Restat autem adhuc quod . . . Cum de Affrice partibus Wandalorum exercitus.” f. 186 ;—(e) “Miraculum de puero Adeodato” (B.H.L. no. 6169). Printed in Catal. Codicum Hag. Bibl. Regiae Bruxellensis, pars 1, tom. i, p. 257, but in a shorter form (in B.H.L. no. 6168), omitting the latter part. Beg. “Si deuotionis uestre, fratres karissimi . . . Beatus itaque et electus.” f. 187 b ;—(f) “De Priore quem sanctus Nicolaus flagellauit” (B.H.L. no. 6209). Printed in Catal. Codicum Hag. Lat. . . . Bibl. Nat. Paris, i, p. 510. Beg. “Inter innumera uirtutum insignia.” f. 190 b.
19. “Uita beate Marie”: the supposititious epistle of St. Jerome, sometimes called the “Evangelium de Natiuitate Mariae.” Printed in Migne, xxx, col. 297, Tischendorf, Evangelia Apocrypha, 1876, p. 113, etc. (B.H.L. nos. 5343, 5344). Prol. beg. “Petitis a me ut uobis rescribam.” Life beg. “Igitur beata et gloriosa semper uirgo Maria.” f. 191 b.
20. “Miraculum de genitrice dei reuelatum per quendam abbatem in mari”: the legend of the command given to Helsinus [or Elsinus], Abbot of Ramsey, to celebrate the feast of the Conception of the B. V. Mary. Taken from Pseudo-Anselm, Sermo de Conceptione Beatae Mariae, see Migne, clix, cols. 319, 320. The present text consists of the second and third paragraphs of the sermon, with an addition of several lines at the conclusion. Another version of the legend is in Cotton MS. Cleop. C. x, f. 138 b (see Catal. of Romances, ii, p. 614). Beg. “Tempore illo quo diuine placuit pietati.” f. 194 b.

21. "Opusculum beati Ieronimi de captiuo monacho": The Vita Malchi of St. Jerome, Migne, xxiii, col. 53, etc., but omitting the preface ("qui navali praelio . . . explicemus") and paraphrasing the opening sentences (beg. "Maronia triginta ferme millibus"). Imperfect (leaves lost), ending at "Verte in te gladium" (Migne, col. 56). Beg. "Cvm ego adhuc adolescens morarer in Syria." f. 195 b.
22. The writings of Sulpicius Severus concerning St. Martin of Tours. Printed in Migne, xx, col. 159, Corpus Script. Eccl. Lat. i. (ed. C. Halm), p. 109, etc. The present MS. agrees with those of Halm's second class (AF). It includes (a) "Epistola Seueri ad Desiderium de uita sancti Martini ad (sic) se conscripta": the epistle dedicatory. Beg. "Seuerus Desiderio . . . Ego quidem, frater unanimis." f. 197 ;—(b) "Capitula libri primi de uita et uirtutibus sancti Martini": a table of chapters. f. 197 ;—(c) "Uita beati Martini episcopi." Prologue beg. Vellum (paper fly-leaves) ; ff. iii + 233. 11 $\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$  8 $\frac{1}{2}$  in. XII cent. Gatherings mostly of 8 leaves, but some of 5, 6, and 9. Double columns. Sec. fol. "insurgerent." Three different MSS. seem to be represented, the first ff. 1–123 (the first gathering, ff. 1–5, in a different hand from the rest), the second ff. 124–196, the third 197–233. The first has initials in red, with a few decorative initials in red and green (ff. 1, 3 b, 62 b, 84, 102 b ; in the second the initials are in red, blue and green, and in the third in red and blue. On f. iii b is a list of contents (xvii cent.) The following names occur : f. 181, Jaspas Kestelt, Gabriel Cassel (xv cent.) ; f. 182, Dan Philippe Lagulier (xv cent.), following the couplet,

" Boun (?) exemple met en luy
Qui se castie par autrui "

(a slightly different form of this proverb is quoted in Godefroy, Dict. de l'anc. Langue française, ii, p. 87); the name Jhōs Belet on f. 1 presumably refers to art. 2. The volume at one time belonged to Tongerlo Abbey (see f. ii), and bears the press-mark Q. MS. i (ff. i, iii b). It was afterwards in the library of Sir Thomas Phillipps (MS. 4173; sale-cat. 1896, lot 80), whose crest is stamped on f. ii. Bought at Sotheby's, 17 Mar. 1911 (lot 607). Bound in beechen boards covered with calf, blind-stamped, German (?), 16th cent.

HUTH BEQUEST.

The following thirteen MSS., 38114-38126, were included among the fifty books to be selected from his library bequeathed to the British Museum by Alfred Henry Huth, Esq. For fuller descriptions see "Catalogue of the Huth Bequest," 1912.

38114, 38115. HUTH BEQUEST. Vols. I, II. Bible, in Latin; Vulgate version. Preceded by Jerome's Epistle to Paulinus ("Frater Ambrosius") and preface to the Pentateuch ("Desiderii mei"). The arrangement of books is regular, except that Ezra (1 Esdras) and Nehemiah are followed by the apocryphal 1 Esdras (here entitled 2 Esdras), and that Acts comes between the Pauline and Catholic ("canonales") Epistles. In two volumes, vol. i ending with the Psalms. All the books after the Pentateuch have prefaces, except Judges, Ruth, 2-4 Kings, Nehemiah, 2 (i.e. the apocryphal 1) Esdras, Psalms, Song of Songs, Lamentations, 2 Maccabees, and the Catholic Epistles (which have only the one general preface, "Non est ita ordo," prefixed to James). Job, Joel, Jonah, Micah, Matthew, and John have two prefaces each, Amos and 1 Maccabees three; and the preface to Hosea is preceded by the "Prologus in duodecim prophetis," beg. "Non idem est ordo." For the most part these prefaces are the usual ones (cf. S. Berger in Mém. prés. à l'Acad. des Inscr. ser. i, vol. xi, pt. ii, 1904, pp. 1-70), but two are worth noting, viz. the first of the two prefixed to John, "Omnibus diuine pagine" (Migne, Patrol. Lat. xxxv, col. 1377, cxiv, col. 355), and that prefixed to the Apocalypse, "Omnes qui pie uolunt uiuere" [by Gilbert de la Porrée]. At the end (vol. ii, f. 361) are the "Interpretationes hebraicorum nominum" [by Remy of Auxerre?], as printed in Bedae Opera, iii, 1688, p. 371.

Vellum; ff. ii + 328, 422 (ff. 359, 360 blank). 11½ in. × 8 in. Second half of XIII cent. Gatherings of 16 leaves (last quire of vol. i, 8; in vol. ii, last quire of Bible, 8 leaves, last quire of "Interpretationes," 14, two blank leaves at the end having been cut away); quires 21 and 22 (ff. 337-352, 321-336) of vol. ii have been transposed in binding. Double columns of 42 lines, the "Interpretationes" in triple columns of 43 lines. Sec. fol., vol. i, "meditatio tribuere," vol. ii, "-tur ad eam." With finely illuminated initials to the prefaces and books, the former filled with conventional foliage or other decorative designs, the latter enclosing miniatures, and both having partial borders attached. The work, especially in the first volume, represents the French art of the time at its best: the initials, whether historiated or merely decorative, are executed with extraordinary delicacy, and so are the exquisite little figures and groups (mainly humorous or grotesque) with which many of the pendent borders are enriched. The chapter-initials throughout both volumes, in blue and red, are adorned with pen-flourishes of great elaboration and delicacy. For vol. i, f. 5 (beg. of Genesis) see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 1. On the fly-leaf (f. ii) of vol. i, and on the first page of vol. ii, is inscribed "Monasterii S<sup>ti</sup> Michaelis de S<sup>co</sup> Michaelis Congregationis SS. Vitoni et Hydulphi" (17th cent.), showing that the MS. belonged to the Benedictine abbey of St. Mihiel, in the diocese of Verdun, which was affiliated in 1606 to the Congregation of SS. Vitonus and Hydolphus (Gallia Christiana, xiii, col. 1272). Huth bookplate. Briefly described in The Huth Library, 1880, vol. i, p. 158.

- 38116. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. III. Psalter, etc., in Latin, containing (1) Rules for finding Easter, partly in French. f. 1 b;—(2) Calendar. f. 2;—(3) Eleven full-page miniatures (see below). f. 8 b;—(4) Psalter, Gallican version. f. 14 b;—(5) Canticles, etc., viz. "Confitebor" (f. 150), "Ego dixi" (f. 150 b), "Exultavit" (f. 151 b), "Cantemus" (f. 152 b), "Domine, audiui" (f. 153 b), "Audite, celi" (f. 155), "Te Deum" (f. 158 b), "Benedicite"

(f. 159 b), "Benedictus" (f. 160 b), "Magnificat" (f. 161), "Nunc dimittis" (f. 161 b), and "Quicumque vult" (f. 162) f. 150;—(6) Litany. f. 164;—(7) Vigils of the Dead. f. 169. The Calendar includes many English saints, Augustine (May 26), Botulph (June 17, erased), Swithun (July 2), Thomas (Translation, July 7, and Deposition, Dec. 29, both erased), Hugh (Translation, Oct. 6, and Deposition, Nov. 17), and Edmund the King (Nov. 20), being in blue, and Cuthbert (Mar. 20), Dunstan (May 19), Etheldreda (June 23), Kenelm (July 17), Oswald, King and Martyr (Aug. 5), Wilfrid (Oct. 12), and Edmund, Archbishop of Canterbury (Nov. 16), in red. The Translation and Deposition of St. Hugh point to Lincoln as the place of origin, and the former fixes the date at 1280 or later. Many erasures and insertions by a later hand (circ. 1400) have been made, apparently in order to make the Calendar agree with that of Sarum, e.g. the feasts of SS. Lucian, Sulpicius, and Batildis have been inserted in January, those of SS. Richard and Alphege in February, and the Translations of SS. Edmund, Richard, and Edward in June. But these insertions also include the Deposition of St. Oswald the Archbishop, Feb. 28, and the Translation of St. Wulstan, June 7, suggesting some connexion with Worcester at the later date. At Aug. 2 is the entry "Obitus Roberti de Vpton" in a charter hand of about 1300, perhaps referring to the Robert de Uptune who witnessed a Kingswood Abbey (co. Glouc.) deed in 1280 (W. H. Upton, Upton Family Records, 1893, p. 86). In the Litany St. Martial, the Apostle of the Limousin and first Bishop of Limoges, is included among the Apostles. The English saints are:—Martyrs, Alban, Alphege, Oswald, Edmund, Edward, Thomas (erased), and Kenelm; Confessors, Augustine and his companions, Dunstan, Cuthbert, Swithun, Guthlac, John [of Beverley], Wilfrid, Botulph, Chad, Hugh, and Edmund; Virgins, Etheldreda, Werburga, Mildred, Osith, Edith, Frideswide, and Hilda.

Vellum; ff. 174.  $9\frac{1}{4}$  in.  $\times$   $6\frac{1}{2}$  in. Late XIII cent. (not earlier than 1280, see above). Probably written in the diocese of Lincoln. Gatherings of 8 leaves (i<sup>6</sup>, ii<sup>4</sup>, iii<sup>4</sup>, xvii<sup>9</sup>, xxiii<sup>7</sup>). Finely illuminated by English artists, the decoration consisting of (a) Twenty-four small roundels in the Calendar, containing representations of the zodiacal signs and occupations proper to the several months, on coloured grounds;—(b) Eleven full-page miniatures, mostly in compartments, with Biblical and hagiographical scenes on grounds either diapered or of burnished and patterned gold, painted on thin pieces of vellum and pasted down (see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 2, and Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., 1908, pl. 42);—(c) Full pages of illumination at Ps. i, cix, historiated initials with partial borders to Ps. xxvi (see ib. pl. 3), xxxviii, li, lii, lxviii, lxxx, xcvi, ci (the initials to Ps. li and lxviii, on ff. 60, 73, which had been pasted down like the large miniatures, being lost), and partial border to Ps. ii (f. 15);—(d) Smaller initials in gold and colours to the other Psalms, etc., and line-endings and verse-initials (the latter elaborately flourished) in gold, red, and blue. The borders are of the cusped-bar type prevalent about the end of the 13th cent., with monsters, hound and hare, fox and cock, etc.

38117. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. IV. Romance of Merlin, etc., in French prose. The MS. has no marks of division, except into chapters and paragraphs; but it contains three distinct works, all belonging to the Arthurian cycle, and more particularly to the group associated with the name of Robert de Boron (see Romania, xxiv, p. 473). The first two, of which many other copies exist, appear to be at any rate based on Robert's actual compositions; but the third, although it introduces his name repeatedly as author, evidently does so merely as a literary device, and must be regarded as the work of another writer, who wished to bridge over the gap in the "Robert-cyklus." It is only extant in the present MS., and is of special interest as the principal source of Bks. i–iv of Malory's Morte Darthur. The whole contents of the volume are fully discussed by Gaston Paris in his introduction to Merlin, edited by himself and J. Ulrich for the Soc. des anc. textes français, 1886.

1. Joseph of Arimathea: the prose romance corresponding to Robert de Boron's poem, sometimes called the Petit Saint Graal. Printed by E. Hucher, Le Saint-Graal, i, 1875, p. 209, with collations from this MS. on pp. 335–364; also by G. Weidner, Der Prosaroman von Joseph von Arimathia, 1881. The passage naming "Messires Roberz de Borron" as author in the Cangé MS. (Hucher, p. 275) is much condensed here (f. 18 b), and merely says "Ore dist apries cis contes," etc., without mentioning the author's name. Beg. imperf. (wanting a leaf), "fust boins disciples Ihesucrist." Ends "Et se ie le laissoie atant ester, uns ne sauroit que ces .iiij. parties seroient deuenues, ne por quel senefiance je les auoie departies." f. 1.
2. Merlin: the story of his marvellous birth, and of his life down to the coronation of Arthur. Answering to ff. i b–lxxvii b of the early printed Merlin (Paris, A. Vérard, 1498), vol. i, and attributed in some MSS. to Robert de Boron, but generally regarded as a prose rendering of his almost entirely lost poem. Printed from this MS. by G. Paris and J. Ulrich, Merlin, i, pp. 1–146. Other copies are in Add. MSS. 10292 (printed by H. O. Sommer, Le Roman de Merlin, 1894, pp. 1–92) and 32125, and Harley MS. 6340 (see H. L. D.

Ward, Cat. of Romances, i, 1883, pp. 343-4). Beg. "Chi endroit dist li contes que moult fu iries anemis." Ends "Ensi fu Artus esleus a roi, et tint la terre et le regne de Logres lonc tans a pais." f. 18 b.

3. Suite de Merlin: a continuation of the above, narrating various adventures of Arthur and his court, including the magical imprisonment of Merlin by Nivienne in the "forest perilleuse." The source of Sir Thomas Malory's Morte Darthur for almost the whole of Bk. i, ch. 19-Bk. iv, ch. 29. Printed from this, the unique, MS. by G. Paris and J. Ulrich, Merlin, i, p. 147-ii, p. 254; and analysed by H. O. Sommer in his studies on Malory's sources (Morte Darthur, iii, 1891, pp. 58-148). Such expressions as "Me sires Robiers de Berron, qui cest conte mist en escrit" (f. 91), "Si comme meismes (for messires?) Robiers de Borron le deuisera apertement en son liure" (f. 116 b), etc., seem to indicate Robert de Boron as the author; but G. Paris has shown (Merlin, i, pp. xxv sqq.) that the work is a compilation made by a somewhat later writer to complete the cycle by linking the Merlin-romance to the Quest of the Saint Graal. Beg. "Ore dist que vns rois aprez le couronnement le roi Artu vint a vne grant court." Wants a leaf after f. 101, and two leaves after f. 133. Ends "Et deuisera dune autre matier[e] qui parlera dou graal, pour chou que cest li commenchemens de cest liure." f. 74.

Vellum; ff. ii + 226. 11½ in. × 8½ in. Beg. of xiv cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (xi<sup>6</sup>), i and xiv wanting a leaf each, xviii wanting two leaves. Double columns. Sec. fol. (now f. 1) "fust boins desciples." Illuminated by French artists of average merit with 71 miniatures, mostly enclosed within large initials, to which partial borders of foliated bars, with birds, grotesques, and monsters, are attached; and with numerous smaller initials in gold and colours, chiefly decorative, but occasionally enclosing figures. For f. 160, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 4. Apparently belonged to the philologist Charles Du Fresne, Sieur Du Cange (b. 1610, d. 1688), a note on f. 1 being pronounced by a subsequent owner "de la main du fameux M<sup>r</sup> Du Cange d'Amiens." On the same page is the signature of [Jacques Joseph Guillaume Pierre, Comte de] Corbière (Minister of the Interior, etc., d. 1853). Inside the cover, "N<sup>o</sup> 261." Huth Bookplate. The Huth Library, iii, pp. 954-7.

38118. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. V. The Apocalypse, with prologue and commentary, in French: the "version glosée," as found in the Paris MS., Bibl. Nat., fr. 403, and in many other MSS. (see L. Delisle and P. Meyer, L'Apocalypse en français, Soc. des anc. textes fr., 1901, pp. cci-ccxxix, cclvii sqq.). The prologue (wanting in fr. 403, but printed by Meyer, p. cclviii, from fr. 9574) is in two paragraphs, beginning respectively "Saint pol lapostre dit que tous iceus qui vuelent debonairement viure" and "Et saint iehan en ceste maniere uit ne mie seulement les figures." ff. 1, 1 b. It is a somewhat free translation from the Latin of Gilbert de la Porrée (S. Berger, La Bible française au moyen âge, 1884, p. 88; and see above, 38115). Text beg. "Ie iehan uostre frere et parconniers en tribulations"; commentary, "Par saint iehan sont senefie li bon prelat." f. 2. Both are printed by Meyer, pp. 1-131, from fr. 403 and two other MSS. At the end (f. 44 b) are a collect and secrets in commemoration of St. Leobonus (who is specially associated with Salagnac in Limousin), added by a later hand.

Vellum; ff. i + 44. 11 in. × 8 in. Early xiv cent., probably executed in the north of France. Double columns, usually of 30 lines. Sec. fol. "-te eglise." Gatherings of 8 leaves (last<sup>4</sup>). With 70 miniatures in rectangular frames, on diapered or burnished gold grounds, of varying height but always of the same width as the column of text; and with initials in gold and colours throughout, the first page having a large initial, filled with conventional foliage, and a partial border with leafy terminals and the figures of a hare and pursuing hound. The miniatures are only mediocre in execution, and the MS. can hardly be reckoned as belonging precisely to either of the two families into which Delisle (op. cit. p. ii), divides the illuminated copies of the Apocalypse, though its affinities are with the second rather than the first. For ff. 14, 34, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 5. Belonged to the Jesuits' College (Collège de Clermont) at Paris, which was dispersed in 1764 (see f. 1, "Colleg. Parisien. Societ. Jesu, 44," and "Paraphé au desir de l'arrest du 5 juillet 1763. Mesnil"). Afterwards belonged to J. F. Vandevelde, 1796 (f. i b), and to the Chevalier de Coninck, 1833, 1856 (f. i b, Bibl. de l'École des Chartes, sér. iv, tome ii, 1856, p. 614). Huth Bookplate. The Huth Library, i, p. 40; Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., 1908, no. 91; Delisle, op. cit. p. cxxxv.

38119. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. VI. Speculum Humanae Salvationis, etc., viz.:—

1. "Breuissima sententia Psalterii (so colophon, heading has 'Psalmorum breuissima expositio') ordinata Auinione anno Domini millesimo trecentesimo quinquagesimo octauo per fratrem Robertum Boÿsselli ordinis fratrum minorum sanctissimi domini nostri pape capellanum commensalem de prouincia Turone[nsi]. A brief commentary on the Psalms, beg. "Beatus vir . . . Vbi aduertendum quod vbi doctores." f. 2.

2. Two short expositions of the Lord's Prayer, the first beg. "Pater noster septem partes habet," the second headed "Sequitur alia prolixior et utilior, maxime ad predicandum," and beg. "Pater noster. Hec est oratio commendabilis." f. 16 b.
3. "Commonitorium directium simplicium volentium pure et integraliter confiteri, compilatum a fratre Henrico de Alemania, ordinis fratrum sancti Augustini"; dealing with the five senses, the Ten Commandments, the six works of mercy, the Seven Sacraments, and the seven capital vices. Another copy, written in 1349, is in Arundel MS. 379, f. 28. Beg. "Cupiens generaliter a pueritia." f. 17 b.
4. "Incipit liber humane saluationis": the story of the Fall and Redemption, set forth in 134 coloured drawings, with explanatory text in rhyming Latin prose. The first eight pictures illustrate the fall of Lucifer, the creation and fall of man, and the Flood. The remaining 126 are in groups of four (the last imperfect), the first in each group forming a series illustrative of the Life of the Virgin and of Christ, the other three representing Old Testament or legendary types. For those on ff. 28 b, 29, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 6. The complete work, which was composed in or about 1324, perhaps by Ludolph of Saxony (see P. Perdrizet, Étude sur le Speculum Humanae Salvationis, 1908, pp. 34-46), contains 192 pictures and 4924 lines of text. The text has been published, with the whole series of pictures from a Munich MS. and many other illustrations, together with an elaborate discussion of the work and list of extant copies (omitting the present MS., but including 16 others in the British Museum), by J. Lutz and P. Perdrizet, Speculum Humanae Salvationis, 1907-9. The present MS. omits chapters 14, 15 (8 drawings), 35-38 (16 drawings), and wants at the end the second half of ch. 40 (2 drawings) and the whole of chapters 41-45 (32 drawings). Prologue beg. "Qui ad iustitiam erudiunt multos"; text (f. 21 b), "In quo patet casus hominis et modus reparationis." f. 20 b.
5. Innocent III [Lotario de' Conti di Segni], De Contemptu Mundi. Beg. imperf. "et iniquitatibus propriis" (lib. i, cap. 3, see Migne, Patrol. Lat., cexvii, col. 703). At the end is a short additional chapter, "Quid sit proprium Romanorum," followed by the date 1358 (apparently added later, and referring perhaps to the date of composition of art. 1), and the colophon "Explicit liber Lotharii leuite Cardinalis de vilitate condicionis humane," etc. f. 56. Vellum; ff. i + 67 (f. 55 blank). 13½ in. × 9½ in. Late xiv cent. Gatherings of 10 or 12 leaves. Sec. fol. (f. 3) "Quo viso." Artt. 4 and 5 in double columns. Written in Germany. On f. 1 b is a full-page coloured drawing of David and Bathsheba, very coarsely executed. On an inserted leaf at the beginning (f. i) are the arms of Dietrich von Moers, Archbishop of Cologne 1414-1463. On f. 1, "Reinerus Eltman me iusto titulo possidet: Anno 1562." Huth Bookplate. The Huth Library, iv, p. 1382.

38120. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. VII. Les Trois Pèlerinages: three poems, viz. Pèlerinage de Vie Humaine and Pèlerinage de l'Âme, two allegories on the pilgrimage of the soul in this world and the next, and Pèlerinage de Jésus Christ, a version of the Gospel-narrative, introducing some allegories. Composed in 1330-1358 by Guillaume de Deguileville, a monk of Chaalis in Valois. Another copy of all three poems is in Add. MS. 22937; the first two are also in Add. MS. 25594, and the first alone is in Harley MS. 4399. For descriptions of these, and of MSS. of the English translations, together with a brief analysis of the work, see H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, ii, 1893, pp. 558-585. All three poems have since been edited, from these and many other MSS. (including the present), by J. J. Stürzinger for the Roxburghe Club, viz. Le Pèlerinage de Vie Humaine, 1893, Le Pèlerinage de l'Âme, 1895, and Le Pèlerinage Jhesucrist, 1897.

1. Pèlerinage de Vie Humaine. The first recension, composed in 1330-1332. In four books. Prologue beg. "A ceulx de ceste region"; Bk. i, "Auis mestoit si com dormoye" (f. 1 b); Bk. ii, "Après ce que jay dit deuant" (f. 42 b); Bk. iii, "Or escoutez tres douce gent" (f. 74); Bk. iv, "Or vous diray, seigneurs, comment" (f. 92 b). Ends (f. 109 b) "Que Dieux doint aux mors et aux vifs. Amen. Finito libro sit laus et gloria Christo. Cy finist le iii<sup>e</sup> liure de vie humaine. Explicit le pelerinaige de vie humaine." f. 1.
2. "Cy commence le pelerinage de lame." Composed, as Stürzinger has shown (see his edition, p. vii), between 1355 (date of the second recension of the Pèlerinage de Vie Humaine) and 1358 (date of the Pèlerinage de Jésus Christ), and not, as was formerly supposed, immediately after the first recension of the Vie Humaine. Beg. "Après que je fus esueilliez." Ends (f. 197), like many of the other MSS., at l. 11029, omitting the last 132 lines, "Le pri et a ceulx qui lorront. Explicit le pelerinaige de lame." f. 111.
3. Pèlerinage de Jésus Christ, composed in 1358. Beg. "Entre les belles paraboles." Ends "Et que prient pour moy leur pry. Explicit le pelerinage de Jhesucrist. Deo gracias." The author's prayer follows (f. 277 b), headed "Cy sensuit loroison du pelerin contenant en brief tout le pelerinage que Jhesucrist fist en ce monde." It begins "Doulz Jhesus fil de Dieu le pere," and ends "Ou nous puissions auoir nostre estre. Amen." f. 199.

Vellum; ff. i + 279 (f. 198 blank). 13 in.  $\times$  9 $\frac{3}{4}$  in. Circ. 1400. Gatherings of 8 leaves (xxv<sup>6</sup>, last<sup>1</sup>). Double columns of 32 to 38 lines. Illuminated initials in gold and colours throughout, a large one, filled with conventional foliage and having a partial border attached, at the beginning of each of the three poems; and 146 illustrative drawings, slightly touched with colour, of French work, fairly executed. The drawings prefixed to artt. 1 and 3 fill half the page, the rest are much smaller. Many of them have been reproduced in Stürzinger's editions of the three poems. For those on ff. 131 b, 218 b, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 7 a, b. Formerly belonged to the Rev. Thomas Corser (sale-cat., pt. iv, 1870, lot 306). Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, ii, p. 635.

38121. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. VIII. The Apocalypse, in Latin; with the usual preface, headed "Incipit prefatio sancti Iheronimi presbitri in apocalipsi sancti Iohannis," and beg. "Iohannes apostolus et euangelista." No commentary. The text ends on f. 22, and the remaining leaves have the recto page blank, the verso filled with miniatures.

Vellum; ff. i + 47. 12 $\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$  8 $\frac{3}{4}$  in. Circ. 1400. Gatherings of 8 leaves (v<sup>6</sup>, vi<sup>9</sup>). A large ornamental initial in red and blue at the beginning of the text (f. 4). Four full-page and 90 half-page miniatures, the first eight and the last five representing scenes in the life of St. John, the remainder illustrating the Apocalypse. The whole series corresponds in subject to nos. 1-54, 57-95 (omitting 65 bis, 68 bis, and 69 bis) in Delisle's list (L. Delisle and P. Meyer, L'Apocalypse en français au xiii<sup>e</sup> siècle, Soc. des anc. textes fr., 1901, p. xii). According to his classification therefore the MS. falls into the first family; and the designs are nearly identical with those in the Oxford MS. Bodl. D. 4. 17 (The Apocalypse of S. John the Divine, ed. H. O. C[oxe], Roxburghe Club, 1876) and the Paris MS. fr. 403 (ed. Delisle and Meyer, as above), both of which belong to that family. For descriptions of these and other MSS., together with a full discussion of the whole subject of illustrations of the Apocalypse, see Delisle, as above, pp. i-cc; supplemented by M. R. James, The Trinity College Apocalypse, Roxburghe Club, 1909. The miniatures in the present MS. are somewhat coarsely executed, probably by Dutch illuminators; the backgrounds are sometimes of highly burnished gold, more often a large coarse diaper. For the lower miniature on f. 20 b, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 7 c. As in the Oxford MS., descriptive extracts from the Latin text are written as titles across the field of the pictures, on a white ground. Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, i, p. 39; Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., 1908, no. 163.

38122. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. IX. Bible History, in Flemish: viz. the Octateuch, 1-4 Kings, Ezra, and Tobit, with a Prologue, and with a commentary mainly derived from the Historia Scholastica of Petrus Comestor. The Prologue begins "Onse here god voir-siende die grote droecheyt van denocien." f. 1. It contains (f. 1 b) a reference to "dat passionael [other copies add the words "ofte aurea legenda"] dat wi hiervoertijts te duytsche vten latijn maeeten," and further on (f. 2 b) the author's explanation that he has glossed difficult passages in the text "wt scolastica hystoria." Printed from a MS. of circ. 1400 by I. Le Long, Boek-zaal der Nederduytsche Bybels, 1732, p. 235, and from several MSS. by C. H. Ebbinghe Wubben, Over Middelnederl. Vertalingen van het O. Testament, 1903, p. 66; also prefixed, in an abridged and otherwise modified form, to the early printed edition (Delft, 1477) of the Dutch Old Testament. The last-named edition contains the same Biblical text as the present MS., but omits the commentary. Prologue, text, and commentary are all contained in Add. MSS. 10043, 15310-11, 15410, and 16951, described by K. de Flou and E. Gailliard, Beschrijving van Middelned. Hss. in Engeland, nos. 1-5 (Verslagen en Mededeelingen der K. Vlaamsche Acad., Ghent, 1895, pp. 39-54), and by R. Pribsch, Deutsche Hss. in England, ii, 1901, pp. 100, 133, 162. These and many other MSS. of what he calls "De Bijbel van 1360" are also described by Wubben, op. cit. pp. 7-41.

At the end (ff. 379-381) are entries of deaths and burials chiefly in the family of Van Zu[y]len van Nyvelt, in and about Utrecht, 1517-1558; also a note of the Rhine or Leek having overflowed as far as Schalkwijk on 2 Dec. 1536.

Vellum; ff. iii + 381 (ff. 206, 249, 250 blank, but for some scribbled memoranda on f. 250 b). About the middle of the xv cent. 11 in  $\times$  7½ in. Double columns of 42 lines. Gatherings of 12 or 8 leaves (i-viii, x-xx<sup>12</sup>, xxi-xxxvii<sup>8</sup>, ix<sup>12</sup> besides an inserted pair, ff. 108, 109, xxxviii<sup>3</sup>, a blank leaf having been cut away at the end). Headings in red, initials in red and blue, with large flourished initials at the beginnings of books. The text is illustrated, as far as the end of Ruth, with pen-and-ink drawings, touched here and there with gold, enclosed in rectangular frames set in the column of text, of the same width, approximately, as the text, viz. 2½ in., but varying in height from 2 to 3 in. These are very finely executed by Flemish artists, the drawing being exquisitely delicate; for twelve of them see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 8, 9. In the remaining books are blank spaces for a continuation of the series. Apparently executed for a member of the Van Lockhorst family, of the province of Utrecht: see arms on ff. 29 b, 73 b, 112 b, 156, 158, 174 b, 214 b, 238. Afterwards probably in the possession of the family of Van Zuylen van Nyvelt: see death entries at end, noted above. Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, i, p. 165.

The MS. contains twenty-one engravings, seventeen of which are by the artist known as the “Master of the Berlin Passion,” after a Passion series inserted in a MS. prayer-book of 1482 in the Berlin Cabinet of Engravings, while the remaining four are by much less important and original engravers (see Cat. of Huth Bequest, p. 13, pl. 10). At the principal divisions (ff. 18, 68, 95, 128, 155, 184) are large decorative initials in blue, red, white, and green, with gilt studs, and full borders of gilt bars and disks, with flowers and foliage in gold and colours. Minor border-decorations in the same style fill the margins of the pages which contain the coloured engravings. Apparently belonged to the artist Maximiliaan Anne ’sGravesande Guicherit (d. 1831, at Delft, see A. J. van der Aa, Biogr. Woordenboek, vii, 1862, p. 546): see printed label on f. i, “’sGravesande Guicherit.” Afterwards to William Bragge, F.S.A. (sale-cat. 1876, lot. 105). Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, ii, p. 731. Datum Rome anno sui pontificatus .90. M cccc<sup>o</sup> LXXX." f. 285 b. Such phrases as "me infelicem famulam tuam," "mihi peccatrici," etc., occur in many of the prayers (ff. 224 b, 230 b, etc.). At the end (ff. 286 b–287 b) another prayer, beg. "[P]ietate tua," has been added by a later hand.

Vellum; ff. 288. 4 $\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$  3 $\frac{1}{2}$  in. End of xv cent. (after 1480, see above). Gatherings of 8 leaves (xxvi<sup>4</sup>, xxxi<sup>2</sup>, last<sup>2</sup>). Sec. fol. "Deus in." Finely illuminated by artists of the Milanese school, with fourteen full-page and two smaller miniatures and fifteen historiated initials. Smaller initials in gold, on blue and crimson grounds decorated with white tracery, throughout. The miniatures are all in the characteristic Italian Renaissance manner, and so are many of the borders which surround them (see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 11). Some of the latter, however, and most of the partial borders attached to the historiated initials, show signs of Franco-Flemish influence, consisting mainly of scroll-work designs of foliage, flowers and fruit painted on the plain vellum surface. The border on f. 205 is in a different style, but still suggests Flemish influence; it is composed of pansies on a gold ground. Apparently belonged in 1801 to the Cistercian monastery of Salem, or Salmansweiler, in the diocese of Constance (dissolved in 1803, see A. Krieger, Topogr. Wörterb. des Grossherzogtums Baden, ii, 1905, coll. 722-732): see f. 1 b, "B:M:V: in Salem"; f. 288 b, "Reverendissimus DD. Robertus [Schlecht] Abbas in Salem. Andreas Prior in Salem. anno 1801." Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, iii, p. 1056. Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., no. 261, pl. 157.

38125. HUTH BEQUEST. Vol. XII. Poems, in Italian, by Petrarch, viz. :—

1. Sonetti 1-42 and Canzoni 1-12, agreeing with pp. 1-85 of Le Rime di Francesco Petrarca, ed. G. Mestica, 1896, except that Sonetti 2 and 3 are transposed, as in the Laurentian MS. pl. xli, n. 17. The first four lines of Son. 1 are omitted, except for the illuminated initial (doubtless intended to have been written in gold, cf. art. 2); and so are the initials of all the other poems. f. 3.
2. Trionfi, viz. Trionfo d'Amore, f. 34; della Pudicizia, f. 50 b; della Morte, f. 56; della Fama, f. 63 b; del Tempo, f. 77 b; dell'Eternità, f. 81 b. Agreeing with Mestica's edition, as above, pp. 522-660, with the following exceptions:—In the Trionfo d'Amore the last sixteen lines of Canto 3 (f. 45 b) are as in the footnote on p. 559. In the Trionfo della Morte the last line is omitted. In the Trionfo della Fama Canto 1 (ff. 63 b-67) agrees with the version printed by Mestica in an appendix (pp. 670-674); Canto 2 (ff. 68-70 b) agrees with Mestica's Canto 1 (pp. 605-614), except the opening 24 lines (printed by Mestica, pp. 604-605, footnote); Canto 3 (ff. 70 b-74) = Mestica's Canto 2 (pp. 614-623); Canto 4 (ff. 74-76 b) = Mestica's Canto 3 (pp. 625-632). The first three lines of Trionfo d'Amore in gold capitals; the first three lines of the other Trionfi, and canto-initials throughout, are omitted (cf. art. 1). Ff. 44 b and 54 b have been left blank, but the text runs on in each case without a lacuna. Ff. 85 and 86 have been misplaced in binding; they should follow f. 57.

Vellum; ff. 88 (ff. 2, 87, 88 blank).  $7\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$  5 in. Late xv cent. Gatherings of 10 leaves (quire i has 2 leaves, quire v has 11, and quire x has 5 besides the two which belong to quire vii). Neatly written in minuscules of the Italian Renaissance type known as "scrittura umanistica," and decorated by illuminators of the Milanese school with three full-page miniatures, one nearly full-page, and one small one, and with initials and full borders on seven pages (ff. 3, 34, 50 b, 56, 63 b, 77 b, 81 b). The borders especially, filled with putti, cornucopiae, and other Renaissance ornaments on blue, dark green, and crimson grounds, recall the decorations of the Sforza Book of Hours (Add. MS. 34294, executed for the Duchess Bona about 1490), and clearly emanate from the same school. For ff. 33 b, 34, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 12. Apparently executed for a member of the Romei family of Ferrara (created Counts of Bergantino in 1462, see L. Ughi, Dizion. degli uomini illustri Ferraresi, ii, 1804, p. 137), one of the borders (f. 34) having a shield of arms, per fess, azure and argent, a greyhound salient counterchanged collared gules; but the collar is omitted in the Romei arms as given by A. Libanori, Ferrara d' Oro, iii, 1674, pp. 34, 274. In Italian binding, 17-18th cent., of red morocco elaborately tooled in gilt, with a fan-pattern centre and corner-pieces. Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, iv, p. 1132; Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Illum. MSS., no. 193, pl. 127.

At the beginning (ff. i-ii b, 1) are an "Oraison a son bon angle" and "Oraison (i.e. Memoria) de saint Louys" in Latin, and prayers to Christ and the Virgin and "Meditations saint Augustin" in French, in various hands of the 16th and 17th centt. At the end (ff. 252 b, iii-v) are prayers in French, 16th cent., by a lady ("pecheresse je suy"), including an invocation of St. Anne; described in a slightly more recent hand as "Orazioni di una deuota, la quale possedè il presente libro." The posterior cover is lined with a fragment of a 14th-15th cent. Latin theological MS., containing part of an exposition of Matth. xxvi. 41.

Vellum; ff. viii + 252 (ff. 38, 214 blank). 6 in. × 4½ in. Circ. 1500. With 24 full-page miniatures and 74 smaller ones, including two occupation-pictures in small roundels for each month in the Calendar. Full borders to the twelve Calendar-pages and to all the pages with small miniatures, as well as to some of those with large miniatures; partial borders to all the text-pages. For eight of the full-page miniatures and eight other pages, see Cat. of Huth Bequest, pl. 13-16. The whole decoration is not only profuse but exquisitely finished, and the volume is one of the most perfect examples of Flemish illumination of the period. It belongs, in fact, to that remarkable group of MSS. whose best-known representative is the Grimani Breviary at Venice; for others see Burlington Magazine, x, 1906-7, p. 400, and for a fuller list G. Coggiola, Le Bréviaire Grimani, 1908 (introd. to the Reproduction complète, ed. S. de Vries and S. Morpurgo, 1904, etc.), p. 147. Probably executed by Bruges artists, it shows the influence of Memline and David in many of the miniatures. The borders are mostly of the characteristic late-Flemish style, flowers, strawberries, birds, butterflies, and other insects, painted with the most minute naturalism, together with sprays or scrolls of more or less conventional foliage, on grounds of pale straw-colour, dead-gold, grey, light green, or pink; but the border-frame on one page (f. 67) is filled with cameos, pearls, and other Renaissance ornaments, on another (f. 92) with lattice-work, each lozenge containing an escallop. The miniatures vary in style, and are doubtless by more than one hand; but in them, as in the borders, an exceptionally high level of excellence is maintained. Six of the large miniatures (ff. 45 b, 97 b, 102 b, 135 b, 148 b, 240 b) are strikingly different from the rest in style, having figures on a much larger scale, with backgrounds of dead-gold instead of sky and landscape; and two of these (ff. 135 b, 148 b) are not improbably by a different artist from the other four. Landscape is treated in most of the miniatures (small as well as large) with the skill which characterized the school; particularly in the large miniatures on ff. 66 b, 79 b, 137 b, 139 b, and in the Calendar-medallions. The colouring is soft and harmonious throughout. Flemish (Bruges?) binding, circ. 1500, of wooden boards covered with leather, stamped on each cover with two impressions of a rectangular panel consisting of a border with the legend "Ora pro nobis sancta dei genitrix vt digni efficiamur promissione xpristi," surrounding an inner panel in two compartments, each of which contains a branch of foliage enclosing within its curves five figures facing those in the other compartment: two pelicans, two stags, a pheasant (?) and a peacock (?), a hare and a greyhound, two eagles with outstretched wings. The space between the two impressions is filled with a rectangular stamp of four lozenges, containing alternately a quatrefoil and a fleur-de-lys, the spaces outside the lozenges being filled alternately with four fleur-de-lys and four trefoils. Somewhat similar bindings are described [by W. H. J. Weale] in the South Kensington Catalogue of Bookbindings, 1894, nos. 305, 314. Huth bookplate. The Huth Library, ii, p. 723.

Without title. This is the earliest in date of the copies of the Chroniques in the Museum collection. On the last page (f. 308) are inserted two poems (printed by P. Paris, iv, pp. 207, 208, from the Ste. Geneviève MS.), one in Fr., on the lessons to be learnt from the book, beg.

“Rois Phelippes de France, qui tant ies renommez,
Je te rent le rommans qui des rois est remez;
Tant a cil traueillie qui Primas est nommez
Que il est, dieu merci, parfaiz et consonmez.”

the other, in Lat., on the duties of kingship, beg.

“Ut bene regna regas per que bene regna reguntur
Hec documenta legas que libri fine sequuntur.”

At the foot a 15th cent. hand has added a note on the death of Charles [VII], 22 July, [14]61, and the coronation of his successor [Louis XI].

Vellum; ff. iv + 308. 10 $\frac{3}{8}$  in.  $\times$  7 in. Late XIII cent. Gatherings of 12 leaves (last<sup>8</sup>). Double columns of 46 lines, well written with flourished initials in blue and red. Sec. fol. “alemaingne.” A few leaves in the earlier part are damaged and have been repaired. Modern French tooled green morocco binding. On f. 1 is the name of a former owner (18th cent.), N. Tauxier. Later the volume belonged to [Louis Jean Nicolas] Monmerqué (d. 1860), who has added some notes (dated 1855) at the beginning concerning the binding, etc. It was offered for sale by him through Potier (1851, no. 2843), but was bought in, after which he had it repaired and bound by Boutigny (receipt, f. ii). Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps, Bart., in 1862 at the sale of the “reserved” portion of the Libri collection (sale-cat., lot 140). Phillipps MS. 16381 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 220).

38129. WILLIAM OF MALMESBURY, "De gestis regum Anglorum" (f. 1) and "Historia Novella" (f. 181): the third recension, with the dedicatory epistle at the end of the third book, being the MS. Ce<sup>2</sup> of Stubbs's edition (Rolls Series, 1887, 1889) and E<sup>2</sup> in that of Sir T. D. Hardy (Engl. Hist. Soc., 1840), for both of which it was collated. A description of it is given by Hardy, Descriptive Catalogue (Rolls Series, 1862-1871), ii, p. 159, and Stubbs, op. cit. i, p. lxxxii. The text is closely related to that of the Margam MS., Royal 13 D. ii, though not a transcript of it, both, in the opinion of Sir T. D. Hardy, being copied from the author's autograph. The "Historia Novella" is imperfect through the loss of several leaves; the missing portion, from "Cuius concilii" (Stubbs, § 492, p. 574) to "impedimenta" (§ 519, p. 592), has been supplied on printed pages (ff. 195-198) copied from Hardy's edition.

Vellum; ff. ii + 200. 10 in. × 7 in. Early xv cent. Gatherings of 12 leaves. Initials, many roughly decorated, in red and green. Sec. fol. "arcuum exinanita." On f. 1 is an obliterated inscription (16th cent.), "liber Hospitalis . . . ." In 1635 the MS. belonged to Sir Roger Twysden, who has prefixed a table of contents and written headings to several pages. Subsequently it passed into the possession of the Sebright family, and at the sale of part of Sir John Sebright's library in 1807 (lot 1190) it was bought by Richard Heber, from whom it passed (sale-cat. 1836, lot 1006) to Sir Thomas Phillipps. Phillipps MS. 8239 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 668).

"Beati Neoti confessoris vitam compendioso"; life beg. "Sanctus igitur Neotus fecundę Britannię quę nunc Anglia dicitur." f. 1 ;—(b) "Translatio corporis eivsdem sanctissimi confessoris apud Neotesberiam a partibus [C]ornvvalii." "Laudemus Dominum, fratres karissimi." f. 8 b ;—(d) "Item alius sermo," on the same subject. Beg. "Quoniam dignissimi patris nostri Neoti." f. 9. After this (f. 9 b) another hand has written the earlier part of the dedicatory epistle of Abbo of Fleury to St. Dunstan prefixed to his life of St. Edmund (Migne, Patr. Lat. cxxxix, col. 507, B. H. L. no. 2392), down to "ex integro reconderes." It is not clear whether the scribe stopped here or continued on a lost gathering. At the foot is a cross, apparently for purposes of reference. Beg. "[D]omino sanctę metropolitane Dorobernensium ecclesię archiepiscopo Dunstano."

2. Bede, "Ecclesiastica Historia Gentis Anglorum." The text is of the so-called "C-type" (probably a later recension of the work by Bede himself), agreeing with C in all the test passages given by Plummer in the introduction to his edition (Oxford, 1896, i, p. xciv) and in many minor points throughout. The present MS. was not used by Plummer in preparing his edition. Preface beg. "Gloriosissimo regi Ceuulfo Beda famulus Christi et presbiter"; text beg. "Britannia Oceani insula." f. 10.

Vellum; ff. i + 109. 11 in.  $\times$  7 $\frac{1}{8}$  in. XII cent. Written in England, in four or more hands. On the back of the flyleaf a fifth, only slightly later, hand has added, "Festivitas Sanctorum Patriarcharum Abraam, Ysiac (sic), et Iacob, officium ad missam" for 6 Oct. Bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps at the sale of the Libri collection (1859, lot 140). Phillipps MS. 16250 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 753).

III (Inquis. post Mortem, iii, 1821, p. 178). Lat. f. 79 b.
37. Form of writ of summons to the Court of Chancery, without names. Lat. f. 80 b.
38. Account of the coronation of Richard I: the narrative of Hoveden (Chronica Mag. Rog. de Hovedene, ed. Stubbs, Rolls Series, 1870, iii, p. 8, "Deinde idem dux,"—p. 13, "perpetuam eleemosynam"), but prefaced by a short passage (9 lines), not from Hoveden, summarizing events between Henry II's death and Richard's arrival in England. Beg. "Mortuo Rege Henrico." f. 81.
39. Moral verses (6 lines), beg.
 "Vir vidias (sic) quid iubeas dum magnus habetis

40. "De Londoniis fama": considerable portions of the account of London in Fitzstephen's Vita Sancti Thomae (J. C. Robertson, Mot. for the Hist. of Thomas Becket, Rolls Series, 1877, iii, p. 2, etc.), but arbitrarily arranged. The text agrees more nearly with that contained in the Liber Custumarum (H. T. Riley, Munimenta Gildhallae Londoniensis, Rolls Series, 1859–1862, vol. ii, pt. i, p. 2), than with that given by Robertson, but it contains some noticeable variations from both and, apparently, from all published texts. The extracts are carelessly copied. Beg. "Inter nobiles vrbes orbis." f. 83.
41. Charter of Henry III to London for the election of the Mayor; 18 Feb. a° 11 [1227]. In Lib. Cust. (op. cit. p. 45). Lat. f. 85.

"De libertatibus Londoniarum de tempore sancti Edwardi Regis": an extract from the article "De heretochiis" in the later version of the so-called "Leges Edwardi Confessoris" (Liebermann, Die Gesetze der Angelsachsen, i, p. 657). The same passage also occurs in the Liber Albus (Riley, op. cit. i, p. 498). The text of the present MS. bears the closest resemblance to that of Oriel MS. 46; as it agrees in the accidental omission of the clause "et . . . Troie," it seems likely that it may have been copied from it, or that both were copied from a common original. Beg. "Sicut continet (sic) in lege . . . debet in Londoniis." f. 85.
43. William the Conqueror's first charter to London; Engl., with MSS. 1911.

- translations into the Engl. current in A.D. 1314 and into Lat. The charter, with the same translations, occurs in Lib. Cust. p. 246, but there are differences of reading which show that the present copy cannot have been taken from that MS. f. 85 b.

The documents are:—(a) Writ of the King to the sheriffs, to make proclamation ordering attendance at the eyre, 20 Nov. a° 14 [1320]; *Lib. (for the second line see Storck, p. 426). f. 2;—(f) Writ of error to Robert Bealknap and Roger de Fulthorp to re-try the case in dispute between Robert Aleyn, knight, and Hugh de Ware, fishmonger, late Edw. III or early Rich. II. Vellum; ff. ii (one blank) + 136.  $10\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$   $6\frac{3}{4}$  in. xiv–xv cent. In various hands. Flourished initials in red and blue. Gatherings normally of 12 leaves, but the first two of 2 and 8 respectively, one (ff. 90–100) of 11, and one (ff. 71–89) of 19 owing to the insertion of a gathering of 8 leaves in one of 11. Names of former owners are:—Richard Drax (15–16th cent., f. 2 b) and (f. 1) John Maynard of the Middle Temple [Sir John Maynard, Serjeant-at-law, First Commissioner of the Great Seal, 1690]. A note by Sir Thomas Phillipps on f. 1 states that the MS. was bought at Sir Gregory Osborne Page-Turner’s sale, March, 1827, and on ff. i, 1 are numbers,  $\frac{742}{3}$  and  $\frac{2718}{3}$ , the former of which is stated to be the sale number at the Page-Turner sale and the latter a “N<sup>o</sup> in some prior sale.” There was a Page-Turner sale in October, 1824, and in the sale-catalogue this MS. is the third of lot 2718. The number  $\frac{742}{3}$  seems, therefore, to refer to a subsequent sale in March, 1827. Perhaps part of the collection was withdrawn in 1824 and offered again in 1827: cf. Add. MS. 35094 (acquired by Sir T.

Phillipps in March, 1827), which also belonged both to Sir John Maynard and to Sir G. O. Page-Turner, and which has the double numeration  $\frac{2713}{3}$  (1824 sale?) and  $\frac{737}{3}$ ; Eg. MS. 2811 has the entry, by Sir T. Phillipps, "Bought at Sir G. P. Turner's Sale, March 1827." Phillipps MS. 3106 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 336). Sir T. Phillipps's crest is stamped on f. 1.

38132. JOHN LELAND, Collectanea: fragments. For an account of this MS., which seems to have become separated from the rest of the "Collectanea" some time before the middle of the 17th cent., see his Itinerary, ed. L. Toulmin Smith, 1907, i, p. xxx, ii, p. 117, note. Rather more than half of it was copied by Stow, who added to his transcript some pieces taken from elsewhere, and copies were subsequently made by Sir William Dugdale in 1677 and for Robert Plot, LL.D., in 1682, both of which are in the Bodleian. The contents of the MS., with the exception of the last three articles, were published by Hearne, from Plot's copy, as an appendix to vol. iv of his edition of the Itinerary (1710-1712). In Miss Toulmin Smith's edition they appear, with the same exception, in vol. ii, pp. 119-168. The contents, which, with the exception of art. 27, are all autogr., are:—

29. "Nomina episcopatum Angliæ et quot comitatus ad quemlibet episcopatum pertinent." f. 39 b.
 Paper; ff. iv + 39. Folio. xvi cent. Belonged to Sir Henry St. George, Garter King of Arms (1703): see Bernard, Cat. Lib. MSS. Angl. et Hib. Oxon. 1697, ii, p. 112, no. 4230. Afterwards in the possession of the Rev. Osmund Beauvoir, D.D., F.S.A. (d. 1789; see J. Nichols, Literary Anecdotes, vol. ix, 1815, pp. 351-359), whose bookplate of arms is on f. i, and who has added (f. ii) a note on the volume and (f. iii) a list of contents. When in the possession of Sir H. St. George the volume was bound up with the collection now B.M. Add. MS. 5937; the two were separated by O. Beauvoir. It then contained a loose sheet in Leland's hand, now lost, relating to Staffordshire families, which was copied by St. George; the transcript is now in Add. MS. 5937, f. 153. The volume afterwards belonged to William Upcott, at whose sale (1846, sale-cat., MSS. lot. 111) it was bought by Sir Thomas Phillipps. Phillipps MS. 12111 (sale-cat. 1911, lot. 630).

38133. COLLECTIONS, genealogical, legal, and historical. Sir Thomas Phillipps (see his Catal. Manuscriptorum under no. 3765, and Collectanea Topogr. et Geneal. vol. i, p. 20) regarded the collection as made by Robert Aske, whose name occurs several times. Internal evidence (see below, esp. art. 11) makes it almost certain that this is Robert Aske of Aughton, co. York, the well-known leader of the Pilgrimage of Grace, executed in 1537, but it seems impossible that he can have compiled the collection in anything like its present shape, since several items are of a later date than his death. The entries are very miscellaneous in character, and many different hands are represented; and it seems probable that the volume is the notebook of an anonymous herald or antiquary, with other entries perhaps concerned with the household of the Earls of Northumberland. That the collection into a single volume was made not later than about the middle of the 16th century is proved by old foliation in Roman numerals. This, entered on the back of each leaf, begins at the present f. 13 b (f. 1) and ends at f. 151 b (f. 127). Though lost or mutilated on some pages owing to the cutting of the pages by a binder, the numbers can for the most part be traced, and show that the original order of the leaves was substantially the same as at present. Between the present ff. 83 and 88 there was some confusion, the original order having been 83, 87, 86, 85, 84, 88. Ff. 84-87 were originally bound upside down; since the contents are at present in correct order and were certainly written before the volume was bound, the original order must have been a binder's mistake. After f. 76 of this first numeration the foliator skipped a number, passing on to 78. Between the present ff. 97 and 107 there was again an error in binding: ff. 106, 107 were originally numbered 93, 96 and the original ff. 94, 95 were probably the present ff. 99, 102, where, however, the original numbers are lost. Ff. 127-139 were not in the volume as originally bound, the first foliation passing on from the present f. 126 (115) to f. 140 (116). At a slightly but not much later period the volume was re-folio'd with Arabic numerals and probably re-bound, the foliator taking account of ff. 6-12, not included in the first foliation. The order was, however, different from the present one, viz. ff. 12, 9, 7, 8, 11, 13, 14, 6, 10, 17, 18 (ff. 15 and 16 were not numbered), and the earliest extant number is 10, so that some leaves must have been included which are now lost. The second foliation agrees with the first in the order of ff. 83-88, but has the correct order for ff. 97-107. No numbers of this foliation appear on ff. 127-139, but whereas f. 126 was numbered by this foliator 128, f. 140 appears as 138, and though f. 151 appears as 149, ff. 152 (containing merely the conclusion of an imperfect pedigree) and 154 are numbered respectively 166 and 162, f. 153 being unnumbered. It appears therefore that some leaves have been lost at the end. Though the first foliation begins at f. 13, f. 14 forms a single sheet with f. 8, the contents of which follow on from f. 7, so that these leaves must have formed part of the volume from the first. The volume was finally re-bound and arranged in its present order by Ralph Starkey (d. 1628) the antiquary, who added (ff. 1 b-5 b) an index of personal names contained in it and corrected or supplemented the second foliation where necessary.

The papers certainly or probably connected with Aske are all (except art. 2) legal in character and appear to be notes of his studies in the law; he was admitted at Gray's Inn in 1527 (J. Foster, Collectanea Genealogica, x, 1883, p. 19). Since most are certainly and all are possibly in a hand different from his, it is not clear how their presence is to be accounted for, and it might be suggested that some anonymous law-student had made use of Aske's name as a prominent personality at the time; but this seems to be disproved both by the dates, which are earlier than the time of his notoriety, and by art. 2. Of these Aske papers only art. 11 was numbered in the first foliation. The contents of the volume are:—

1. Forms of counts in law cases, each beginning “vous avez cy N. N.”, dated 18 Henry VIII [1526–1527]. They are not taken from the year-books and most closely resemble those in Novae Narrationes, where however the beginning is “ceo vous monstre N. N. que cy est.” Two cases occur; in the second one of the parties is Robert Aske. Fr. f. 7.
2. Account of expenses of [Henry Percy, 6th] Earl of Northumberland, headed “Memorandum that I Robert Aske seruaunt vnto the right honorable the Erle of Northumberland hath resauede of my said lord and master in the battelment aboue Sainte Stevens Chapell at Westmon. the xvijth day of May in the xixth yer off king Henry the viij [1527] as doth aper in the end C li”; in the same hand as the preceding. The disbursements are for household and personal expenses, and include sums for play. Printed in Notes and Queries, 11th ser., iv, p. 442. f. 9.
3. Draft or copy of a petition to the King to issue letters patent granting to Thomas Hamerton for a year and a day the custody of the manor of Baterisby Hall and lands in Baterisby [Battersby in Ingleby Greenhoe], co. York, held of Stephen Hamerton; the custody having fallen to the King by the death of the tenant Richard Baterisby and the attainder of Nicholas his son and heir. [1530.] For the grant see Letters and Papers, iv, pt. 3, no. 6301 (1). Perhaps part of the Aske papers, but in a different hand from the preceding. Petition in Engl., letters patent in Lat. f. 10.
4. Notes on writs “de droit patent”; probably from the Aske papers; perhaps the same hand as arts. 1 and 2. Fr. f. 11.
5. Note of a law reading on a lease by — Yorke, lector, at Gray’s Inn, Lent term, 22 [Henry VIII, 1531]. Probably the lector is Roger Yorke, named as a Fellow of Gray’s Inn in a subsidy roll of 1523 printed by F. A. Inderwick, Calendar of the Inner Temple Records, vol. i, 1896, p. 460. At the foot “Memorandum xiiijth die decembris.” Probably from the Aske papers (cf. art. 8). In a different hand from the preceding. Fr. f. 11 b.
6. Form of proceedings in an action on a writ of waste. The defendant’s name is given as Robert Aske. The last two sections begin as in art. 1 “vous avez cy N. N.” Same hand as art. 4. Fr. and Lat. f. 12.
7. Notes of cases in law. Same hand as preceding. Fr. f. 12 b.
8. Notes of readings on cases arising under cap. i of the statute “Praerogativa Regis” by [Roger?] Yorke, Lent term, 22 Hen. VIII [1531].

There are two readings, dated respectively "Die lune" and "Die martis." Probably from the Aske papers; in the same hand as art. 5. Fr. f. 13.

9. Miscellaneous pedigrees. These are scattered throughout the volume and are in various hands, some being given in the form of a genealogical tree and others in narrative form. Arms are often given, usually in trick, but some are merely blazoned. In many cases references are given to the folios of some volume from which the pedigrees were taken. The form of these references is "Rss in fo<sup>o</sup> iiij<sup>e</sup> xxvj" (f. 20 b); cf. below, lxx. A very large number of entries, both pedigrees and other articles, have the sign d prefixed. For convenience the names are all collected here:—

- ii. Tatersall, Caly, Clifton. ff. 14, 14 b.

- lxx. Bruis [Bruce], Stapleton, Fauconbridge. The same pedigree occurs on ff. 96 b-97 b of Sir Thomas Wriothesley's collection, Add. MS. 5530, where the wording and arrangement are so nearly identical with that in the present volume that one MS. must have been copied from the other or (more likely) both from a common source; cf. lxxi, lxxii, lxxiii. The pedigree in 5530 has a reference similar to those frequently given in the present volume. On f. 146 b here "Constable of Holdernes" is

- written, but the pedigree is not given. This pedigree in 5530 follows Bruce. Arms of Bruce blazoned (Fr.). Lat. ff. 145 b-146 b.

10. Notes of the names, etc., of members of the Morley family, with dates, from inquisitions post mortem. Lat. ff. 27, 27 b.
11. Forms of, and rules for, writs "de recto"; from the Aske papers. Robert Aske's name is constantly used in the examples given, and the place-names Actonia [Aughton], Ellertonia [Ellerton], Cotyngwith [Cottingwith], and Storwhath [Storthwaite] occur. The last three places are all near Aughton, co. York, and their occurrence along with it in conjunction with the name of Robert Aske seems to prove that he was the Robert Aske of Aughton, leader of the Pilgrimage of Grace (cf. art. 62). Lat. ff. 29-34.

It is said (f. 1) to have been "Delivered by his Grace . . . in the House of Peeres, 30<sup>o</sup> November 1702" and "Read." Beginning with the departure of the Duke [James Butler, 2nd Duke of Ormonde] for Portsmouth, 1 June, to take command of the land forces to act in conjunction with Adm. Sir George Rooke, Commander-in-chief of the expedition, for the capture of Cadiz, the Journal relates the Duke's movements and orders, proceedings of Councils of War, etc., and gives copies of his correspondence with John Methuen, Envoy at Lisbon, and others, and especially with Adm. Sir G. Rooke. On the failure to take the Fort Matagorda, the expedition, against the Duke's will, was given up, and the fleet returned to England, having met the Spanish and French fleet at Vigo and captured some treasure-ships. The last entry in the Journal is "9 November. I arrived at London." Other copies of the Council-proceedings and of the correspondence are found in Add. From the Colonna library (book-stamp, f. i, etc.) and that of Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1830, lot 378). Philipps MS. 7064 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 164).

- 38163. RECORD of the Acts of John Colton, Archbishop of Armagh, on his visitation of the see of Derry, over which he claimed jurisdiction during its vacancy on account of the translation of John Dongan to the see of Down, held 8-17 Oct. 1397. Written by direction of Richard Kenmore, clerk in the diocese of Meath, notary public, and attested by his notarial mark at the foot and at the joinings of the membranes. Attached is a rental of the estates of the see taken at the same time; and on the back of the main roll is a list of music belonging to a 15th cent. owner, chiefly in 4 or 5 parts, including "Nowellys," songs for the lute, etc., beginning with the words "Lapydes torrentes," "Sic eum volo," "O admyrabile," "Reges Tharsys," "Gaude plurimum," "Potensiana," "Nunc dimittis," etc. The Acts and the Rental were published in 1850 for the Irish Archaeological Society, "from the Original Roll preserved in the Archiepiscopal Record Closet of Armagh," with an introduction and notes.

Vellum roll, four membranes sewn together, 6 ft.  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft.  $1\frac{1}{2}$  in. A.D. 1397. Philipps MS. 26765 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 296).

- 38164. ROLL of arms and inscriptions said to have been painted on the wall of the refectory of Ely Minster, recording the names and arms of forty knights who, according to the legend recorded in the Latin text of the roll, were quartered on the Abbey by William the Conqueror, and the names of the forty monks on whom they were quartered, and with whom they are stated to have become close friends. The same legend is commemorated by the Tabula Eliensis, a painting of the late 15th or 16th century now in the Bishop's Palace at Ely (see an engraving in Bentham's History of Ely, 1812, p. 106), where the names and arms are accompanied by portraits. A full account of the tradition by William Cole is in Bentham's appendix, p. 5*, and a copy of the list is given by E. Conybeare, History of Cambridgeshire (1897), p. 102. The germ of the story is doubtless to be found in the 12th century chronicle of Thomas of Ely (ed. D. J. Stewart, 1848, p. 275) who, however, speaks merely of the ordinary burden of knight's service (see Round, Feudal England, p. 300). The names and arms are probably 14th cent. forgeries for the aggrandisement of later bearers of the names. The date is perhaps indicated by the arms of Robert de Orford, Bishop of Ely, 1302-1310, which are at the head of the roll together with those attributed to William I, St. Sexburga (wrongly inscribed "Sancta Ethelburga") and St. Etheldreda (wrongly inscribed "Sanctus Ethelwaldus episcopus"). Orford's arms are a combination of those of the two saints. The roll was formerly in possession of the Norfolk antiquary Francis Blomefield, who printed the text and described the arms in the opening pages of his Collectanea Cantabrigiensi in 1740, but afterwards cancelled these leaves and substituted other matter. They are, however, contained in the Grenville copy in the British Museum. A very similar narrative in English (16th cent.) is in Royal MS. 18 C. i, f. 14 b. Beg. "Tempore Thurstani abbatis nostri Eliensis qui satus fuit ex satis claris"; ends "honorifice hic lucescunt." The names of the knights and monks (framed by a colonnade) and the shields of arms in colours (suspended by straps from a bar) are arranged lengthwise at the edge of the roll, on either side of the text.

Vellum roll. 37 in.  $\times$  12 in. xvi cent. The top of the roll (containing the arms of the king, saints and bishop) is cut into a pattern and a tape is attached; the edge at the end has marks of stitches. Notes in Blomefield's hand on the back refer to his MS. "book of transcripts, p. 50 (H)" and to his Collectanea. Phillipps MS. 27857 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 353).

38165. EXTRACTS from the "Itinerarium Curiosum" of William Stukeley, M.D. (published 1724), with copies of the plates (which are dated 1721-1723), made by "Chris: Brockell, cler." (in whose hand the MS. is probably written). The order of the plates and extracts differs from the printed text. Reversing the volume are: (a) "Questions from y<sup>e</sup> Bp. of Lincoln, June 1712. Answer'd," relating to the parish of Belton [near Grantham, co. Linc.], and written by the rector. f. 54 b;—(b) Treatise on the Doctrine of the Trinity, June 24, 1788. f. 52 b.

Paper; ff. i + 54.  $7\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$   $5\frac{1}{2}$  in. xviii cent. On ff. 5, 26 b, are names of the Gunton family, on f. 15 b is a note by "W. Capon, 1777," and on ff. 29, 47 b, 53, are names of members of the Gray family, including "Charles Gray, Esq<sup>r</sup>, M.P. for Colchester [1761-1780], F.R.S., a Trustee of the British Museum and Recorder of Ipswich." Phillipps MS. 3834 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 964).

38166. DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE of the "Arundel Cabinet" of gems, viz. 133 intaglios and 130 cameos, preceded by a short history of the origin of the collection, etc., dated "St. James's Square, May, 1731." The gems were collected in 1630-1640 by Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel, from whom they descended to Mary, wife of Henry, 7th Duke of Norfolk, who bequeathed them to her second husband, Sir John Germain. His second wife and widow Lady Betty Germain gave them to Lady Mary Beauclerk on her marriage in 1762 to Lord Charles Spencer, and they were sold, as part of the Marlborough collection, in 1875, to David Bromilow, after whose death they were dispersed (sale-cat., Christie's, June, 1899). The present catalogue was privately printed for Sir Thomas Phillipps, but the British Museum copy is imperfect. Some of the gems are described in Gemmarum antiquarum delectus . . . quae in dactyliothece Ducis Marlburgiensis conservantur, 2 vols, 1781-1790.

Paper; ff. ii + 28. 12 in.  $\times$  7 $\frac{1}{4}$  in. XVIII cent. Phillipps MS. 15874 (sale-cat. 1911, lot 46).

38167. LATIN DICTIONARY: an epitome of the Liber Glossarum, an 8th century (?) compilation attributed to an otherwise unknown bishop Ansileubus. Beg. "A[bba] significat in latino pater"; ends "Pati ferre . perpeti . sustinere . tolerare . durare." Most of the entries are taken from the Etymologiae and De Natura Rerum of Isidore, the Glossae of Placidus Grammaticus, Synonyma attributed to Cicero, and glosses and commentaries on Virgil. Galen has been used for medical terms and some names of herbs. Other sources are Augustine (De Civitate Dei, Enarrationes in Psalmos, etc.), Ambrose, Bishop of Milan (Hexaameron, etc.), Gregory the Great (Moralia, Homilies on Ezekiel), Jerome (Commentaries—on Matthew, etc.), Eucherius (Instructiones), and Orosius (Historiae). Sources are usually referred to in the margin, except at the beginning, where they are given in the text. In the lower margins (e.g. f. 38 b), and in a blank column at the end, one or two medical prescriptions have been written. A full account of the MSS. and sources of the Liber Glossarum and kindred books is given by G. Goetz in Abhandlungen der königlich-sächsischen Gesellschaft der Wissenschaften, Band xxx (1893), p. 211, where reference is made to the present MS. (Phillipps MS. 4049) on p. 253. See also S. Berger, De Glossariis et Compendiis exegeticis quibusdam Medii Aevi (1879); G. Loewe, Prodromus Corporis Glossariorum Latinorum (1876), p. 222; and "Der Liber Glossarum" by H. Usener in the Rheinisches Museum, vol. xxiv (1869), p. 382. Harley MS. 2735 is claimed by Goetz, following Loewe, as an abridged Liber Glossarum.

Vellum; ff. iii + 160. 9 $\frac{3}{8}$  in.  $\times$  5 $\frac{7}{8}$  in. Written in Italy in various hands. XIII cent. The writing is arranged in double columns, except ff. 17-19 b and f. 22 b, where it is continuous. The initial letter in each section—the first A, the first B, etc.—is (particularly the first A) enlarged, and in red, with slight ornamentation. The same colour has been used at the beginning of the volume for marking out the different entries, and the writers to whom reference is made; greater convenience has been secured at a later date by rewriting several of the words in the margin. Gatherings of 8 leaves, with catchwords, and, for the most part, numbered. Phillipps MS. 4049; entered in the folio catalogue as purchased from T. Thorpe, bookseller (Phillipps sale-cat. 1911, lot 306).

- 38168. GRANT by Sir Thomas and Sir Henry St. George, respectively Garter and Clarenceux Kings of Arms, with the consent of Henry [Howard], Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal, of an alteration of the crest of Sir Henry Goodrick, 2nd Bart., Privy Councillor, Lieutenant-General of the Ordnance, from “a demy lyon ermines holding in his paws a battle-axe argent helved gules” to “a demy lyon ermines, armed and langued gules, issuing out of a ducall coronett or, holding in his paws a battle-axe proper helved or.” The crest, as amended, is illuminated in the left margin, the royal arms at the top and those of the Earl Marshal in the right margin. Dat. 27 Aug. 1694. Seals missing. On the back is a note that permission to use this crest with the differences is granted to John Goodrick, Esq. [afterwards Sir John Goodrick, 3rd Bart.], only brother [of the half-blood] of the above, by virtue of the Earl Marshal’s order dated 21 Jan. 1697.

Vellum. 20 in. × 14 in., folded in modern red morocco binding. Presented by Charles Alfred Goodricke, Esq.

- 38169. LEDGER, containing the accounts of the Public Advertiser from Jan. 1765 to Dec. 1771 (lacking the annual balance sheets except for 1766), in the handwriting of Henry Sampson Woodfall, its printer. On f. 1 is pasted an autograph letter from H[enry] D[ick] Woodfall, his grandson, to [Charles Wentworth Dilke, proprietor and editor of the Athenæum], dated 21 Feb. 1847.

The chief interest of these accounts is that they show the effect of the publication of the Letters of Junius [21 Jan. 1769–21 Jan. 1772] upon the sale of the paper (see Sir C. W. Dilke, Papers of a Critic, ii, p. 28). The manuscript was lent by him to the Guelph Exhibition held at the New Gallery, London, in 1891 (see Catalogue, p. 257, no. 1871).

Paper; ff. iv + 81. Small folio. Bequeathed by Sir C. W. Dilke, Bart.

38490. DIARY of Henry Townshend of Elmley Lovett, co. Worcester (the first mentioned in W. C. Metcalfe's edition of the Visitation of co. Worcester in 1682-3, p. 92); 29 April, 1640-3 April, 1663. A transcript made by Mrs. Mary Anne Everett Green (1818-1895), from the original (formerly Phillipp's MS. 12245; sold at Sotheby's, 23 May, 1913, lot 1084). The contents deal mostly with public affairs, chiefly in London, but also at Worcester and elsewhere. There is a gap from 24 Feb. 1641 to 9 Jan. 1655 between ff. 21 and 22 b, and another from Jan. 1657 to 26 April, 1660 between ff. 26 b and 27. The pedigree in Nash's Worcestershire (vol. i, p. 378) misnames this Henry Townshend as Robert. The identification is fixed by the reference (f. 1, 5 May, 1640) to his brother Vernon [husband of his half-sister, see Harley MS. 1396, ff. 309 b, 313], and to his children Dorothea and Thomas (f. 40 b, 29 May, 1660). Nash gives (vol. ii, Appendix, pp. xcvi-cvi) extracts from a MS. diary of Mr. Townshend of Elmley Lovett concerning the siege of Worcester, 26 March—25 July, 1646. The present copy seems to have been made for J[oseph] P[hipps] Townshend, solicitor at Southwell, co. Nottingham (see f. 108 b), between 1856 (earliest date of stamp) and 1868 (last mention of J. P. Townshend at Southwell). Marginal notes in pencil show that it has been at any rate partly printed.

38492. TOWNSHEND PAPERS. Vol. I. Papers relating to religious questions, temp. Eliz.—Jas. I. A collection in various hands, evidently formed by a sympathizer with the Puritan party in the Church of England, probably Sir Edward Lewkenor of Denham, co. Suff. (M.P. for Shoreham, Maldon, etc., knt. 1603, d. 4 Oct. 1605, see C. H. and T. Cooper, Athenae Cantabrigienses, ii, 1861, p. 411, etc.): see below, artt. 14, 19, 26, 37, 44, 50, 57, 59, 60. This supposition is supported by the fact that his great-grand-daughter Mary Lewkenor married Sir Horatio Townshend, cr. Baron (1661) and Viscount (1682) Townshend. The papers deal mainly with the points disputed at the beginning of James I's reign, especially subscription to the Book of Common Prayer and conformity with regard to vestments and ceremonies. The principal contents are:—

1. Address to Convocation, urging a revision of "the newe booke of coman prayer" [perhaps the petition presented by Stephen Egerton and others, 2 May, 1604, cf. T. Lathbury, Hist. of Convocation, 1853, p. 203]. Slightly imperf. f. 1.
2. Petition to "the Lord Bishoppes of the Church of England," from

- "sundry ministers of the same," for relief from "the subscription and strict observation of the communion booke and ceremonies." Another copy, in Sloane MS. 271, f. 27, is dated 24 Apr. 1604. f. 3.
3. Arguments against non-residency, pluralities, unlearned ministers, etc. [1603-4]. Endorsement (cancelled) "M<sup>r</sup>. Nic. Prideaux neer Padstow in Cornewall." f. 4.
  4. "The true copy of y<sup>e</sup> petition [against the silencing of their pastors] y<sup>t</sup> about 200 yeomen of Essex and other parishes about Royston exhibited to his Ma<sup>ty</sup> on Tuesday y<sup>e</sup> 20th of November [1604, see other copies in Harley MS. 677, f. 44, Egerton MS. 2877, f. 166 b]. One of y<sup>e</sup> cheefest of them, viz. M<sup>r</sup> Hildersham stuard to S<sup>r</sup> Francis Barington, ys bound over therupon to appeare before y<sup>e</sup> Counsayle when he shalbe called, some 3 other at y<sup>e</sup> first stayed were after dismissed." f. 6.
  5. "Reasons why we cannot yeld to the ceremonies now vrged, viz. the wearinge of a surplise in diuine seruice, crossinge in baptisme, etc." f. 7.
  6. Petition from R. G. [? Richard Gawton, vicar of Redbourn, co. Hertf., 1602-1616], to —, to persuade the King to reconsider his decision to enforce the ceremonies; [1604]. f. 9.
  7. "Certayne considerations why y<sup>e</sup> ministers should not be remooved for subscription and ceremonyes"; [1604-5]. f. 10.
  8. Points to be urged for the reformation of the Church [cf. Commons' Journals, 5 May, 1604]. f. 11.
  9. "The matters reformed in the new common booke according to the intendment of the conference"; "The matters not reformed, whereof pretence was made that they should be reformed"; and "Errors and inconveniences further added in the new booke." [1604]. f. 12.
  10. "Exceptions against y<sup>e</sup> Booke of Ordinations" (endorsement). f. 13.
  11. Sixteen "Reasons politicall for the freedome of the ministers from subscription and ceremonyes." f. 15.
  12. Extracts, concerning the sign of the Cross, from "An ample declaration of y<sup>e</sup> Christian doctrine, composed by Card. Bellarmine, translated out of Italian by Rich. Hadock, D. of divinity" (first published in 1604). f. 16.
  13. Petition from the House of Commons to the King, for the reinstatement of "godly, able, and painfull ministers" deprived for not using the prescribed rites and ceremonies [perhaps an early draft of the petition printed in Commons' Journals, 13 June, 1604]. f. 17.
  14. Treatise in favour of toleration with regard to ceremonies, especially the use of vestments and the sign of the Cross, and against compulsory subscription. Apparently addressed to the members of Convocation ("that honorable Court which is shortly to assemble") before its - meeting on 20 Mar. 160 $\frac{3}{4}$ , and after the royal proclamation of 5 Mar. [160 $\frac{3}{4}$ ], which is mentioned. The handwriting resembles that of William Bedell, fellow of Emmanuel College, Cambridge, and preacher at St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds, afterwards (1629-1642) Bishop of Kilmore; cf. Cotton MS. Julius C. iii, f. 22, Lansdowne MS. 90, ff. 106, 133. The substance, too, and the moderate tone of the treatise seem to indicate Bedell as a probable author: cf. his letter of 16 Oct. 1604 to S. Ward (E. S. Shuckburgh, Two Biographies of W. Bedell, 1902, p. 214). It is also worth noting that he is said to have contributed to a volume of elegies on Sir Edward Lewkenor and his wife, published in 1606 (see Cooper, Athenae Cantab. ii, p. 411). f. 18.

15. "Certaine considerations [sixteen in number] to moue the reuerende fathers to remitt the vrginge of ceremonies and subscription"; endorsed "Considerations for the reuerend Bishoppes"; [1604?]. f. 24.
  16. "Reasons [nine in number] whie the ministers may not subscribe to, nor use the Booke of Comon Praier in all pointes, though they use the principall partes of it"; [1604?]. f. 27.
  17. Reasons for and against the expediency of "cross and surpliss" in the English Church. f. 28.
  18. Answers [by Edwin Sandys, Archbishop of York] to the sixteen articles of a petition [from the Commons to the Lords] for church reforms. A summary evidently made by a member of the House of Commons (see article 5, "which he thought was not our meaning"). For a different summary, and for the text of the petition, see Sir S. D'Ewes, Journals of Parliaments, 1682, pp. 359, 357; Strype, Life of Whitgift, 1822, i, p. 349, iii, p. 118; see too art. 40 below. [25 Feb. 158 $\frac{3}{4}$ ]. f. 29.
  19. "Reasons to proue that we propounde": in support of six articles (confirming the articles of religion, forbidding pluralities, etc.) proposed for a conference with the Lords; [5 May, 1604, cf. Commons' Journals, i, p. 199, where Sir E. Lewkenor's name appears in the list of disputants]. Evidently by a member who took a leading part in the proceedings: "when their Lordships shall please to appointe me I will bringe our doubtess . . . The L: Chan: answere to me, When euery lerned man hath a benefice then you shall haue two." f. 31.

38493-38496. TOWNSHEND PAPERS. Vols. II-V. Letter-books of Antony Moreau, Polish Envoy at the Hague; 1686-1689. Four volumes. Paper; ff. 175, 91, 140, 51. Folio. Townshend sale-cat. 1911, lots 167, 301. The contents, all in French except a few in Latin, Italian or Dutch, are as follows:—

38493-38495. Copies of Moreau's newsletters and despatches to the King [of Poland, John III Sobieski], with enclosures (resolutions of the States-general, diplomatic correspondence, etc.) and a few other papers. The despatches are not signed or addressed, but their destination and the writer's official position are evident (e.g. from the reference to the deliverance of Vienna from the Turks, 38493, f. 6), and his name occurs in some of the enclosures (38493, ff. 14 b, 16 b, 37-39). The contents of the three volumes report the course of political events in Western Europe generally, but more particularly in England (especially the second and third volumes, which are almost entirely occupied with English affairs); they constitute, in fact, a complete narrative of the Revolution from Moreau's point of view. One of the most interesting papers is Moreau's despatch of 12 Oct. 1688 (38495, f. 28 b), a long letter describing the preparations in Holland for William's expedition and the confidence felt there as to its success. Most of the documents are fair copies without alterations, but one or two (e.g. 38495, ff. 8 b, 28 b) have many interlinear corrections, and one of the newsletters (38493, f. 158 b) is almost entirely cancelled. The periods covered by the respective volumes are :—38493. 28 May, 1686–25 Nov. 1687 ;—38494. 2 Dec. 1687–30 July, 1688 ;—38495. 6 Aug. 1688–8 Nov. 1689. Among the contents are :—

In bks. i (f. 32 b) and v (f. 102) no illustrations are given though indicated in rubrics. The place of the latter is apparently taken by a picture of the Virgin and Child at the beginning of bk. v (f. 90 b). At the end of the volume is written in the same hand the ownership note of the Brigittine Sisters of Our Lady in the Vineyard at Utrecht: "Dit boec hoer totten susteren bi onser vrouwen in den wijngaert tutrecht" (f. 143 b), and on f. i is the name Jan Blydetteyn in a 19th cent. hand. Binding of modern calf on wooden boards, blind tooled, a panel in the centre with stamped ornaments in lozenge-shaped compartments and on the borders. Later a coat of arms has been stamped on the centre of one side and a monogram on the other. Sold at Sotheby's, 4 Aug. 1864 (sale-cat. lot 1199). Afterwards belonged to Charles Butler of Warren Wood, Hatfield (sale-cat. Sotheby's, 1912, lot 2689).

38530. JOURNAL of one of the crew of H.M.S. Resolution, and afterwards (see f. 153 b) of H.M.S. Discovery, on the third and last voyage of Captain James Cook; 1776–1780. A note on f. 1 describes the writer as "George Gilbert, 1st Lieut. . . on board the Discovery" and states that he "was made Captain after Cook was killed . . and died of smallpox on his return to England, aged 27." This however is evidently based on misconception. The name Gilbert does not occur among the officers of either ship, and a log in the Public Record Office, no. 4559/213–215, bears the name of G. Gilbert, A.B. For a list of logs and journals of this voyage, see Add. MS. 38091, f. 40. This journal adds little to the other accounts printed and MS. Prefixed are a few biographical notes on the Gilbert family and a type-written letter (f. ii) from C. Humphrey Gilbert to Alban Doran; 28 Jan. 1907.

Paper; ff. iv + 165. Small quarto.

38536. CATALOGUE of papers of Sir Robert Southwell, Clerk to the Privy Council (1664-1679), Secretary of State for Ireland (1690-1702), with his signature on f. ii dated 20 Aug. 1692, presumably the date of the catalogue. Arranged in two series, one (ff. 1-32 b) mostly before 1680, and the other (ff. 33-38) mostly after, under various heads, the lists of which are given on ff. 1, 1 b. Only two of the papers have been identified among the Southwell MSS. already acquired, viz. : (a) certificate of Sir R. Southwell's receiving the Sacrament. f. 22 (see Add. MS. 38015, f. 163);—(b) letter of Sir R. Southwell touching the death of Sir Edmund Bury Godfrey. f. 36 (see Add. MS. 38015, f. 316).
Paper; ff. ii + 38. Circ. A.D. 1692. Folio. The volume was in Thomas Thorpe's catalogue, 1834, no. 952, and again, 1836, no. 178, when it was purchased by Sir Thomas Phillipps. Phillipps MS. 8833 (sale-cat. 15-18 June, 1908, lot 690). Purchased at Hodgson's 2 May, 1912, lot 259 (part).

38537. ROLL OF ARMS, known as the Dering Roll from the fact that it was owned early in the 17th century by Sir Edward Dering of Surrenden, co. Kent (d. 1644). The contents have hitherto been chiefly known through a rather inaccurate copy in trick made soon after 1607, perhaps by some herald, and contained in Harley MS. 6137, ff. 89 b-97 b. Described on that basis by James Greenstreet and C. Russell, 'The Dering Roll of Arms,' in The Reliquary, vols. xvi-xviii (1876-1878), with full list of coats in blazon and a few engravings, it is no. 7 of the same authors' 'Reference List of Rolls of Arms' in The Genealogist, vol. v. (1881), and is quoted as A in Papworth's Ordinary (1874). The roll when complete contained 324 coats (fifty-four rows of six) well drawn in colours, the names written above them being in a 15th cent. hand. The first row and part of the second (nos. 1-6 and 12, with part of 11) have been torn off since the Harley copy was made. The names throughout are those of persons living at the end of Henry III's reign or in the first half of Edward I's, and are given with fair accuracy, though mistakes occur, such as Bokesle (for Rokesle), Merwize (for Merwripe), Maube (for Maufe), Chewinthe (for Chawurthe), etc. A palpable fraud has been committed, either by Dering or some person who wished to sell the roll to Dering, in the case of no. 61, where the arms (per fess, or and gu.) and name of Nic. de Crioll have been erased and arms (or, a saltire sa.) and name of Ric. fiz Dering substituted. The roll is presumably copied from a 13th cent. compilation or compilations and is apparently connected with a larger series, also surviving only in a 15th cent. form, which was formerly MS. 22007 in Sir Thomas Phillipps' collection and was afterwards in George Dunn's library (sale-cat. 1913, lot 508). Of the names given in the present roll the first seventy-seven are all, or nearly all, from co. Kent, and from that point to about no. 143 most of them have some connexion with co. Sussex. Later on the local grouping is less easy to follow, but about the last thirty or thirty-five are foreigners from France or Flanders. An alphabetical list of names is on the back of the roll.

Vellum roll; 9 ft.  $10\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$   $10\frac{1}{4}$  in. xv cent. Belonged (see his note at end) to Ralph Starkey in 1597; afterwards to Dering, and in 1811 to Rev. David Thomas Powell, LL.B. (see his note at the end, cat. in Add. MS. 22505, f. 90, and sale-cat. 1848, lot 453), later to Henry Wellesley, D.D., Principal of New Inn Hall, Oxford (Sotheby's sale-cat. 13 June, 1865, lot 392). Purchased, with Add. Roll 56409, at Messrs. Sotheby's (sale-cat. 31 May, 1912, lot 65).

- 38624. BREVIARY of York use. Imperfect. The contents are:—

(1) Psalter, beginning imperfectly in Ps. cxviii. 34 "[in toto corde] meo. Deduc me," etc. Cf. York Breviary, ed. S. Lawley, Surtees Society, 1880, 1882, i, p. 890. f. 1;—(2) Litany. Agrees with the above ed. (i, p. 931), except that the invocation of St. Peter is doubled here and that of St. Anne is omitted (in the Sanctorale, however, her feast occurs on f. 82 as in the edition, ii, p. 416). f. 15;—(3) Services "in commemoracione omnium sanctorum" (quite different from the service printed ib. ii, pp. 647-659 in Sanctorale);—"in natali vnus martyris a Pascha vsque Pentecosten" (= ib. ii, pp. 247-9 with slight variations);—"in natali plurimorum martyrum a Pascha vsque ad Pentecosten" (ib. pp. 249-251). In the edition these two last are in the Sanctorale, between Ambrose and Tiburtius. ff. 18, 19, 19 b;—(4) Sanctorale, beginning with the Feast of SS. Tiburtius, Valerian and Maximus (14 April), instead of the usual St. Andrew's Day (30 Nov.), and breaking off (owing to lacuna after f. 176) at All Saints' Day (1 Nov.). The Feasts agree with those of the corresponding part of the Sanctorale in the edition, ii, pp. 251-653, except for the Eleven Thousand Virgins, whose service has been inserted later at the end (see below). In edition, ii, p. 632, this follows St. Austreberta, and the present MS. has at the corresponding place, f. 170, a note inserted at the foot of the page: "Sanctarum xi milium virginum, quere in fine libri." But the lessons are in most cases longer (sometimes more than twice as long), fuller and differently divided, e.g. SS. William (ff. 34-42 b, cf. edition, ii, pp. 295-319), Oswald (ff. 95-96 b, cf. ib. ii, pp. 450-453), Wilfrid (ff. 161 b-163, cf. ib. ii, pp. 615-618). As in the edition, ii, p. 437, there is a long rubric after St. Peter ad Vincula, containing the phrase "in matrici ecclesia Eboracensi" (f. 90, col. 2). f. 19 b. Additions in a slightly later hand are "In natali plurimarum virginum ix lectionum," without lessons, and "In festo xi milium virginum" (see above, art. 4). ff. 177, 178 b.

Vellum; ff. 180.  $8\frac{1}{4} \times 5\frac{5}{8}$  in., double columns. Early xv cent. Initials and headings in red, but most of the longer rubrics only underlined in red. Imperfect at beginning and end and after f. 176. The first quire (ff. 1-12) is not numbered; the others are of 6, 8, 10 or 12 leaves, and are numbered xviii-xxxii continuously to the quire ending with f. 176; no. xxxvii begins with f. 177 but now contains only the first three leaves. So sixteen quires are lost at the beginning and four more between ff. 176 and 177. Originally bound in wooden boards, one of which remains, though broken, together with the original bands. The name (of a former owner?) Marmaduke Hodgson has been scribbled on ff. 133, 180 (the last a detached fly-leaf).

At the end (f. 60) are some printed extracts relating to Davy's "Method of protecting the Copper Sheathing of Ships' Bottoms," 1824. Librarian to the Dean and Chapter. Two volumes. Folio. The contents, arranged so far as possible under devices chronologically, are as follows:—Vol. I (a) Various (348); 1322-1667. ff. 1-348; —(b) Hands, gloves, etc. (373); 1468-1588. ff. 349-721. Vol. II (a) Unicorns (32); 1427-1619. ff. 1-32; —(b) Gothic P (18); 1478-1550. ff. 33-50; —(c) Flagons, jugs, vases, bottles, etc. (574); 1523-1627. ff. 51-624; —(d) Undated (48). ff. 625-672. Appended (ff. 673-707) to Vol. II are lists used by the collector in arranging the tracings. Prefixed to each volume (f. i) is a list of all the classes of MSS. examined, with references to the folios (in the notebooks which follow) upon which the notes taken will be found. Each tracing bears in the lower right-hand corner a reference to the class of MSS. and the number of the volume from which it is taken. In the upper left-hand corner there is often a number, which is generally the running number of the notes in the notebooks. Most of the classes will be easily identified in the lists above-mentioned prefixed to each volume. But in cases where the reference is to the number of a volume only without a class, it is (with one or two exceptions) either to the Records of the Consistory Court (if there are no running numbers in the upper left-hand corner), or to the Acta Curiae (if there are running numbers in the upper left-hand corner). Vol. I appears generally to mean Liber 1 ad Instantiam Partium.

which apparently does not belong to the Avila collection, in Spanish.

Two volumes. Paper; ff. 103, 64. Folio. Presented by R. B. Cunninghame Graham, Esq.

- 38653 A. 1. Confirmation by Sabina de Olivares, widow of Diego de Santa Cruz, of Avila, and her daughter Ana de Santa Cruz, of a sale of houses in the suburbs of Avila in the ward (barrio) of the church of Santiago for 80,000 maravedi by her late husband to María de Valdivieso, widow of the licenciado Martín de Valle; Avila, 19 Mar. 1547. f. 1.

Ana estra muros of Avila; Avila, 29 July, 1561. At the end is added a certificate of the redemption of the censo by Juan de Ovalle, Avila, 22 May, 1563. [N.B. The houses in question are probably those bought by Juan de Ovalle as St. Teresa's agent for the foundation of S. José; see G. Cunninghame Graham, Santa Teresa, 2nd ed., p. 208.] f. 15.
3. Sale by Francisco de Peralta, of Avila, and his wife Catalina del Adrada to Aldonza de Guzman, widow of Capt. Pedro de Ulloa [and mother of Guiomar de Ulloa, the friend of St. Teresa], of Avila, of houses in the suburbs of Avila in the ward of S. José; Avila, 19 Apr. 1564. [A later endorsement describes it as "escritura q̄ nos hico la s<sup>a</sup> doña giomar de olloa de las casas en que bive el p<sup>e</sup>. Julian davila." This is an error, but perhaps implies that the houses were subsequently given to S. José by Guiomar de Ulloa.] f. 21.
4. Declaration by Juan de Ovalle, of Alba de Tormes, that two censos bought by him with money sent him from the Indies by Lorenzo de Cepeda [brother of St. Teresa], on 5 June, 1570, and on 1 June, 1571 were bought for the said Lorenzo; Avila, 27 July, 1576. f. 25.

- S. José, 1 Jan. 1582. At the end is added a receipt for the full price, 3 Nov. 1582. f. 34.
7. Official copy, made 14 July, 1605, for the purposes of a suit to which Orofrisia de Mendoza y Castilla, of Valladolid [wife of St. Teresa's nephew Francisco de Cepeda], was a party, of a deed relating to a censo sold by Juan de Ovalle to Lorenzo de Cepeda [see art. 5]; Avila, 8 Nov. 1583. f. 40.
  8. A note of particulars concerning the deeds has been added later. Early 17th cent. f. 70.

38656. DECLARATION against the papal supremacy in England in these words: "Romanus episcopus non habet maiorem aliquam iurisdictionem collatam sibi a deo in sacra scriptura in hoc regno Angliae quam alius quivis externus episcopus," signed by both the Archbishops (Cranmer and Edward Lee), by the Bishops of Carlisle, Chichester, Coventry and Lichfield, Durham (Cuthbert Tunstall), Ely, Exeter, Lincoln, London and Winchester (Stephen Gardiner), five archdeacons, the provincials of the orders of Carmelites and Franciscans, twenty-two abbots, eleven priors, one warden and fifty-two private persons, including Edmund Boner [al. Bonner], afterwards Bishop of London, Nicholas Shaxton, afterwards Bishop of Salisbury, and Peter Vannes, formerly Secretary to Wolsey and afterwards Dean of Salisbury. The date must be after 19 Apr. 1534, the day on which the Bishops of Coventry and Lichfield and of Ely were consecrated, and before 27 (? 17) May of the same year, when Richard Sydnor had vacated by death the registrarship of the Order of the Garter (Letters and Papers Henry VIII, vii, no. 534; Le Neve's Fasti, ed. Hardy, 1854, i, p. 403). Similar declarations by other groups of clergy, etc., appear in Lett. and Papers, vii, the earliest being dated 14 May, 1534. The names of all the signatories are included in the Index.

Preceded (ff. 1, 2) by a letter from Sir Frederic Madden, K.H., Keeper of MSS. in the British Museum (1837-1866), to Richard Mullings, 20 Nov. 1850, in which he refers to the "Papal Aggression" of that year, and expresses the opinion that the first three lines, i.e. the sentence quoted above, are in the handwriting of Cranmer, a view which is not borne out by a comparison with other autographs.

Paper; ff. 4. Folio. A.D. 1534.

- 38657. "SAILING and Fighting Instructions for His Majesty's Fleet." Printed, with copious MS. alterations and additions, signed by Adm. Hugh Pigot and dated "on board H.M.S. Formidable in Carlisle Bay Barbadoes the 16th Dec<sup>r</sup> 1782" (during his service as Commander-in-Chief in the West Indies, where he had succeeded Adm. Rodney in the previous July). They were addressed originally to Capt. [Anthony] Parry, of H.M.S. Yarmouth, afterwards to Capt. [Edward] Herbert. H.M.S. Yarmouth was built in 1754 and after its service in the West Indies was in 1795 a Receiving-Ship at Plymouth. Capt. Herbert, appointed Captain 5 Jan. 1783, was in command of H.M.S. Experiment in the West Indies. The flags described in the Instructions are coloured by hand in the margin. The contents are divided as follows:—(1) Signals to be observed at an anchor, in weighing anchor, in sailing, and anchoring in the day-time. f. 4;—(2) Distinguishing lights for the flags. f. 6 b;—(3) Signals to be observed at an anchor, (etc.), in the night-time. f. 7;—(4) Instructions for sailing in a fog. f. 9;—(5) Instructions "to be observed by younger captains to the elder." f. 10;—(6) Signals for calling the flag-officers and other officers on board the Admiral. f. 10 b;—(7) Instructions to be observed by all masters, pilots, ketches, hoys and smacks, attending the fleet. f. 12;—(8) Fighting instructions. f. 13;—(9) Encouragement for the captains and companies of fire-ships, small frigates and ketches. f. 16 b;—(10) Instructions for the fire-ships. f. 17 b;—(11) Additional signals, to be added to the xvth article of the sailing instructions by day, and observed as the other signals. f. 19. Of these series no. 8 (ff. 13–16) is printed by J. S. Corbett, Signals and Instructions, 1776–1794 (Navy Records Society, vol. xxxv, 1908[9]), pp. 262–280, from a copy with similar but not identical MS. additions in the Library of U.S. Navy Department, Washington. The editor says that they are "the final form of the old General Instructions dating from the end of the seventeenth century"; and discusses how far they are to be attributed to Rodney, Pigot or Hood. With the Instructions in general cf. also Add. MS. 37653, "Signals and Instructions in Addition to the General Printed Sailing and Fighting Instructions," 1779. Paper; ff. 19. Folio. xviii cent. The cover bears the name of [H.M.S.] Yarmouth (f. 2).

38658, 38659. JEAN FROISSART, Chroniques de France et D'Angleterre, livre premier (ending in 1379), in four parts. Two volumes, containing parts i, ii, and iii, iv, respectively. The text agrees with the classification "seconde rédaction, première série" of Baron Kervyn de Lettenhove, Oeuvres de Froissart, Brussels, 1873 (see Introduction, vol. i, pt. iii, and especially p. 220, § 2). This MS. bears a close resemblance to one in the Library of the Duke of Newcastle, Clumber Park, described by Lettenhove, op. cit. pp. 225-227; the subjects of the miniatures appear to be almost identical, and the text (38659, f. 36, col. ii, line 34) contains the interpolation relating to the death of Marcel, described by Lettenhove on p. 226. Beg. "Affin que honnourables auenues et nobles auentures . . . soyent noblement registrees." Ends "sur lenclos de Coustentin." Vellum; ff. ii + 165; i + 222. 15 in. × 11 $\frac{5}{8}$  in. Early xv cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (except in Vol. I last<sup>5</sup>, and in Vol. II xii<sup>10</sup>, last<sup>4</sup>), with catchwords. Sec. fol. "a qui je vueil deuoir amour." The shield of arms of the Roubaix family, erm., a chief gu., occurs in initial letters below many of the miniatures—Vol. I, ff. 1, 23 b, 36, 60, 73; Vol. II, ff. 1, 170, 222. In a contemporary hand, Vol. II, f. 222 b, "Roubaix, au S[eigneu]r." The book was doubtless written for Jean de Roubaix, Lord of Roubaix and Herzelles, Knight of the Golden Fleece, and chief chamberlain to the Duke of Burgundy and Brabant; he died 7 June, 1449. (See Th. Leuridan, Histoire de Roubaix, Première Partie, i, pp. 107-109; Deuxième Partie, iii, pp. 89-131, 361-363.) The miniatures are of commonplace French work. Directions for the illuminator remain on some of the lower margins, e.g. 38659, f. 170, "soit faite une bataille de gens darmes de (?) ij (?) grans (?) hommes abatus aterre (?) entre les autres." The subjects are: —

38660. EXTRACTS (with slight verbal changes) from pt. ii of the dialogue called "Muretus" or "De ratione scribendae Historiae" in the Prolusiones Academicæ (1st ed. 1617), Famianus Strada, S. J., historian and rhetorician, illustrating, by the story of Arnalda at the capture of Nicosia, the historical, oratorical, and poetical methods of treating a theme. At the end (f. 13) follows the note:—"Huius Virginis Cypriæ laudationem triplici expressam stylo atque ore bilingui dictam, ut ait author in quadam præfatione sua sub persona Bencii, quem ut Dialogus fert, cum Mureto disserentem induxit de Historia, pater Famianus habuit, atque ipse est author." Bound with it are a printed copy of the same with the title "Arnalda sive Captiva Victrix," ed. by C. Delaval Cobham, 1910, and a few pages on the same subject from La Galerie des Femmes Fortes, entitled "La Captive Victorieuse," by Pierre Le Moyne, S. J.

Paper; ff. i + 21. Octavo. Early xvii cent. Presented by Claude Delaval Cobham, Esq.

38661. MISCELLANEOUS Papers, letters, etc. of the family of Chadwick, relating to their manor and advowson of Mavesyn Rideware, co. Staff., as well as to their lands in Spotland, Hundersfield, etc., in Rochdale, co. Lanc.; 1462-1773. Cf. also Add. Ch. 57824-58263. Paper; ff. 72. Folio.

38662. GUY OF WARWICK: the French chanson, in 12,762 lines of octosyllabic verse. For a discussion of the romance in its various forms, with descriptions of two imperfect copies of the chanson in Harley MS. 3775 and Royal MS. 8 F. ix, see H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, i, 1883, pp. 471 sqq.; and for an account of the present MS., with extracts and facsimile, and with a list of the extant MSS. (to which may be added a fragment in York Minster MS. xvi, I, 7, see T. A. Jenkins in Modern Philology, vol. vii, 1909-1910, p. 593), see Romania, xxxv, 1906, pp. 68-81. Beg. "Pvis cel tens que deu fu ned." The story of Guy ends (f. 72 b) "Ke en sa glorie puissum uenir. amen." The sequel, of which Guy's son Rainbrun is the hero, beg. "Ore auez seignurs de Gui oi;" ends "Que a lui en glorie puissums uenir. amen."

Vellum; ff. iv + 80. 9 in. x 6 in. Middle of XIII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves, with catchwords (mostly cut away) and signatures (i<sup>us</sup>-x<sup>us</sup>) on the last page of each quire. Double columns of 40 lines. Sec. fol. "Palefreiz." Large ornamental initial in red, white, blue, and green at the beginning, flourished initials in blue and red, or red and green, throughout. Belonged to Sir Henry Hope Edwardes, Bart. (bookplate of arms; Christie's sale-cat. 20-23 May, 1901, lot. 565), and George Dunn, of Woolley Hall, near Maidenhead (two bookplates, one heraldic in gold and white; Sotheby's sale-cat., 11-14 Feb. 1913, lot 506). The pencilled number (3) at the top of f. 1 seems to indicate that it was formerly the third article in a volume of which artt. 4 and 6 are now Add. MSS. 38662, 38664, and artt. 5 and 7 (Edwardes sale, lots 99, 404, Histoire de Charlemagne and Vie de Ste. Catherine) are now in the library of Mr. F. W. Bourdillon: see Romania, xxxv, p. 71, xxxvi, pp. 87-91.

38663. LA CHANCUN DE WILLAME: a chanson de geste of the cycle of Guillaume d'Orange ("Willame al curbnies le marchis"), narrating the invasion of France by the Saracen king Deramed and the great battle at Larchamp, in which the Saracens were at first victorious, putting Tedbald of Bourges and his nephew Esturmi to flight and killing Willame's nephew Vivien, but were ultimately vanquished with great slaughter by the French under Willame, largely through the valorous deeds of the scullion Reneward with his "tinel" (cudgel); concluding with the baptism of Reneward, who turns out to be the son of Deramed, shipwrecked and sold as a slave to King Louis. In 3,554 lines, mostly decasyllabic, in assonant tirades of varying length, with a refrain at irregular intervals, consisting of two assonant lines of unequal length, the second decasyllabic, the first usually "Lunsdi al vespre," seven times "Joesdi al vespre," twice "Lores fu meeresdi."

In substance this chanson agrees in the main with the Covenans

Vivien and Bataille d'Aliscans, extant in Royal MS. 20 D. xi (see H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, i, p. 644) and other MSS.; but it evidently represents an earlier stage in the development of the story. It is only known to exist in the present MS., the text of which (with the accidental omission of l. 544) was printed privately [by G. Dunn, the then owner] at the Chiswick Press, 1903 (for critical notices see P. Meyer in Romania, xxxii, p. 597, R. Weeks in Modern Philology, ii, pp. 1, 231, and Romania, xxxiv, p. 240, H. Suchier in Zeitschrift für Romanische Philologie, xxix, p. 641, etc.). Suchier regarded it as composed of two distinct works, ll. 1-1980 (which he called La Chançon de Guillelme, and edited in 1911 as vol. viii of his Bibliotheca Normannica) and 1981-3554 (which he called the "Chançon de Rainoart"). The literature of the subject is already very extensive, e.g. see T. E. Hamilton, The Cyclic Relations of the Chanson de Willame (University of Missouri Studies, vol. ii, 1911), and J. Schuwerack, Charakteristik der Personen in der altfr. Chançon de Guillelme, 1913. Beg. "Plaist vus oir de granz batailles . et de forz esturs . . . Oimas comence la chancun de Willame." Ends "Bien vus ualui . mais plus vus eusse este aidant."

Vellum: ff. iv + 25. 9 in. × 6 in. Middle of XIII cent., in a hand closely resembling that of Add. MS. 38662, but somewhat larger. Gatherings of 8 leaves (last<sup>9</sup>). Double columns of 34 to 42 lines. Sec. fol. "Dist uiuien." Large ornamental initial in red, white, blue, and green at the beginning; flourished initials in blue and red, or red and green, throughout. Pencilled number (4) on f. 1 (cf. 38662). Edwardes sale, lot 566, Dunn sale, lot 436; bookplates as in 38662.

38664. CONTES DÉVOTS in verse, viz. :—

1. Life of St. Margaret, in 85 monorhymed quatrains, the first three and last three of which are printed from this, the only known MS. of this version (cf. Hist. Litt. de la France, xxxiii, p. 362), in Romania, xxxii, p. 396. Beg. "A la deu loenge e a la sue gloire." Ends "Ov lun deit deu e la uirgine servir. Amen." f. 1.
2. Gracial: twenty-two miracles of the Virgin, in octosyllabic rhymed couplets, translated by Guillaume al. Adgar from a Latin "essamplaire" in the library of St. Paul's Cathedral, and dedicated to Dame Mahaut. Nos. 10-22, with the passage naming the author and mentioning the Latin original, are also in Egerton MS. 612, in the collection which he dedicated to his friend Gregory (see H. L. D. Ward, Cat. of Romances, ii, 1893, pp. 708-717; Adgar's Marien-legenden, ed. C. Neuhaus, 1886), and which when complete doubtless included nos. 1-9 as well. Another copy of the dedication to Dame Mahaut is in a Dulwich MS., in connexion with two tales not contained in the present MS., though included in Egerton 612 (see Neuhaus, Das Dulwich'er Adgar-Fragment, Aschersleben, [1887]). The tales common to this MS. and to Egerton 612 are differently arranged in the two MSS. (nos. 10–22 = Eg. nos. 1–6, 40, 37, 34, 30, 15, 16, 22), neither of which perhaps represents Adgar's own arrangement exactly; and the text, while identical for the most part, is sometimes considerably shorter here, especially in nos. 15–19, 22. For a description of the MS., with facsimile and extracts, including the full text of the dedication and nos. 1–9, 14, see Romania, xxxii, pp. 394–415. The dedication beg. "Mot fet bien ki sun sens despent." The tales beg. "En Tulette la grant cite," and end "Que turner li puisse a pleisir amen." f. 3.

Vellum; ff. iv + 16. 9 in. × 6 in. Middle of XIII cent., in two hands, the change occurring at f. 3, top of col. 2 (beg. of art. 2). Gatherings of 8 leaves. Ff. 1–8 in double columns, ff. 9–16 in triple, 34 to 43 lines to a column. Sec. fol. "Quant en." Initials in red and blue, sometimes flourished. Pencilled number (6) on f. 1 (cf. Add. MS. 38662). Edwardes sale, lot 598, Dunn sale, lot 677; bookplates as in 38662.

38665. MISCELLANEOUS volume, largely in the hand of John Strecch, canon of the Augustinian Priory of Kenilworth (cf. Add. MS. 35295, which was written about 1422). Lat. Contents are:—

"Augustine pater es verus semper amicus." f. 5;—(b) "Super capud Augustini," beg. "Augustine pater numquam fueris heremita." It includes a list of minor varieties of the Heremite order. f. 5 b;—(c) Similar verses are on f. 14, and on ff. 14 b, 156 b–162 b, of a more general kind. On f. 5 one Brangwyn is mentioned as apologist of the Austin Canons. On f. 84 b is the hymn beg. "Sacerdotes mementote" (Chevalier, Repert. Hymnolog. no. 33012).
2. "Cronica cuiusdam amici veritatis in argumentum fundacionis Canonicorum Regularium ordinis Sci. Augustini," with introduction beg. "Frater quidam ordinis dicencium se heremitas Sci. 3. "Nomina prioratum Canonicorum nigrorum" in England and Wales, beg. with the diocese of Lincoln. f. 15.
4. Chronicle of general chapters of Augustinian Canons held at Northampton, Huntingdon, etc., 1325–1350. f. 19. Another and fuller copy is in Cotton MS. Vespasian D. i, ff. 41 b–70 b.

The series agrees with that of Add. MS. 18107 (see Ward, Catalogue of Romances, ii, p. 309) except that art. 60 ends with the additional couplet, Fabula declarat datque quod intus habet."

Printed in Hervieux, Fabulistes Latins, vol. ii (1884), p. 385.

8. "Ymago Mundi," in three books down to the beginning of the "Quinta etas:" printed in Migne, *Patrolog. Followed by a 4th book (f. 80) "de vaticiniis Sibille," beg. "Sibilline generaliter omnes" (cf. Vesp. B. xxv, f. 117 b and Vesp. E. iv, f. 143); printed, with a different ending, in Migne, xc, col. 1182 among the spurious works of Bede. In a hand of 12th-13th cent.
9. "Speculum Stultorum," by Nigel, also called Wireker, a monk of Christ Church, Canterbury, with introductory letter to William [Longchamp, bishop of Ely, 1189] and marginal illustrations. The text differs occasionally from that published by T. Wright, Anglo-Latin Satir. Poets, vol. i (Rolls Series), notably in ff. 127 b-130 b, beg. with "De ordine mendicancium," which are omitted in Wright, p. 95. f. 85.
10. Sermones de tempore, beg. imperf. in Lent at no. iii of the collection:—(a) Beg. imperf.;—(b) "Exurge gloria mea (etc.): Due sunt Christi";—(c) "Christus assistens (etc.): Beatus apostolus Paulus";—(d) "Letare Ierusalem: Multo prophetarum vaticinio";—(e) Ascension Day, no. xi of the collection, imperf.;—(f) Trinity Sun. beg. "Fecit Moyses (etc.): Inter cetera opera";—(g) Advent Sun. beg. "Dominus prope (etc.): Inter multa";—(h) 2nd Sun. in Adv. beg. "Scientes quod hora (etc.): Cum omne tempus." The fly-leaves (13th cent.) are from:—(a) A scholastic treatise on syntax. f. 2; (b) Extracts from Decretals, chiefly bk. v. ff. 4 185. Of the rest of the volume artt. 1 (mostly), 2, 5-7, are in the hand of Johannes MSS. 1912.

Strecch (see above), as also the note of books lent to various people (dominus Joh. Sussex, dom. Petrus de Preston, Will. Clerke de Okam), f. 168 b. On f. 55 is the colophon "Involvens pannis puerum miserere Iohannis. Strecch," and on f. 186 are the names M. Morgan and Robt. Walker de Belton, 16th cent. Contemporary binding of kid over oak boards. Belonged to the Cope family of Bramshill (cf. Hist. MSS. Comm. 3rd Rep. App. p. 242; sale-cat. of Sir Anthony Cope, Bart., 4 Mar. 1913, lot 58).

38666. POEM ON CHURCH FESTIVALS, intended (see prologue, f. 5) as a Life of Christ; written in alternat rhyme, arranged mostly in quatrains.

Beg. "Thesu pat born was of a may
In amendement of mankynde

The deuelus bond to vnbynde."

And we shulle perce hit as did he
Of oure lyfe be clene & clere
And with hym in pat blisse be."

Colophon, "Nunc scripsi al this: Pro Christo da michi my seruys." The poem falls into the following sections:—(1) Prologue. f. 5;—(2) The Incarnation and Birth of Christ (beg. "We reden of two and fourty zere | Of Ottoman þe Emperoure"). f. 5 b;—(3) The Circumcision. f. 25 b;—(4) Epiphany. f. 31;—(5) The Purification of the Virgin. f. 42;—(6) The Holy Innocents and Herod. f. 60;—(7) Septuagesima. f. 69;—(8) Sexagesima. f. 73;—(9) Quinquagesima. f. 76 b;—(10) Quadregesima. f. 81 b;—(11) The Emberfasts. f. 87 b;—(12) A section entitled "De diuersis datis" in Harley MS. 2250 (see below) and dealing with Tiberius, Ovid, and the Temptation, Cleansing of the Temple and other incidents in the life of Christ. f. 94 b;—(13) The Passion, and the stories of Pilate and Judas Iscariot. f. 99 b;—(14) The Resurrection. f. 130 b;—(15) The Greater and the Lesser Litanies. f. 149;—(16) The Ascension. f. 158 b. Other copies of the poem with dialectal differences occur in Harley MSS. 3909 and 2250 (see Ward, Cat. of Romances, ii, pp. 690, 738, and C. Horstmann, Altengl. Legenden, Paderborn, 1875, p. xxxviii), but all the MSS. are more or less defective. The present MS. alone contains the prologue. Nearly the whole of the work has been adapted from the Legenda Aurea of Jacobus de Voragine. In one or two passages, however, independent sources appear to have been used, e.g. Petrus Comestor's Historia Scholastica on f. 5 b, Martinus Polonus on f. 94 b, and Gregory the Great, Homily xvi—on Quadregesima, on f. 96 b.

Vellum; ff. 178. 9 in.  $\times$  5 $\frac{3}{4}$  in. xv cent. Gatherings (beg. f. 5) of 12 leaves (last<sup>1</sup>?). On f. 174, one of the fly-leaves, there is a short poem (7  $\times$  8 lines) giving a conversation between a clerk and a husbandman on love and woman, beg. "As I cowth walke be cause of recreacion"; with the alternate refrains "Quia amore langueo" and "Turn vp hyr halter and let hyr goe." For religious poems with the former refrain, see Political, Religious and Love Poems, edited by F. J. Furnivall (Early Eng. Text Soc., no. 15), p. 177; see also Add. MS. 37049, f. 25 b and Harley MS. 1706, f. 9 b. The fly-leaves, of which ff. 1, 2 and 178 were fastened down on the original covers, have been taken from two other MSS., of which one (see f. 4) belonged to Durham Cathedral, and the other (see f. 178 b) to Merton College, Oxford. In the inscription on f. 4 "Liber Sancti Cuthberti Dunelmi; in quo continentur iii libri Prosperi de vita contemplatiua et actiua," the note of ownership is of the 13th, the rest of the 14th cent. At the foot of f. 178 b, which in addition to a 15th cent. note of ownership by Merton College, has accounts of the weight and cost of the bells of St. Bride's Major, dioc. Llandaff, and of Merton College, there are two notes "32 quaterniones et dimidium sunt in hoc libro preter psalterium et kalendarium" and "24 quaterniones et ii folia sunt in hoc libro preter psalterium et kalendarium." After the account of the Merton College bells, but in a different hand, is written "Empte fuerunt campane prescripte anno domini m<sup>c</sup>cccc<sup>mo</sup>xxviii<sup>o</sup>." Various scribblings occur, including "Iste liber pertinet ad Ihoannem Balye" (f. 3), "Iste liber constat Stephanus Stanley" (f. 3 b), "Pray ffor y<sup>e</sup> sole of Thomas Smyth" (f. 176), "thys boke ys Thome Choche [?]" on f. 176 b, and "my lady Da... dozter (?) to Sir Rychard Payne" on f. 178. Belonged to Sir Anthony Cope, Bart., of Bramshill Park, co. Southt., described in Historical Manuscripts Commission, App. to 3rd Report, p. 243 (Sotheby's sale-cat., 4 Mar. 1913, lot 117).

- 38667. CAPITULARE Salinariorum Maris Venetiae; oath and statutes of the salt officers of Venice. The salt trade was one of the principal sources of wealth in Venice, imported salt being known as "sal maris," Venetian salt as "sal Clugiae." The original form of the Capitulare (ff. 1-21 b) includes statutes dated 1279-1348, and additions, written in various cursive hands, bring it down to 1373. Some of the later entries (ff. 24 b, 25 b) are records of appointments under the salt office. By a decree dated 6 May, 1371, the office was amalgamated with that of the three "officiales de super Rivo Alto," whose number was increased to four (f. 25). At the end, f. 25 b, is a note, dated 19 Feb. 1376, by Johannes Vido, notary, cancelling the book after the contents had been remodelled and transferred to a new volume. Capitularies of the salt office are preserved in the Royal Archives at Venice (see R. Predelli, Il. R. Archivio Generale di Venezia, p. 440) and in the Library of St. Mark's (see G. Valentinelli, Bibliotheca Manuscripta ad S. Marci Venetiarum, iii, p. 119). For accounts of the salt trade and salt office see V. Sandi, Principi di Storia Civile di Venezia al 1700, pt. i, vol. ii, p. 776, C. A. Marin, Storia del Commercio de' Veneziani, v, p. 42, and G. Cappelletti, Storia di Venezia, iii, p. 69.

Vellum; ff. vii + 25. 9½ in. × 7½ in. A.D. 1348-1376. Gatherings, including the fly-leaves, i, ii², iii, iv⁸, v, vi, vii⁴. Original binding (rebacked), of wooden boards covered with leather; five metal bosses on either cover; two straps with metal ends pierced to fasten on to two pins.

38670. "GESTA ROMANORUM PONTIFICUM, memoria digna, quę in cronicis communibus non habentur, a Leone IX, anno 1050 [sic], usque ad Nicolaum V<sup>m</sup>." Contents :—

1. Lives of the Popes from Leo IX [enthroned Feb. 1049] to Alexander III, omitting Victor II, Benedict X, Victor III and Urban II. With a colophon (f. 152), "Expliciunt Hugonis Imolensis gesta a Pontificatu Leonis IX, qui cepit anno Domini 1050, usque ad annum prope xx<sup>m</sup> Pontificatus Alexandri Papę 3<sup>a</sup>, 1180 ; qui Hugo tunc temporis Prothonotariatus Apostolicę Sedis officium gerebat." Extracts from these lives are quoted by Baronius ; cf. Annales Ecclesiastici, tom. xvii, p. 112, with MS. f. 5, p. 355 with MS. f. 13, etc. They were known to him as a collection made by Niccolo Roselli, Cardinal of Aragon (d. 1362), a MS. of which he found in the Vatican Library. The lives are printed in Muratori, Rerum Italicarum Scriptores, tom. iii, pt. i, pp. 277-475 passim, from a MS. in the Este Library, after collation with two other MSS. in Milan (see Prolegomena, ib. p. 274). In the present MS. however there is a passage, ff. 18-19 b "In Calcedonensi . . . . prosequamur," which is lacking in Muratori, p. 307, while on the other hand there is a lacuna at f. 94 (after habebatur, l. 13) as compared with Muratori, p. 454. The colophon does not occur in the other MSS., and the author named in it, Hugo Imolensis, does not seem to be known otherwise. f. 2.
2. "De Gregorio Papa nono qui cepit regnare anno Mccxxii [sic] in vigilia sancti Benedicti, et sedit fere 15 annos" : life of Gregory IX [1227-1241] also printed by Muratori, op. cit. pp. 575-587, from the Este MS. of Roselli's collection, which, like the present MS., omits the Popes who come between Alexander III and Gregory IX. There are however considerable divergencies between the two texts. There are also lacunas on MS. f. 153, after ordinatur, l. 6 (Muratori, p. 575), on MS. f. 172 b, after applicuit, l. 10 (Muratori, p. 583, col. ii, l. 27—the MS. resumes at p. 586, col. i, l. 15) and at the end, MS. f. 174 b, after creauerunt (Muratori, p. 586). Colophon, f. 174 b, "Ex Bibliotheca Ricardi Salzburgensis Protonotarii Apostolici." f. 152 b.
3. Jannotti Manetti Florentini, De vita ac moribus Nicolai V [1447-1455]. In three books with a preface. Printed by Muratori, op. cit. tom. iii, pt. ii, cols. 907-960, from a Florence MS. f. 180 b-185, "Hecuba Priami . . . diuinitusque prosequitur," are omitted by Muratori as a "farrago de veterum somniis, si non insulsa, inanis saltem, et loco inopportuna" (footnote, op. cit. col. 911). f. 175 b.

Paper; ff. ii + 260. Folio. xvii cent., in an Italian hand. Belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford, and is entered in the Catalogue of his MSS. (Add. MS. 8220, f. 13) as being No. 427 (cf. no. on cover) in the Mattei Catalogue. It is not among the 212 Guilford MSS. "ex Bibliotheca Mattei" of which Sir Thomas Phillipps printed a list, Brit. Mus. press-mark, Tab. 436 b. 12 (5). Guilford sale-cat., 8 Dec. 1830, part of lot 91, purchased by the bookseller Thomas Thorpe. Lot 125 in Puttick and Simpson's sale-cat., 27 Mar. 1913.

38671. TEN LETTERS of Jonathan Swift to members of the Rochfort family, etc., 1711-1737, with tripos verses and other jeux d'esprit, 17th-18th cent. Contents:—

1. Letters of Swift to Thomas Staunton (ff. 1, 4, 6), Mrs. Rochfort, wife of Robert Rochfort (f. 2), Robert Percival (ff. 8, 10), and John Rochfort (ff. 12-16). For Swift's relations with the Rochforts see Dict. Nat. Biog. sub Rochfort, Robert. Thomas Staunton was a relation by marriage of the Rochforts. The first letter in the collection describes an interesting interview between Swift and Henry Temple, afterwards Viscount Palmerston, to whom Swift recommended the unnamed addressee for employment. Swift had recommended Thomas Staunton to Palmerston (cf. Correspondence, ed. Elrington Ball, iii. p. 298), and Staunton's dismissal was one of the grounds of the quarrel between the two. The letter was, therefore, in all probability addressed to Thomas Staunton. One only of the letters has been printed, the second to Percival (f. 10), see Correspondence, iv. p. 118. At the end (f. 18) are some notes, not in Swift's hand, relating to his glebe at Laracor, etc. f. 1.
2. Tripos verses and other satirical compositions, in a hand of the late 17th cent., composed in Trinity College, Dublin, probably between 1679 and 1688, a period covering Swift's residence there. For Triposes at Trinity College in this period see J. Barrett, Essay on the Earlier Part of the Life of Swift, 1808, where a Tripos attributed to John Jones, a contemporary of Swift, is printed, and the assertion made (without sufficient proof) that Swift was the real author. The pieces are: (a) A Tripos in three Acts in prose and verse, very closely resembling the one printed by Barrett. A reference to Monmouth's rebellion ("audivi, mi frater, te Angliam aditum esse ad debellandum Monmouth," f. 25 b) shows that it was composed in 1685. Lat. and Engl. f. 19;—(b) Tripos in two cantos of Hudibrastic verse, with prologue, headed "The prologue

- to Mr. Bradeis Tripus," beg. "To long ungratfull wee with dint of scorne." Tripus beg. "This Canto treats of errant knight." The author was probably the student Bredy, an associate of Swift, expelled, 19 Sept. 1687, "for writing and publishing a scandalous libel on some ladies of quality" (Barrett, p. 10). f. 28 b ;—(c) "On Doctor Drydens coming over to be provost of Trinity Colledge," beg. "Haile Rhyming Atheist may thy passage be:" a satire on the poet, John Dryden, composed between 1686, the date of his conversion to Rome, and the Revolution of 1688. f. 31 b ;—(d) "Another satyr on the same," beg. "Escape by all the gods he never shall." f. 32 ;—(e) "A Satyr on Doctor Dryden by Mrs. Bhen," beg. "Scorning religion all thy life time past:" an attack on Dryden's change of faith, attributed to [? Aphara] Behn (d. 1689). f. 32 b ;—(f) "On Mallory's Mandamus," beg. "Now for some days had the grave brethren sat:" satirical account of a college meeting under Dr. Narcissus Marsh (Provost, 1679-1684). f. 33 ;—(g) "On the Provosts cow that was killed," beg. "Full 14 quarts of milk didst thou:" on Doctor Marsh's cow. f. 34 ;—(h) "Advice to a Tripus," beg. "Gods hand was surely in't or how cou'd they:" advice to a 'Terrae filius.' f. 34 b ;—(i) "Baxters farewell," beg. "Hence to some distant region let us goe:" attack on the fellows. f. 35 b ;—(k) "On the beautifull Deborah," beg. "'Tis mean, 'tis sordid, and 'tis low:" irregular ode, attacking Deborah, sister of Dr. Narcissus Marsh, who is often mentioned in the other pieces. f. 36 ;—(l) "Downs his Instalment," beg. "That all to love sometime must homage pay:" account of the election of Dive Downes to a fellowship under Narcissus Marsh. f. 35.
3. Miscellaneous collection of notes, burlesques and squibs:—(a) Various historical notes apparently in Robert Rochfort's hand. f. 41 ;—(b) Three burlesque letters, two addressed to John Rochfort. ff. 50-54 ;—(c) Draft of will of Robert Rochfort (d. 1727). f. 55 b ;—(d) Collection of epigrams on set subjects in Latin elegiacs. The author's name is appended to each. Various references show that they were written at Oxford (some at Christchurch), and allusions to the Treaty of Utrecht (no. 15) and the performance of Addison's Cato (no. 36) date them in 1713. f. 57 ;—(e) Imitation of Horace, Odes, ii. 16, composed circ. 1745. f. 64 ;—(f) Imitation of Horace, Sat. i. 6, dated 2 Apr. 1736, and burlesque resolutions of the Irish House of Commons, dated "Die Satani 1736." f. 67 ;—(g) Squib on the Institutionum logicarum libri tres of Franco Burgersdijck, in form of a funeral oration in Lat. f. 69 ;—(h) Satire, in English heroics, on various Dublin notabilities during the second Viceroyalty of the Earl of Dorset (1750-1755), from the point of view of a member of the Opposition, beg. "When Liffy's silver tide shall backwards run."

f. 70 b ;—(i) Three Latin epigrams, on the portrait of Daniel Jackson by [Charles] Jervas. f. 72 ;—(k) Catechism in Latin, written by George Bishop. f. 76 ;—(l) Playbill for the performance at the Theatre Royal, [Dublin], 20 Aug. 1806, of the opera 'The Cabinet,' for the benefit of [Thomas] Philipps. Printed. f. 84.

Presented by Mrs. E. Bromley.

The arrangement is under the presses distinguished by the busts of the twelve Caesars, as in Wanley, but the descriptions are fuller and the contents of the presses (e.g. Julius, Tiberius) in many cases larger. Entries under identical numbers do not always agree in the two descriptions (e.g. Julius 8–13); other charters described here are entered as missing in Wanley (e.g. Augustus A [or I] 40). Vellum; ff. ii (paper fly-leaves) + 200. 11 in.  $\times$  8 $\frac{3}{4}$  in. XII-XIII cent. Red initials. Gatherings of 8 leaves (xviii<sup>10</sup>). Double columns. Sec. fol. "Optimum." Modern French binding in red calf by P. Simier. Belonged, at any rate in the 15th cent., to the Celestine monastery of Ste. Croix d'Offémont, dioc. Soissons (ff. 1 b, 200). There is an inscription at the top of f. 200 which reads "Liber sancte crucis vallis frigide prope offemontem si quis eum abstulerit . . . ." the rest having been erased. "Liber sancte," "vallis" (and probably "si . . . abstulerit") are in a hand contemporary with the MS., but "crucis" and "frigide" seem to be later and written over erasures, while "prope offemontem" has been interpolated after "frigide" above the line. St. Croix d'Offémont was apparently founded in 1329 (Cougny, Bulletin Monumental, tom. 40, 1874, p. 287), though its canonical erection is assigned to 1405 in Beaunier and Besse, Recueil Historique des Archevêchés, etc., de France, Introduction (1906), p. 195 (Les Célestins); its suppression, together with that of the two other Celestine monasteries in the same diocese, was authorised by the Pope on 30 Sept. 1773 (R. Roussel, L'Abbaye de Villeneuve-lès-Soissons, p. 138). On f. 200 also "Jehan Drouet doit a. . . ." The MS. was acquired by Sir Tho. Phillipps, probably from Royez, bookseller at Paris; Phillipps MS. 1345 (sale-cat. May 1913, lot. 1115).

38689. MEDICAL and theological works, viz. :—

1. "Liber uite humane magistri Bernardi de Gordonio": the fourth and last "particula," called sometimes "De regimine sanitatis" and sometimes "De conservatione vitae humanae," of the longer work in four parts "De conservatione vitae humanae" begun 22 Feb. and finished 9 Nov. 1307. The whole work is found in Add. MS. 26841, ff. 1-71 b (where between partt. 1 and 2 is interpolated the tract "De crisi"), and in Sloane MSS. 217, ff. 8-105; 2481, ff. 2-86 b. In Sloane MSS. 334, ff. 218-290; 512, ff. 270-374 b, particulae 1, 2, and 4 are found as separate treatises: in 512 the third particula "De pulsibus" has been added by a later hand. The whole printed in Bernardi Gordonii Opus Lilium Medicinae Inscriptum, Lugduni, 1574, pp. 667-947. The fourth particula also occurs alone in Sloane MS. 3097, ff. 1-61, where it is followed, as here, by the Tacuinum. The resemblance between the two MSS. is so close that the present one may be copied or derived from Sloane 3097 (dated 1311); or, more probably, both are derived from a common original. This particula is printed alone as Bernhardi de Gordonio... De Conservatione Vitae Humanae, Lipsiae, 1570, where however the "quaestiones" are all collected separately at the end of the volume. For the mutual relation of the four particulae and a description of the other Museum MSS. see H. I. Bell, The Bibliography of Bernard de Gordon's 'De Cons. Vitae Humanae,' in Proc. of xviith Intern. Congr. of Medicine, section xxiii, pp. 325-337. Preface beg. "Secundum intencionem Aristotilis primo etycorum"; ends "ante tribunal iudicis ueniamus." Treatise beg. (f. 3 b) "Mulier cum approximatur ad partum"; ends "Bene autem mori uia est in uitam eternam, ad quam nos perducat Christus filius Dei uiui. Amen dicant omnia." f. 1.
2. "Tacuinum sanitatis in medicina," by "Elbulkasse Elmuthar filius Hababdim filii Buccilla medici de Baldach"; the Takwīm alsikkah of Mukhtār ibn al-Ḥasan, called Ibn Butlān. Printed as Tacuinī Sanitatis Elluchasem Elimithar Medici de Baldath, Argentorati, 1531; a German version was subsequently published under the title Schachtafelen der Gesuntheit, Strassburg, 1533. As in art. 1, the present MS. agrees closely with Sloane 3097, but the scribe has reversed the last two tables (nos. 267-273 and 274-280), having accidentally copied the second first, apparently with the nos. 267-273, which, on discovering his mistake, he corrected to 274-280, and copied nos. 267-273 on the following two pages. Another MS. is Add. 18701, ff. 50-94. Preface beg. "Tacuinum sanitatis de sex rebus....Prima est preparatio aeris,"; ends "in ultimo huius libri cum auxilio altissimi." Tables beg. "Canones quibus noscuntur nature ciborum"; end "sicut pertinet maiestati sue"; after which follows the index; after "sue" a 16th cent. hand has added some further sentences of a religious character, beginning "quia omnis sapiencia a domino deo est." f. 56.

3. Vincent of Beauvais, "Epystola de morte amici consolatoria," addressed to Louis IX of France. Printed with other minor works of the author by J. de Amerbach, Basel, 1481 (no title-page). Preface beg. "Illustrissimo domino in Christo sibi karissimo" (in the printed text and in Harley MS. 2423, f. 1, this is preceded by "Dilecto deo et hominibus"); ends "ut sufferatis solacii uerbum." Treatise beg. "In primis igitur aduertere debet illa"; ends "Bene ac diu ualeat in nobis modestia regie maiestatis. Amen." f. 105. Vellum; ff. ii + 139. 11½ in. × 8 in. xiv cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (viii<sup>10</sup>, xiii<sup>6</sup> last <sup>3</sup>). A few illuminated initials, others flourished in blue and red or red and black. Bound in green morocco with gilt-stamped border. Belonged, like Burney MSS. 300, 301, and Add. MS. 12029, to the Celestines [Priory of St. Antoine] of Amiens, as is shown by the 15th cent. inscription at the end (f. 139): "Iste liber est de monasterio fratrum Celestinorum de Ambianis, donatus quondam per venerabiles viros domini nostri Regis consiliarios magistros Hugonem et Johannem de Allyaco [for Hugues d'Ailly, canon of the Cathedral of Amiens, see L. F. Daire, Hist. de la Ville d'Amiens (1757), ii, p. 289], vna cum plurimis aliis bonis que prelibato monasterio ob salutem et remedium animarum suarum misericorditer erogauerunt." Afterwards belonged to the bookseller — Chardin of Paris, in the catalogue of whose library it was numbered 882 (Phillipps folio-catalogue, p. 9). Phillipps MS. 818 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 775).

38690. HISTORICAL documents, viz. :—

1. A complaint made to King Henry the VI by [Humphrey] the Duke of Gloucester upon [Henry Beaufort] the Cardinal [Bishop] of Winchester, Jan.-Feb. 1440. Beg: "Thes bene in partie the poyntes and articles." These articles, which are also directed against John Kemp, here styled only Archbishop of York (but already created a Cardinal, afterwards, 1452, Archbishop of Canterbury), were laid before the Parliament that sat at Reading from 14 Jan. to 14 Feb. (see Cotton MS. Vitellius A. xvi, f. 102, printed by C. L. Kingsford, Chronicles of London, p. 153). For the question of the month see notes in Sir J. H.

- Ramsay's Lancaster and York, ii, p. 24, and R. Pauli, Geschichte von England (cont. of Lappenberg), v, p. 269; see also for this and the two following entries K. H. Vickers, Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, pp. 260-267. Printed from Ashmole MS. 856 by J. Stevenson, Wars of the English in France during the reign of Henry VI (Rolls Series, no. 22), ii, p. 440; printed also, but with some change in the order of the articles, in Arnold's Chronicle (ed. 1811), p. 279, and in Hall's Chronicle (ed. 1809), p. 197. On f. i (a list of the beginnings of the various articles in the hand of Tho. Martin of Palgrave, who d. 1771) there is a note, repeated on f. 4 at the end of the present article, of an imperfect printed copy in the "London Chronicle." This refers to the second edition (1521?) of Richard Arnold's Chronicle, where, however, the version is complete (as in the later edition), the only omission of any note being the brief reference to Beaufort's nephew Swynford. f. 1.
2. Articles of advice and opinion of Humphrey, Duke of Gloucester, against the deliverance of Charles, Duke of Orleans (taken prisoner at Agincourt, 1415, released in 1440); 1440. Beg. "For asmuche as it liked my lord to committe certeyne lordes." Entered on the Patent Rolls, 2 June, 18 Hen. VI (Calendar of Patent Rolls, Henry VI, iii, p. 430). Printed in Rymer, Foedera (Hague ed.), tom. v, pt. i, p. 76; summarised in J. Speed, History of Great Britain (ed. 1650), p. 672. f. 4.
  3. Declaration [by the Lords of the Council] of the causes that moved King Henry VI to the deliverance of the Duke of Orleans; 1440. Beg. "For as moche as it commen to p<sup>e</sup> kyngez knowlege." Printed from the Ashmole MS. by Stevenson, op. cit., ii, p. 451. f. 6.
  4. "A fulle lementable Cronicle of p<sup>e</sup> dep<sup>e</sup> and fals murdre of Jamez Steward last kinge of Scottes [James I of Scotland, murdered 1437] nought long a goone prisonner in Englonde, p<sup>e</sup> tyme of Kinge Harri p<sup>e</sup> fifte and Harri p<sup>e</sup> sixte"; circ. 1440. Text beg. "Robert p<sup>e</sup> king of Scottes had twoo soonnez." There is another copy in Add. MS. 5467, f. 72 b, with a colophon on f. 84 b, stating that it was translated out of Latin by John Shirley (d. 1456), and the same MS. contains another work translated by Shirley in 1440 (f. 97). Printed by J. Pinkerton, History of Scotland, i, p. 462, separately at Glasgow in 1818, again by the Maitland Club in 1837—but in each case from Add. MS. 5467, from which a leaf had been torn out. f. 9.
  5. "The answeris of Richard Plantaginet callyd commonly Duc of Yorke etc. to certeyne reassones and coloures allegid as it is saide ayeinst pe maner of his right and title etc." [to the crown]; Oct. 1460. Text beg. "Fyrst where it is saide that it is pought." Printed in the Rolls of Parliament, v, p. 377. Other copies in Cotton MS. Titus E vi, f. 381, Harley MSS. 727, f. 350, 7075, f. 668 b, and Stowe MS. 353, f. 353 b (all copies of Parliament Rolls). f. 16.

6. Agreement between King Henry VI and Richard, Duke of York, whereby the Duke of York is declared heir to the crown; Oct. 1460. Beg. "Blissed be Jhesu in whos hande and bounte." Printed in the Rolls of Parliament, v, p. 378. Other copies in Cotton MS. Tiberius E. viii, f. 214 b, Hargrave MS. 335, f. 287 (both imperfect), and in the copies of the Rolls (see above, art. 5). In the present MS. the text is preceded (cf. Tib. E. viii) by a copy of the writ in Latin to the sheriffs for its proclamation, and at the end, after the formula (Pr.) of the Commons' assent to the agreement, there is the attesting clause with the date, 8 Nov. 1460. The MS. having been originally put up in the form of a roll, the writ was transcribed in duplicate on a small slip (f. 17) in order to give room for the sewing together of the sheets. f. 18.

Paper; ff. i + 18. 17 in.  $\times$  11 $\frac{3}{4}$  in. Originally (excluding f. i, see art. 1 above) a roll 22 ft. 5 in. in length. xv cent. Artt. 5 and 6 are in a different hand; the last is written on both sides of the sheet. Belonged to Tho. Martin of Palgrave; lot 596 in the sale (1866) of the MSS. of Sir John Fenn, editor of the Paston Letters (d. 1794). Phillipps MS. 26503 (sale-cat., May, 1913, lot 804).

- 38691. "THE COMPENDION HISTORIAL": translation by Thomas Wall, Windsor Herald [afterwards Garter King of Arms, d. 1536], of the Compendium Romanorum, a French compilation extant (anonymously) in a Paris MS. (Bibl. Nat., fonds fr. 730, formerly 7163, see Paulin Paris, Les MSS. fr. de la Bibl. du Roi, v, p. 429) which has a note 'ex camera compotorum Blesensis,' and is conjectured from the arms to have belonged to the poet Charles, Duke of Orleans. It is an amorphous work in two books, not confined to Roman history and by no means chronological in its arrangement, its purpose being explained (f. 6 b) in "The prologue of hym which made the booke in Frenche." In this prologue, which does not appear to be contained in the Paris MS., the compiler states that having in another book of his given an abridgement of three decades of Livy and the First Punic War he now proposes to collect and explain the historical allusions in St. Augustine's De Civitate Dei and in the additions made thereto by the translator Raoul de Presles. The allusion to a previous work renders it probable that the compiler was Jehan Mansel, whose Fleur des Histoires (Royal MSS. 16 F. vi, vii) begins with a paraphrase of Livy and of Leonardo Bruni on the First Punic War. Wall, who became Rouge Croix Pursuivant in 1521, was the son of another Thomas Wall, successively Lancaster Herald and Norroy King of Arms (Letters and Papers, Henry VIII, i, no. 3986) and the translation is apparently autograph (cf. Cotton MS. Galba B. ix, f. 58). He prefixes a preface in which he states that he began the translation 4 June, and ended it 8 Sept. 1528, and adds an epilogue including a full list of the authors quoted (mostly at second hand) in the course of the work. From blank spaces left near the end it would seem that he translated from a copy the last page of which was torn. Translator's preface (f. 1) beg. "Duryng the shorte and transitorious lyffe," and is followed by table of chapters; author's preface (f. 6 b) beg. "They which desire hastely and without great studye"; and text (f. 8), "Forbycause that ther be many oppinions." Ends "to see hym face to face with sceurete of." Colophon, "Amen finis here endyth the compendion historiall." Epilogue beg. "To the laude honnour and prayse of oure sauour Jesu Crist his blyssyd mother." At f. 300 is a table of subject-headings taken from the translator's marginal analysis.

A few quotations from Latin classical authors are added in the margins (ff. 34, 34 b, etc.) and in the same 17th cent. hand are some English verses on f. 10 b, viz.

"The ould tradition left to mann
Doth give to gods the power to bann
His ill attempts, as Troys fall shows.
Yet Rome that martyred Remus knows
A way to keepe the gods in awe,
And thus there [their] powers not worth a straw."

Paper; ff. iv + 301. Folio.  $11\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$  8 in. A.D. 1528. Illuminated initial of interlaced work (gold on blue) to bk. ii (f. 205); that to bk. i is outlined only. 19th cent. binding by Lewis (see f. iii b). On f. 299 b is the note "This boke was bought by Thomas Treheyron, Somersset, for v.s. by [?] of an upholster in London the x day of Februarii anno r.r. H. oct. vicesimo ix" [1538]. Treheyron's name occurs also at ff. 1 b, 2, 8, 301, in the last case accompanied by arms (not his?), viz. quarterly, 1 and 4 a bird (raven?) within a bordure engrailed, 2 and 3 barry of 8, a lion rampant. Treheyron is said to have married Catherine, daughter of Sir John Writh, Garter (Noble, College of Arms, p. 126), who was aunt of Thomas Wriothesley, 1st Earl of Southampton (cr. 1547), to whose wife the MS. afterwards belonged. Her signatures, both as Jane Wrythesley and Jane Southampton, occur (ff. 1 b, 2 b, 9 b, 40, 93). Scribbling of the 17th cent. includes (f. 285) the words "To his louing father Christopher Thomson" (cf. f. 234). Later the MS. belonged to Joseph Haslewood, the antiquary (d. 1833), whose bookstamp on vellum is on f. i, to Thomas Thorpe, the bookseller, and to Sir Thomas Phillipps. Phillipps MS. 8903 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 806).

- 38692. GENEALOGICAL and historical collection of Nicholas Wotton [1497–1567], the diplomatist, Dean of Canterbury and York, relating to noble or distinguished English and French families, with index in three series. Mostly autograph. A companion volume is Harley MS. 902. The sources, both oral and written, are generally stated. Of the latter, specific genealogies are occasionally mentioned, as of Mowbray, Percy, Belknap, Chabot, Boulogne, Luxemburg; more often merely the names of the owners of the books, notes, etc., lent to the author, are given. Chief of these are Fulk ap Howell, Lancaster Herald (d. 1551), the York Herald and Norroy King of Arms, and members of his own and allied families, Finch, Medley, Shelley, Grey. For the French pedigrees the books of Johannes Ferronius [Jean le Féron, advocate at Paris and author of works on heraldry] are often quoted, to which Wotton had access probably when ambassador at Paris (1546–1549). The chief literary sources are Henry of Huntingdon and the Polychronicon of Ranulf Higden. Apart from the genealogies the most important items are:—(1) Four different versions of the so-called Battle Abbey Roll of the Conqueror's companions, being the 6th, 3rd, 2nd and 7th of the list in The Battle Abbey Roll by the Duchess of Cleveland, vol. i, p. viii. ff. 86, 87 b and 167 b, 133, 135;—(2) Rolls of arms in blason: the so-called Parliamentary, First Dunstable, and Carlaverock rolls with the additional memorandum as in Greenstreet and Russell, Reference List of Rolls of Arms, p. 8, note 2. ff. 147–167;—(3) Names of those who took part in the tournaments on the entrance of Henry II into Paris, 1549. f. 73;—(4) Metrical history of Stone Priory and the connexion of the Staffords therewith (printed in Dugdale's Monasticon, vi, pt. i, p. 230). Another copy is in Add. MS. 36542, f. 138. f. 80;—(5) Metrical epitaph of Millicent Fastolf, wife of Sir John Fastolf of Caistor, co. Norf., by William Worcester, al. Botener, clerk to Sir John. f. 139;—(6) Returns of commanders, loyal adherents, men-at-arms, revenue and expenditure of the Regent John, Duke of Bedford, in France, 1422–1434. ff. 201–207. Paper; ff. i + 261. Folio. xvi cent. (after 1551). Belonged to Sir George Nayler, Garter King of Arms (d. 1831). Phillipps MS. 9020 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 1130).

- 38693. MISCELLANEOUS papers and letters, collected together apparently by Thomas Tenison, Rector of St. Martin's in the Fields, Westminster, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury, viz.:—

1. Epigrammata, in an early 17th cent. hand, selected from various authors. Lat. The names James Searle, of Hart Hall, Oxford, and Robert Fry, "at Mr. Schoolemaisters house in Winchester," occur in scribbles on ff. iii and 11b. The only James Searle recorded in Foster's Alumni Oxon. was of New College (matric. 1604). f. 1.
2. Letters from Desyderius Lignamineus, Dominican of Padua, to (a) Joannes Baptista Priuitellius; Venice, 22 Jan. 1547. f. 13;— (b) Hieronymus Mercatellus; Padua, 9 May, 1556. f. 16. Both on the subject of the alleged discovery of Cicero's tomb in Zante, with drawings of urns (f. 15), and verses (f. 18) by Alexander Mamianus and Lucas Campanius on the discovery of Cicero's ashes. Lat. Copies, probably from the printed text, Sepulchri Facies, etc. (n.d.).
3. "Narratio disceptationis habitae per Gulielmum Laud . . . cum domino Fishero Jesuita . . . etc."; a Latin translation of the preface and of a small portion of the published work (see A Relation of the Conference betweene William Lawd. . . and Mr. Fisher the Jesuite, etc., 1639, preface and pp. 1-4). f. 20.
4. Drafts of portions of Francis Bacon's 'Sylva Sylvarum' and other works. The greater part (ff. 29-36 b, 39-48 b, 50-52 b) is in the hand of Dr. William Rawley, Bacon's chaplain; two leaves (ff. 37, 38) in a second, un-identified hand, are corrected by him; while a single leaf, f. 49, containing drafts in Latin of §§ 4 and 12 under the heading "Natura Durabilis" of the "Historia Vitae et Mortis" (Works, ed. Spedding, Ellis and Heath, 1857, ii, pp. 111, 112) is apparently in the autograph of Bacon himself. The drafts are in many cases merely notes of intended experiments, the results of which are given in the published works; compare "Present Experiments with the Loadstone" (f. 29) with the "Inquisitio de Magnete" (Works, ii, p. 311). Other drafts occur almost in their finished form; compare the experiment with a lump of "Ure" (f. 30) with Sylva Sylvarum, Exp. 33 (ib. ii, p. 353) and the experiment with Aqua Fortis on the same page with Sylva Sylvarum, Exp. 790 (ib. ii, p. 596); the order of the drafts being other than that of the finished work. The account of the Chameleon (f. 31), cf. Sylva Sylvarum, Exp. 360 (ib. ii, p. 460-461), is imperfect at beginning through loss of a leaf; several other leaves in this portion are wanting. ff. 29-52b.
5. Notes on metals, in a late 17th cent. hand. Lat. and Engl. ff. 53-55.
6. Treatise (imperfect at beginning) on the election of officers of the city of London, with report of the committee appointed for examination of the state of the Chamber of London; apparently in the hand of Fabian Philipps (d. 1690). f. 56.

7. Catalogue of the MSS. of Sir James Ware, including many historical MSS. not in the printed catalogue (Dublin, 1648). With a few differences it agrees substantially with the catalogue of the Earl of Clarendon's MSS. in Catalogi Manuscriptorum Angliae, Oxon. 1697. f. 74.
8. Treatise of the "Art Spagiricke," etc. : miscellaneous alchemical and theological collections, the last portion on the back of part of a deed relating to Merton, 10 June, temp. Jas. I. f. 89.
9. Letters, original and copies, mostly to Thomas Tenison, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury ; 1671-1685. The most important writers' names are given in the Index. ff. 127-150. With the letters are:—"The Articles of the Society of Young Men of St. Martin's in the Fields and thereabouts." f. 137 ; "The conditions of Mr. Tiffen's having the office of Clerk of St. James." f. 139 ;—and some autograph notes by Tenison on the foundation of his public library in the parish of St. Martin in the Fields (dispersed in 1861). f. 147. Paper ; ff. iii + 150. Folio. xvii cent. Lot 61 in the sale of the Tenison library, 1 July, 1861 ; purchased by Boone. Phillipps MS. 15733 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 532).

38694-38713. WAR-OFFICE and other correspondence, 1660-1759, consisting chiefly of (a) Letters to William Blathwayt, Secretary-at-War 1683-1704, from officers and commanders of garrisons (the letters of Peter Shakerley, Governor of Chester, for the period of the Revolution are of interest) ;—(b) Drafts of correspondence by Blathwayt, mostly written when in attendance on the King in the Netherlands, including some by Adam Cardonnel, Secretary to Marlborough ;—(c) Miscellaneous papers, accompts, establishments, army lists, forage warrants, and contracts, relative to the English and Allied armies. The last two volumes are for the most part papers of Edward Southwell, Secretary for Ireland 1702-1730, into whose hands this correspondence passed on his marriage with Blathwayt's daughter. Southwell's papers relate chiefly but not exclusively to the army in Ireland. The names of the writers are given in the Index. Twenty volumes. Paper. Folio. Phillipps MS. 8549 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 39). For other large Blathwayt collections previously acquired see Add. MSS. 9719-9768 and 37979-37992.

38714. LETTERS AND PAPERS of William Blathwayt, Commissioner of Trade and Plantations, relating to Barbados; 18 June, 1664-10 Jan. 1706 and n. d. Included are claims made upon the revenue of the island by William [Hay, 3rd] Earl of Kinnoull (ff. 2-5) and by his Countess (ff. 27-30), by Richard [Jones, 1st] Earl of Ranelagh (ff. 10-17, 58), and by the widow of Sir George Carteret (f. 31). On f. 18 there is a copy of an Order in Council to the Governor, 10 Mar. 1675, upholding the patent granted to the African Company for the importation of "negros and other merchandises," in which trade the Spaniards were anxious to have a share (see too f. 20). On ff. 35-57 are statistics of exports of sugar, cotton, ginger, molasses, rum, and lime-juice, 1 Jan. 1681-1 July, 1683, and on ff. 102-106 is a copy of the accompt (1696-1704) of Capt. Charles Thomas, as Receiver of the Casual Revenues. Paper; ff. 111. Folio. Phillipps MS. 19701 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 231).

38715. CERTIFICATES OF PENANCE, etc., either for scandalous words or for immoral conduct, ordered by the consistory courts (a) of Westminster, 20 Mar. 1670-11 Jan. 1713. ff. 1-24;—(b) of Rochester, 17 July, 1768-16 Feb. 1772. ff. 25-43. The penances are to be performed at St. Margaret's, Westminster (ff. 1-18, 20-24), at Westminster Abbey (f. 19), at Bromley, co. Kent (f. 25), and at Lewisham, co. Kent (ff. 27-33, 38-43), in every case on a Sunday. As Zachary Pearce, Bishop of Rochester 1756-1774, was also Dean of Westminster 1756-1768, it is possible that he used the old certificates from Westminster as precedents. The returns certifying performance are signed by the minister and churchwardens of the parish. In the form of penance for slander the offender is to repair to the vestry after morning or evening prayer and sermon, and to repeat after the minister, in the presence of the person slandered, that person's friends, and the churchwardens, a confession, an expression of penitence, and sometimes a formal recantation of the slander. In the form for immoral conduct the penitent (in each case a woman) is to stand at the porch in a white sheet, with a white wand in her hand, "open-faced," with a paper of accusation on her breast, asking forgiveness of such as pass by. After the first lesson she is to be placed in the body of the church near the minister's reading-desk for the remainder of the service. After the Gospel she is to repeat after the minister a confession of her offence. In three cases (ff. 27, 34, 36) the "libel," or form of complaint upon which the order is based, accompanies it, and in one case (f. 38 b) the Bishop's order for absolution, with remains of seal. Paper; ff. 43. Folio. Phillipps MS. 19281 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 1006). The volume is said to have been one of the Cole MSS. (Phillipps folio-cat., 1837, p. 363).

38716. LETTER-BOOK of [Robert Henley, 2nd Earl of] Northington, as Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, preceded by an alphabetical register; 7 May, 1783-3 Feb. 1784. The letters are not in strict chronological order, the earliest letter being on f. 60. Copies of letters received are included, as well as of letters sent, and a few are addressed to William Windham, Chief Secretary during the earlier part of the period. The names of all correspondents are included in the Index. Paper; ff. ii + 158. Folio. Phillipps MS. 24152 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 988).

38717, 38718. COPIES of the correspondence of Sir George Macartney, K.B., later (19 July, 1776) Lord Macartney, Baron of Lissanoure, and finally Earl Macartney, as Governor of Grenada, with Lord George Germain, afterwards 1st Viscount Sackville, as Secretary of State for the Colonies. Two volumes, containing (Vol. I) Letters from Lord George Germain; 1 Feb. 1776-5 Aug. 1779;—(Vol. II) Letters from Macartney; 9 May, 1776-4 Sept. 1779. The series covers the whole period of Lord Macartney's government, ending with the surrender of the island to the French under Comte d'Estaing in July, 1779, which is described in the last letter of the correspondence (38718, f. 486). The names of all the writers will be found in the Index. Paper; ff. i + 141, ii + 488. Folio. Phillipps MSS. 13418, 13372 (sale-cat. 1913, lots 906, 903).

38719. JOURNALS of the House of Assembly of the Bahama Islands, during the governorship of [John Murray, 4th Earl of] Dunmore, in two volumes bound together:—(a) 3 Nov.-23 Dec. 1795. f. 1;—(b) 16 Feb.-19 Mar. 1796. f. 71. The accounts of the Receiver-General and Treasurer, 25 Sept. 1795, are given on ff. 69 b, 70. Each volume is certified as a true copy by Peter Edwards, Clerk of the House of Assembly (ff. 68, 90).

Paper; ff. 90. Folio. Philipps MSS. 17538, 16971 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 100). The Philipps folio-catalogue of 1837 gives the date of Philipps MS. 16971 by error as 1790 instead of 1796.

38720. JEAN LOUIS BERLANDIER, "Vocabulaires de diverses peuplades nomades des parties septentrionales du Mexique"; with interpretations in French and Spanish, etc. The following are the languages treated:—

Carancahues. ff. 4, 21.

Carisso (Nuevo Leon). ff. 23-28.

Comanche. f. 8.

Garza. f. 15.

Lipan. f. 29.

Maya (Yucatan). ff. 16, 35.

Mulato. f. 24.

Tancahues. f. 18.

Some of these are mentioned in the index to Count de la Viñaza's Bibliografía Española de lenguas indígenas de América, 1892. Besides the philological papers, there are in Spanish (a) Ethnographical notes on the Lipanes, Comanches, Tancahues, Cheraquis, Savanos, Delawares and Quicapus. f. 14;—(b) Geological notes. f. 37 b;—(c) Itineraries from Campeche to Merida, from Merida to Valladolid [Valladolid], and from Merida to Sisal. ff. 40-42.

The date of the manuscript is probably between 1826, when Berlandier became a member of the Frontier Commission of Mexico, and 1850, when the Mexican Government published his Diario de Viage de la Comision de Limites. The year 1828 is referred to, as past, on f. 23. Most of the manuscript is presumably Berlandier's autograph, but ff. 19, 20 are in that of his friend Rafael Chowell, who furnished him with much of the material for this work. Elsewhere (ff. 15, 29) Berlandier acknowledges help from the chiefs of the tribes concerned. Several pages are left blank, and it would seem that no methodical arrangement of the papers has been observed.

Paper; ff. 42. Small quarto. Middle of XIX cent. Philipps MS. 15588 (sale-cat. 1913, lot 357).

38721. NOTE-BOOK of the Rev. William Maskell, the liturgiologist, Rector of Corscombe, co. Dors. (1842), Vicar of St. Mary Church near Torquay (1847-1850), d. 1890; containing classified lists of books (about 375 volumes) in his liturgical and theological library. Holograph, inscribed at the beginning (f. 1 b) "W. Maskell. Broadleaze, Wilts. 1844." At the end (ff. 37 b-39 b) are a few notes of collations, desiderata and liturgical criteria. Cf. Maskell's Selected Centuries of Books from the library of a Priest in the diocese of Salisbury, 1843, and A Catalogue of books used in or relating to the public services of the Church of England during the XVIIth and XVIIIth centuries, 1845.

- 38725. DIARY (1840-1842), and extracts of the last letters, of Captain Arthur Conolly, murdered at Bokhara in 1842. Typewritten copies. The originals of the letters are in Add. MS. 37232 U, but the original diary was written on the leaves of an English Prayer-Book. After Conolly's death this fell into the hands of a Russian prisoner who gave it to a Russian officer, Major Victor Salatzsky, by whom it was presented in 1862 to Conolly's sister, Mrs. Macnaghten. It afterwards belonged to Col. Arthur Conolly, who desired to bequeathe it, together with a French geographical medal awarded to Capt. Conolly, to the British Museum; but it was unfortunately lost in a French railway carriage in 1909, and in spite of all efforts to find it (see Add. MS. 38795 D) it has never been recovered. A partial copy however had previously been made, and considerable extracts were printed by Sir John Kaye, Lives of Indian Officers (1889), ii, pp. 196-202. The copy is here reproduced (ff. 4-44, 58) with Salatzsky's letter to Mrs. Macnaghten prefixed, and is followed (f. 44) by extracts from the letters, and (f. 60) by a translation of the narrative of Saleh Mahomed Akhundzada concerning Conolly's death, with a note from Col. Justin Sheil, dated Teheran, 23 Nov. 1843, as to the credibility of the story.
Paper; ff. 74. Quarto. Presented by Col. E. R. Conolly.

Add. MSS. 7972-8088, 37855-37872). From 1799 to 1803 he was agent for the Cape of Good Hope (38769, ff. 469-507), and from 1811 to 1823 for Ceylon (38765,

For a collection of letters on Huskisson's death, which was the result of an accident at the opening of the Liverpool and Manchester Railway, see Add. Wright and published in 1831, together with a memoir written by E. Leves, Huskisson's private secretary (38758, ff. 258, 317), who prints many letters of which the originals are here. The present collection is a combination of two series of Huskisson papers, the first of which formerly belonged to Cecil Cowper, J.P., editor of the Academy (Sotheby's sale-cat., 28 July, 1913, lot 134). The other series (the papers of which are marked Y) was acquired privately. Thirty-seven volumes. Folio.

38805, 38806. Two NOTE-BOOKS containing copies of painters' monograms and notes on pictures, in an earlier hand.

Paper; ff. ii + 46, 96. Small quarto. Watermark 1824.

The following nos., 38807–38809, have been transferred from the Department of Printed Books, where they were received as part of the Bequest of Henry Spencer Ashbee, Esq. (d. 1900). Cf. 38826–38830.

38807. "THE BETULIAD by George Coleman, written about MDCCCX": a poem on the birch-rod, printed circ. 1871 as the Rodiad. The work is a supposititious one, not by either of the Colmans, and of later date than here stated, see Add. MS. 38829, f. 357. Paper; ff. 15. Quarto. XIX cent. Crimson morocco binding.

38808 A–C. MISCELLANEOUS PAPERS from the library of H. S. Ashbee. Three volumes. Paper.

38808 A. Spanish collections and original articles, etc., viz. :—

1. Papers of the family of Saavedra, Marquises of Moscoso, relating to estates, etc., at Lima and elsewhere in Peru; 1639–1817. Spanish. The names of the principal persons are given in the Index. f. 1.
2. Three poems in Spanish, described in a pencil note [by Ashbee] at the head of the first as "Poems by Angel Lasso de la Vega [y Argüelles] and in his handwriting." The titles are:—"A Cervantes en su Ingenioso Hidalgo. Canto." Beg. "Canto á un genio inmortal; á un genio canto." f. 66;—"A Cervantes. Oda." Beg. "En la feliz centuria." f. 74;—"Un episodio de la vida de Cervantes." Beg. "Valladolid, en Castilla." f. 77.
3. Narrative of a voyage round the world, undertaken by Ashbee in 1880. The work was evidently intended for publication, and is divided into chapters, with mottoes to each chapter, but it does not seem ever to have been published as a whole, though the two brochures entitled A Ride to Peking ([London], 1881), and The Metropolis of the Manchus (London, 1882), may have formed, or been meant to form, chapters of it. The present MS. is incomplete, ending with the chapter "Bombay to Kárlí Caves, November 28 to 29"; and something is perhaps missing between ff. 150 and 151. Hologr., except ff. 110–112. f. 87.
4. "Les Auteurs-Amateurs Anglais": a paper by Ashbee, written for the Société des Amis des Livres, and apparently intended for publication in the Society's Annuaire, in which, however, it does not seem to have appeared. Hologr. and signed, with corrections of the French by another hand. f. 214.
5. "The Game of Whist": metrical rules for whist by William Pole, F.R.S., first published in Pole's revision of Short Whist by Major A., 1865, and afterwards repeated in other works of the author. In Ashbee's hand. Beg. "If you the modern game of Whist would know." f. 226.

6. "Miscellaneous Prints of Hogarth not included in the folio volume of his works" [i.e. the edition of 1835-1837]: a list of works. Not in Ashbee's hand. f. 228.

Ff. 235. Folio.

38808 B. Autographs, evidently part of a larger collection. The autographs are mounted on sheets of cardboard, with the descriptions in German at the foot; and were formerly numbered. The following are the names (the numbers following each were those on the cards):—

1. Ernst H. —, Wien, 2 Mar. 1610 [a pencil note gives the year as 1650, but 1610 seems more probable]. (142.) The autograph is identified as "Daun östr. General," but this reading of the name seems doubtful. f. 1.
  2. Johann Georg [I], Elector of Saxony, Dresden, 28 Dec. 1650. (1[—].) f. 2.
  3. [Raimondo, Conte di] Montecuccoli, 13 May, 1658. (149.) f. 3.
  4. Johan[n] Philip[p] [von Schönborn, Elector of] Mainz [1647-1673]. (152.) f. 4.
  5. Joseph [II], Emperor, 7 Oct. 1766. (159.) f. 5.
  6. John Hancock, American patriot, Boston, 25 Oct. 1768. (158.) f. 6.
  7. Johann, Archduke [of Austria], early 19th cent. (163.) f. 7.
- Ff. i + 7. Folio. Bookplate of H. S. Ashbee, n. d.

38808 C. Private letters to Ashbee. The writers, whose names will be found in the Index, include [Louis] Octave Uzanne, Sir Richard Burton, Pascual de Gayangos, etc.

Ff. 75. Octavo.

38809. NOTES and memoranda relating to Plato, mainly in Latin but a few in Engl.; probably by John Upton (1707-1760), prebendary of Rochester, MS. notes by whom are found in several printed books in the Museum. There are many references to editions and works published in the 17th or early part of the 18th centuries; the latest seems to be the Cambridge edition of Lysias (1740). The notes consist largely of references to Plato, quotations, or parallels, in ancient or modern authors; but there is also (ff. 16 b-17 b) a list [from Bernard, Cat. MSS. Angliae] of MSS. of Plato at Cambridge; Oxford, Durham, Worcester, Westminster, Exeter Cathedral, Gresham College, Lincoln's Inn, and in the possession of Isaac Vossius and Robert Burscough, vicar of Totnes, co. Devon (d. 1709); and (ff. 18–26) collations of the Oxford MSS. Laud I. xi, now Laud Gr. 16 (Alcibiades I), and Bodl. [E. 2] 16, now Misc. Gr. 104 (Gorgias, Apologia, Timaeus).

Paper; ff. 47. Quarto. Second quarter of the xviii cent.

38810. MISCELLANEOUS treatises and notes on scholastic philosophy, as follows:—

1. A treatise, with marginal commentary, on psychology. Beg. imperfectly “Tercia potencia est formatiua”; ends “secundum essenciam est in omni parte corporis. . Sequitur Recoligo igitur quod dictum est, etc.” The complete treatise, but with considerable differences, is found in Royal MS. 8 A. xviii, ff. 49–56 b, where it is called “Tractatus de anima et eius potenciis” and beg. “Sicut dicit Damascenus, impossibile est.” It is placed by P. de Loë, “De Vita et Scriptis B. Alberti Magni” in Anal. Bolland. xxi, p. 369, among the spurious and doubtful works, and works contained in other treatises, of Albertus Magnus, and is founded on his Philosophia Pauperum, v. 2 sqq. (Opera, Parisiis, 1890–1899, tom. v, p. 508 sqq.), with which it is in many places, especially in the earlier portion, identical; but elsewhere it shows wide divergencies. f. 1.
2. “De diffinitione et diuisione philosophie”: a commentary on some other treatise. Beg. “Anima est principium et causa mouendi . . . Iste est libellus ad philosophiam introductorius”; ends “videri apud Scotum et beatum Thomam in libros sententiarum.” Colophon: “Foeliciter in finem deductus liber hic anno 1504 die Mercurii post natiuitatem intemerate virginis matris saluatoris nostri [Sept. 8], qui cum eadem benedictus in secula seculorum. Amen.” f. 4.
3. “Thomas de ente et essencia”: the commentary by Gerardus de Monte on the treatise so named of St. Thomas Aquinas. Printed in Expositiones textuales dubiorum atque . . . explanationes in libros . . . Aristotelis, etc., Colonie, 1497, but the present MS. can hardly have been copied from the printed text. Beg. “Insignis peripatetice [sc. peripatetice] veritatis interpres”; ends “ipsa lux non eclipsabilis sed lucens eternaliter. Amen.” Colophon: “Explicit sententia venerabilis viri arcium magistri ac sacre theoloy<sup>e</sup> doctoris eximij magistri Chirardi de Monte circa compendium de ente et essencia doctoris sancti fratris ordinis predicatorum Thome de Aquino.” f. 51.
4. A table showing the division of philosophy into its various branches. f. 86.
5. Notes on the nature of philosophic knowledge. Beg. “Sciendum philosophus est homo diuinarum humanarumque rerum”; ends “de anima.” f. 86 b.
6. Miscellaneous philosophical notes. ff. 87, 87 b.
7. Averroes, De substantia orbis; without title or author’s name.

This translation, made by one of the Toledo school of translators, is contained in Royal MS. 12 C. xv, ff. 251 b-254, but there lacks the last two and a half chapters. Printed in the Junta edition of the works of Aristotle, Venice, 1552, 1550, vol. ix, pp. 3-6. In the present MS. the earlier part is furnished with a marginal commentary. For list of other MSS. see J. Wood Brown, Michael Scot (Edinburgh, 1897), pp. 123, 126, to which add Magd. Coll. Oxford MS. 112, f. 241. Beg. "[I]n hoc tractatu intendimus perscrutari de rebus"; ends "Et sciendum quia hec questio est valde bona." f. 88.

8. Oration, without title or author's name, addressed apparently to a public body, probably the senate, of Breslau by a person appointed by it "palestre rei literarie certaminis . . . rectorem," on taking up the post. Reference is made to a "doctor egregius Schwofhaym ad quem totius rei literarie cura[m] refertis." This is probably Hieronymus Schwoffheim, who died 4 Apr. 1516 as scholasticus and cantor of Breslau cathedral, see Zeitschr. d. Vereins für Gesch. u. Alt. Schlesiens, xi, p. 308, note 4, xvii, p. 220. The present speech may have some reference to the abortive proposal to establish a University at Breslau in 1505, for which see F. G. A. Weiss, Chronik d. Stadt Breslau (Breslau, 1888), p. 757 sqq. Beg. "Solebant Romani illi prisce"; ends "fidem amorem et obseruanciam dixi." f. 111.
9. Notes on the De partibus philosophie essentialibus, the De differentia rethorice ethice et pollitice, and the De gradibus formarum accidentalium of Egidius Romanus (Egidio Colonna). The first does not appear, at least under this title, in lists of his works; for the other two see Joseph Pamphilus, Chron. Ord. Fratrum Eremitarum S. Aug. (Rome, 1581), fol. 43. f. 113.
10. "Proposiciones de esse et essencia clarissimi doctoris Egidii de Roma": the Theoremata de esse et essentia of Egidio Colonna. The propositions are as in the printed texts; the commentary consists of notes and extracts from that seen in C. Kacheloffen's edition [Leipzig] of 1493. Beg. "Omne esse vel est purum per se"; ends "et creatorem substancie et accidentis benedictum in secula." Colophon: "Finitur vigili studio 5 kal. Octobris 1507 salutis anno." f. 115.

Paper; ff. i + 120. Quarto. 9¼ in. × 7 in. Beginning of XVI cent.; written in Germany, perhaps at Breslau (see art. 8). Transferred from the Department of Printed Books.

- 38811. ELEVEN SONATAS and nineteen dances for viols by William Young, scored at Stockholm from the Upsala University copy of the work published at Innsbruck in 1653. At the beginning of the volume are some cuttings from the Musical News for 22 June, 1912, giving descriptions of the composer and the present work (a) by Professor C. F. Hennerberg, Court Organist and Musical Librarian to the King of Sweden, under whose supervision the present score was made;—(b) by Sir Frederick Bridge, who presented Sonata I;—and (c) by Dr. T. Lea Southgate, who presented the photographic facsimiles (ff. iii b–v) of the title-page, dedication of the volume, etc.

Paper; ff. v + 81. Quarto. A.D. 1912–1913.

38812. CODE of Day Signals, presented to [John Pitt, 2nd] Earl of Chatham, First Lord of the Admiralty, [in 1790], by John McArthur, Purser of H.M.S. Santa Margarita, [afterwards Secretary to Viscount Hood, and, in conjunction with J. S. Clarke, author of the Life of Lord Nelson]. Holograph, but apparently an early version of the Code finally presented. There is an account of the latter in Falconer's Marine Dictionary (1830), p. 474, which agrees with the MS. generally and also in extracts quoted, but differs considerably in detail. In McArthur's Thoughts on . . . a System of Universal Signals, p. 26, and in The Naval Chronicle (1799), ii, p. 70, there is also an extract from the final Code, which is more elaborate than the corresponding passage on ff. 6 b, 7. The signals in this MS. are arranged in four numerical tables on the "chess-board" system, the tables being provided with a contrivance for showing moveable flags (not inserted) painted on satin. The code was not accepted by the Admiralty. For McArthur's position in the evolution of the Signal Code, see references to his name in J. S. Corbett's Signals and Instructions, 1908 (Navy Records Soc., vol. xxxv).

Paper; ff. 80. Octavo. A.D. 1790. Small painted frontispiece on satin, f. 1. Bound in blue morocco, with anchor corner- and centre-pieces. Hodgson's sale-cat., 8 Jan. 1914, lot 477.

38813. COPIES of Ballads, chiefly in the hand of John Payne Collier. A few (ff. 1–12 b) are taken from MSS. (the first four are printed in Halliwell's Wit and Science, Shakespeare Soc., 1848), three (ff. 13–16 b) from oral sources, and the majority from printed materials of the 16th and 17th centt. Collier himself printed ff. 17–35 b in A Book of Roxburghe Ballads (1847) and ff. 39–40 in Twenty-five old Ballads (1869). "The Dutchesse of Suffolkes Calamitie" (f. 48) is printed in his edition of Strange Histories (Percy Soc., 1841), and a version of "The fetching home of May" (f. 63) under another title in his reprint (1870) of An Antidote against Melancholy, p. 26. In the transcript of "Daintie come thou to me," f. 39, the printed original of which is in the Roxburghe Collection, Collier has made various alterations, and these are mostly followed in his printed version in Twenty-five Old Ballads. Similar alterations have been made in "The Tragical History of King Lear," f. 41 (original also in the Roxburghe Collection). At f. 96 are "Notes of Ballads in . . . the Roxburghe Collection [in the British Museum]," and at f. 115 "[Notes of] Ballads in the Pepys Collection [in Magdalene College, Cambridge] (Selected from a Catalogue of vol. i by Sir F. Madden)." At the end of the volume, f. 139, are some miscellaneous extracts (not entries of books) from the Stationers' Company's Registers, relating to the last half of the 16th cent. In 1848-1849 Collier published for the Shakespeare Society two volumes of extracts from the Stationers' Registers of works entered for publication between 1557 and 1587. For another collection of Ballads made by Collier see Add. MS. 32381 (see also 32380). Paper; ff. 151. Folio. XIX cent.

38814, 38815. PAPERS, original and translated, of Sir Louis Mallet, Assistant Secretary to the Board of Trade, relating chiefly to the Anglo-Austrian Tariff Commission of 1867, on which, along with Sir R. N. D. Morier, he represented England. The contents consist of drafts, protocols, tariff-schedules, and other memoranda. The Convention was not finally signed till 1869. In 38814, f. 75, are drafts of the 1865 Treaty of Commerce, and, f. 69, of the Navigation Treaty of 1868, in both of which negotiations Mallet took part. Paper; ff. 279, 344. Folio. XIX cent.

Nos. 38816-38824 were purchased at the sale of the library of the late Mr. George Dunn of Woolley Hall, Maidenhead.

The last entry is that of Ricardus de Harpam, vicar of Burton Annays [Burton-Agnes], 1276, and is in another hand. f. 35.
7. Extracts from decrees of Benedictine provincial chapters, after 1444. f. 36 b. After this two leaves are cut out.

38819. PSALTER in Latin, of the Gallican version, preceded by a Calendar. Imperfect. The parts missing are:—Pss. i. 1-5, ix. 3-15, x. 4-xi. 7, xxxi. 8-xxxiii. 7, xxxiv. 16-xxxvi. 4, xlv. 1-xlvii. 13, lxxvii. 17-33, xci. 1-xciii. 12, ci. 11-cv. 28, cxii. 4-cxviii. 80, cxx. 4-cxxii. 2, cxlv. 10-end. The calendar was originally Augustinian, having the feast of St. Augustine and its octave in red, with indication of ix lections in the added feasts of SS. William of York (8 June, 13th cent.) and Thomas of Hereford (3 Oct., 14th cent.). About the beginning of the 15th cent. it passed into Cistercian hands, as is proved by the addition of "Commemoratio omnium personarum regular[i]um ordinis" on May 20, SS. Bernard and Robert the Abbot in red with xii lections, and other characteristic Cistercian entries. Obits of 13th cent. are Alicia de Gednee [Gedney, co. Linc. ?], 1 Jan., Sanicula, 10 Jan., Henricus Abbas de Brunne [Bourn, co. Linc.], Mar. 31, Hugh of Lincoln, 17 Nov. These suggest a Lincolnshire provenance, if not the Augustinian abbey of Bourn itself. Guthlac and Sexburga, both saints of neighbouring districts, have been added early. The original saints include Wilfrid (24 Apr., in red) and John of Beverley (7 May, green). The obit of Thomas of Lancaster [1322] on 22 Mar. is in a 14th cent. hand.

Vellum; ff. ii + 135. 7 in. × 5 in. Cropped. XII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves, for the Calendar 4 and 2. Later hands have added a few liturgical notes in the margins. Initials of the psalms in gold and colours, of the verses in blue, red or green. The initials of Pss. xxxviii, li, lii, lxviii, lxxx, xcvi, ci, cix are larger and more elaborate. Those of lxxxiv, cxvii, cxliii have been excised. There are figure-drawings in the margins on ff. 57, 61. Modern binding of half niger morocco and oak boards with clasps by Douglas Cockerell. Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 1523.

The short prologue, beg. "Presens opusculum in quinque partes diuiditur," is preceded by a table of chapters of the whole work, and a separate table precedes each part. Pt. i beg. The collection ends with the Statutum de Iudaeis (f. 38), here dated 25 July, 51 Hen. III., but in the Patent Roll 55 Hen. 7. "De officio coronatoris": differing somewhat from the text printed from Harley MS. 667 in Stat. Realm, i, p. 40, and having no mention of wreck of the sea. Beg. "In principio hec inquirenda sunt a coronatore domini regis: inprimis quod cum ipsi coronatores habuerint mandatum." f. 45 b.
8. "Acopement de mort de home": a formula including a date 13 Edw., which may be that of the scribe, who has apparently an affection for the number 13, see in art. 1 (compiled certainly before 1275) the date of the petition for election of an abbot of Malmesbury given on f. 28 as 12 Mar. 13 Edw., which cannot be right (the true date is 44 Hen. III, see Harley MS. 6957, f. 69), and again in art. 9 in forms on ff. 57 b–59 b. Beg. "Ce vus mustre W. le fuiz W." f. 46.
9. "Registre" (so catchword, no title): a form of the treatise known as Brevia Placitata, other copies of which are in Add. MS. 5762, f. 111, Harley MSS. 409, f. 97, 1120, f. 153, Egerton MS. 656, f. 165, etc. The first form of writ is dated 2 May, 1 Edw., but the date 13 Edw. also occurs, see above. The first comment beg. (f. 47 b) "[O]re fet a resortir au primer bref que plus est comun." Introduced near the end (f. 61 b) are some pleadings concerning the manor of Gainsborough between William de Valence and the Stutevilles after the death of G[erard] Talbot. Ends "En checun bref de fine fete quant ele est freint pot home counter par meime la fourme." f. 47.

10. Printed by Selden with Fortescue's De Laudibus Legum Angliæ, 1616. Beg. "[L]icet ordo placitandi in curia domini regis"; ends "peremptorie descinditur actio actoris." f. 62 b.
After art. 10 three blank leaves (completing the 7th quire) have been cut out. Artt. 1-10 are apparently in one hand (see also end of art. 27).
11. "Westmoster" (in another hand "premer"): the First Statute of Westminster, 22 Apr. 1275. French. Printed in Stat. Realm, i, p. 26. f. 74.
12. "Les estatuz nostre seignur le rey Edward de la Iurie fez a la seint Michel en lan de son regne terz" [Michaelmas, 1275]: the Statute of Jewry. Printed with many variants ib. p. 221, as of uncertain date. At the end, without fresh heading, follow the paragraphs known as Districciones Scaccarii (ib. p. 197). Printed in Latin in Foedera, i, p. 289. Followed by a French translation of Magna Carta [as confirmed in 36 Hen. III, 11 Feb. 125½, see Stat. Realm, i (charters), p. 28]. f. 85 b.
18. "La chartre de la forest": French translation of Carta de Foresta as confirmed 2 Hen. III, 6 Nov. [1217], cf. ib. p. 20. f. 88 b.

20. "Les puruances de Marleberge": French version of the Statute of Marlborough, 52 Hen. III, 18 Nov. 1267. The Latin text of one clause is given in the margin. Cf. ib. p. 19. f. 91 b.

21. 'Lestatuz de Atton Burnel': the Statute of Acton Burnell or De mercatoribus, 11 Edw. I, 12 Oct. [1283]. Printed ib. p. 53. f. 95 b.
22. "Ceo fet asauer": the common treatise known as Fet asaver. Printed by G. E. Woodbine, Four Thirteenth Century Law Tracts, Yale and Oxford, 1910. Beg. "[C]eo fet asauer que au comencement de checun ple"; ends with the writs in plea of trespass. The writs are translated into French and contain the initials of G[ilbert] de P[reston] as Chief Justice of the Common Pleas [circ. 1269–1274], and one (f. 100 b) is addressed by Edw. I to R[ichard de Gravesend, d. 1279], Bishop of Lincoln. f. 96 b.
23. "[C]es sunt les iugemenz des essoignes, e ci pot home aprendre coment home se deit contenir en plai": a French form of the treatise (sometimes attributed to Ralph de Hengham or to John de Mettingham) called Judicium Essoniorum. The text however differs very considerably from the Latin as given in Harley MS. 1120, f. 112, Royal MS. 9 A, vii, f. 112, etc. A nearer Latin text is given by Add. MS. 5762, f. 65 b, Egerton MS. 656, f. 205; cf. the text printed by Woodbine, op. cit. p. 116. From the Egerton MS. it would seem that the tract had originally the form of answers to a set of questions addressed to a judge. Beg. "En comencement de tuz plez la ou essoignes gisent"; ends "sicum les autres que cheront deuant iustices erranz ou deuant iustices du banc." f. 106.
24. "De warantizacione carte et quis tenetur warantizare": a few miscellaneous legal notes, beg. "[D]e warantizacione carte et quis tenetur warantizare et quid de iure quando vnus vel plures maiores vel minores vocantur ad warantum. Notandum diuersis modis possunt aliqui." f. 110.
On a blank space on f. 111 are added in another hand the 'Explanaciones super quibusdam articulis statuti de Gloucestre' (see art. 14), printed in Stat. Realm, i, p. 50.
25. Reports of cases (about 26), whether strictly speaking a Year-book, i.e. cases of a particular term or terms, or a collection made from various terms, does not appear. Some of the cases must be of a date between 1272 and 1277 (see f. 113 b, where the Queen of Almain [Beatrice, widow of Richard, Earl of Cornwall] is a plaintiff). A regular Year-book of this date would perhaps be the earliest yet discovered. The chief names of judges and counsel occurring are Alan of Walkingham, Gilbert de Thornton, John Giffard, John de Cave, John le Koy, Martin [of Littlebury?], R. de Boyland, Sire Elis [de Beckingham?], John de Mettingham and R[alph] de Freningham. Beg. "[N]ichole de Berkelee prist femme. apres morut Nichol sanz esperance de heir"; ends "quil certifiast la court etc. Teste magistro R. de Freningham." f. 111 b.

26. "Les reulles sein Robert," beg. "[C]i comencent les reulles que le bon cuesque de Nichole sein Robert fist a la contesse de Nichole de garder et de gouverner terres osteus. Qui les reulles voudra tenir, ben e bel del soen viure porra, e sei meimes e les soens sustenir": twenty-eight rules for the economical management of an estate. The tract is printed from Harley MS. 273, f. 81, Add. MS. 5762, f. 136, and other MSS. by Miss E. Lamond with Walter of Henley's Husbandry (1890). If the attribution is true, the rules were probably drawn for Margaret, wife of John de Lacy, 1st Earl of Lincoln, who was left a widow in 1240, her son being then about thirteen. She married Walter Marshal, Earl of Pembroke, about Jan. 1243. The first rule beg. "La primere reulle enseigne coment seigneur ou dame porra sauer en checun maner totes les terres;" the last ends "en Lindeseye en Norfoukes e en le val de Beauer e en ceu pais vos robes achatez a saint Iue." f. 118 b.
27. "La manere de pleder en Nichole": rules of the city court of Lincoln, relating chiefly to pleas of assault or debt. A defendant, if a man, has the choice of compurgation "quasi Gallicus" with two compurgators, here called "wachtesmunes" ("wahtes," "whacti"), or "quasi Anglicus" with eleven. If a woman, she must defend in the English fashion. Beg. "[I]n primis sciendum est quod placita ciuitatis"; ends "per iudicium curie abibit, similiter et conquestor, etc." f. 121 b.
- Artt. 11-27 appear to be in one hand, which is perhaps the same as that of artt. 1-10. Art. 28 may be also in the same hand, but seems to be a later addition.
28. "Kaernaruan. Ces sunt les articles purueuz de la moneye de Engleterre a Kaernaruan par nostre seingnur le rey Edward e son conseil lan de son regne douzime": the Statutum de Moneta of 12 Edw. I [29 Sept. 1284], incomplete, the first three paragraphs only. Printed in Stat. Realm, i, p. 219. f. 123 b. At the end is a note in a minute hand on dower. Art. 29 is in another hand.
29. "Noua statuta edita apud Westmonasterium ad Pascha anno regni regis Edwardi terciodecimo" (so colophon): the Second Statute of Westminster [after Easter, 1285] in French, including art. xlix, which does not occur in the Latin, see Stat. Realm, i, p. 71. f. 124. At the end, in the same minute hand as the note on f. 123 b, is copied (f. 139 b) a portion of the Statute of Winchester [13 Edw. I]. On the vellum fly-leaves are :—(a) Contemporary note of the absence of Edward I abroad for three years from Easter [really from 13 May], 17 (sic for 14) Edw. [1286] to 15 [really 12] Aug. 17 Edw. [1289]. f. 142 ;—(b) "Assisa panis" (et cervisie), in a late 13th cent. hand. Nearly as in Stat. Realm, i. p. 199. f. 142 ;—(c) Form of proxy for litigation, in a hand of the first half of the 14th cent. f. 141 b;—(d) Latin verses on the numerical values (in some cabbalistic system of the kind known as gematria?) of the letters of the alphabet. In a hand of about the same period. Another copy is in Sloane MS. 297, f. 9. Beg. "A capud est. numerum quingentos iungere debes." f. 141 b;—(e) Memoranda of farm accompts in several 14th cent. hands, relating to Glaston, co. Rutl., and the neighbourhood. ff. 142 b–143 b.

Vellum (except ff. i–vi); ff. vi + 143.  $9\frac{1}{4}$  in.  $\times$   $6\frac{1}{4}$  in. Circ. A.D. 1285. Gatherings of 12 leaves (iv<sup>10</sup>, vii<sup>3</sup>, ix<sup>16</sup>, xii<sup>8</sup>, xiii<sup>7</sup>), with catchwords. Sec. fol. "in eadem." Initials not inserted. On f. 141 is scribbled the name of an early 16th cent. owner(?) "Reynold Mohun off the comte of Cornewale esqueyer bedfellow wnto master Denssell in Lyncons Yn." This is probably a member of the Boconnoc family (see Vivian's Visitations of Cornwall, p. 324), either the Sir Reginald, of Hall, who was aged about 8 in 1517, or his uncle Reginald, 4th son of John Mohun who died in 1508. A John Densell occurs in 1514 in Letters and Papers, Hen. VIII, i. 5656, and a J. Densell as counsel in the Henry VIII Yearbooks, see Foss, Judges of England, v, p. 107. The MS. afterwards belonged to Sir Thomas Phillipps, MS. 9301 (sale-cat. 1897, lot 291). Dunn sale-cat. 1914, lot 1547.

Nichols's Progresses of Queen Elizabeth, 1805, vol. iii. Cf. for further information and a list of extant rolls two letters (ff. 81, 83) from M. C. B. Dawes to Hodgkin.

The following MSS., 38858–38864, also formed part of J. E. Hodgkin's collections, and were purchased at the second part of his sale (Sotheby's, 12–19 May, 1914).

- 38858. LA DANSE MACABRE: the shorter and earlier version of the poem, as published in 1485 and reprinted by V. Dufour, La Dance

Macabre des SS. Innocents de Paris, 1874, where it is attributed (p. 86) to Jean Charlier de Gerson, chancellor of Paris University (d. 1429). Beg. "Creature raisonnable | Qui desire vie eternelle." The text agrees in some notable points with Dufour's MS. C, and like it omits the last stanza but two. Verse iv of the address to the Carthusian (f. 6 b) and verse v of the Poor Man's speech (f. 8) have fallen out. For a detailed discussion of the Dance of Death and accounts of the different texts and editions see Massmann, Literatur der Totentänze, 1841; Langlois, Essai sur les Danses des Morts, 1851; W. Seelman, Die Totentänze des Mittelalters, in Niederdeutsches Jahrbuch, xvii, 1891.

Paper: ff. iv + 12.  $7\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$   $5\frac{1}{8}$  in. xv cent. Formed ff. 26-37 of a larger volume. The intrusion of forms like cose, cambre, checy, doucheur, points to a Northern French origin. (The similar MS. C is from Lille). On f. 1 b are verses in a 15th cent. hand on the Virgin birth: "Tout ainsy que descent en la fleur la rousee | la fache ou mirouer et en coeur la pensee | la voilx en la maison sans porte deffermee | entra le filx de dieu en la vierge honnourée." Belonged, in the 15th cent., to a Franciscan, "Chest a frere Robert Delabbaye Cordelier" (f. 12); in 16th cent. (f. 1) to P. Wyon. On ff. iii b, iv, are the following notes: "Je l'ai acheté chez Lechene en 1830, et je l'ai fait relier par Boutigny," and "acheté chez Claudin, 1870, £2 0. 0." Hodgkin's bookplate as F.S.A. (sale-cat., lot. 401).

38859. THEOLOGICAL NOTE-BOOK containing (1) "Index commentariorum Joan[nis] Bugen[hagii] Pomerani in Psalterium Davidicum," letters A-C, with paginal references to the 1524 edition of Bugenhagen's Commentary. f. 1;—(2) Biblical antitheses, 149 couples of contrasted passages. f. 6;—(3) Satirical lament on the abolition of the Mass, beg. "Oue [i.e. O vae] oue oue oue | Sitis tristes oue oue," in 57 stanzas of 3 lines with the refrain "Oue oue", followed in another hand by "Epitaphium Missae" in four elegiac couplets beg. "Preteriens hospes vacuum mirere sepulchrum" preceded by the date 1527. For the connexion between the longer poem and Roy and Barlowe's Rede me and be not Wrothe, Strasburg, 1528, see J. E. Hodgkin in Notes and Queries, 4th Ser., ix, p. 213. Among the Roman Catholic controversialists named in the poem is Hieronymus Emser, who d. in 1527. On f. 19 is the note "Resipiscentiam et conversionem horum lugentium Missam, vide infra cantilenam vulgarem," i.e. art. 5. f. 13 b;—(4) "Credo Sanctam Ecclesiam Catholicam," an expansion of this article of the Creed supported by Biblical authorities, beg. "Hanc credimus universalem"; with the colophon Απολογία πρὸς (sic) ἐπιτιμια. f. 20;—(5) Satirical poem in German (see the reference in art. 3) in 11 stanzas of 9 lines, each beg. "Ich will furhin kain pfaff mer sein. f. 23. The MS. formed part of the library of Dr. George Kloss of Frankfurt on the Main, sold in London at Sotheby's in 1835, and is one of those which Samuel Leigh Sotheby, who compiled the sale-catalogue, believed to have come from the library of Philip Melanchthon. In the present instance however Sotheby's opinion that the MS. is in Melanchthon's hand can hardly be maintained (see sale-cat. lot 4633, with facsimiles, and S. L. Sotheby's Observations upon the Handwriting of Philip Melanchthon, 1839, reissued as Unpubl. Documents, etc., 1840, pl. vi, nos. 1-7). None of the contents appears in the printed editions of the works of Melanchthon.

Paper; ff. iv + 25. 6 in. x 4 in. Circ. A.D. 1527. At f. iii is inserted a letter from Edward Arber, F.S.A., to Hodgkin touching the volume, 1872. Book-plates of George Kloss, M.D., and J. E. Hodgkin, dated 1821, (sale-cat., lot 767).

38860. "CY COMMANCE la nativité nostre sire Jhesucrist": transcript of a 15th cent. French mystery-play in octosyllabic couplets. Beg. "In principio creavit Deus celum et terram, etc. . . Benois soit il qui se tera | et fera paix pour mieulx oyr." Petit de Julleville in Histoire du Théâtre en France: Les Mystères, 1880, ii, p. 382, notices only one MS. of this play, no. 1131 (Y. f. in fol. 10) in the Library of St. Geneviève at Paris (Cat., by Kohler, 1893), from which A. Jubinal published his Mystères inédits du X<sup>e</sup> siècle, 1837. The text of the present MS. and of its immediate original (cf. note, f. 29) is considerably deranged owing to transpositions at ff. 5 b, 8 b, 11, 14, 19 b, 22, 27 b, 30 b; otherwise the text closely resembles that of Jubinal, op. cit., ii, p. i (cf. also the corrections of Jubinal's collation in J. Poewe, Sprache und Verskunst der Mystères inédits du X<sup>e</sup> siècle, 1900, p. 81). The transpositions, being of similar length and never more than one length out of place, can be easily explained by slight displacement of folios in an ancestor of the present volume. Such readings as "et a valu" (f. 29 b) and "Anastaise" (f. 35) for Jubinal's "le mien salu" and "Honestasse" as well as the omission in Jubinal of the whole line "Enfanter doit isnellement" (f. 30 b), suggest an independent authority for this MS. Colophon, "Explicit Explicit" (Jubinal, "Explicit Explicit").

Paper; ff. vi + 40. Octavo. XVIII-XIX cent. At the beginning of the book are several tracings:—f. ii from a book printed by Jean Trepperel (Paris, circ. 1538);—f. iii from "La Vendition de Joseph," printed for Pierre Sergent (Paris, circ. 1538);—f. iv (a) from a seal "Sigilum indulgenciarum hospitalis bte. m. de podio" [Puy-en-Velay]; and (b) S. The treatise (1st ed. 1750) was formerly attributed to Robert Dodsley, but is now recognised to be by Philip Dormer Stanhope, 4th Earl of Chesterfield. Only pt. i is admitted as genuine (cf. Notes and Queries, 1st ser. x, pp. 8, 74, 318).

The following memoranda occur on the fly-leaves:—Vol. I. "Given to me by Mr. Alexander Pope on my taking the Degree of B.A. June 30th 1743"; Vol. II. "Chess Score played March 26th 1746," with the names of E. Lifriss, G[ilbert] Mabbott, G[ilbert] White, and T[homas] Chapman; Vol. III. "Portrait of G. W. penned by T. Bell's memoir, in his edition of White's Selborne, 1877, vol. i, p. lviii, White would never sit for his portrait, so that these sketches are unique. They were reproduced in The Field newspaper, 6 June, 1914, p. 1213.

38881. "VITE di Pontefici, Cardinali, et altri Prencipi et huomini Illustri per santità, lettere, et arme, cavate da un manuscritto antichissimo. Tomo primo," beg. with Pope Eugenius IV and ending with Malraso Ceciliano. This collection of lives by the Florentine bookseller Vespasiano da Bisticci (1421-1498) was first published by A. Mai in Spicilegium Romanum, vol. i, 1829, although individual lives had previously appeared. The text and order of the present volume closely resemble those of the Bologna MS., on which is chiefly based the edition of L. Frati, Vite di Uomini Illustri del secolo xv, 1892, 1893, e.g. in the additional passages in the life of Gianozzo Manetti and the position of the preface following the life of Eugenius (cf. Archiv. Stor. Ital., ser. v, vol. iii, p. 208). Not infrequently the MS. has readings peculiar to itself, and occasionally supports other MSS. against B. It is not included among the MSS. noticed in Frati's introduction. The index on f. 1 has some omissions.

Paper; ff. 348. Folio. xvii cent. On the vellum back is the no. 104, perhaps the number of the MS. in the library of — Mattei (cf. Add. MS. 38670). Apparently belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1835, lot 1645), and afterwards to Sir Thomas Phillipps, MS. 11861 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 217).

- 38882. "RELAZIONE d' Inghilterra e Scozia, 1606, Scritta da un Segretario dell' Illustrissimo Signore Pietro Duodo stato ambasciatore per la Signoria di Venezia appresso il Rè Jacomo," consisting of an introduction, beg. "Sono molti i quali a lo stato," and five chapters dealing successively with Ireland, England, Scotland, the adjacent isles, and the King's affairs. Much of the last chapter appears in similar language in the relazione of Nicolò Molino, appointed joint Ambassador with Duodo in 1603 to congratulate King James on his accession and remaining Ambassador on Duodo's departure, 1 Jan. 1604 (cf. Barozzi and Berchet, Relazioni, etc., ser. iv, p. 1). Duodo's own relazione is Phillipps MS. 5302.

Paper; ff. 65. Folio. Early xvii cent. Vellum binding.

- 38883. "VITA e Pontificato di Papa Innocenzo X [1644-1655], divisa in Due Libri." Beg. "La lunghezza del Pontificato di Papa Urbano VIII," and ends abruptly with the heading "Origine del Conte Pezzola." The work is divided into two books, and the first book into two chapters. Much space is devoted to the dispute with the Barberini family. On f. 161 is an index of the chief subdivisions. Paper; ff. i + 161. Folio. xvii cent. Marked on the back xxviii. Belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (cf. sale-cat. 1830, lot 94). Thorpe's cat. 1833, no. 541. Phillipps MS. 7302 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 741).

- 38884. "RELAZIONE dell' Ambasciata straordinaria in Inghilterra al Rè Carlo Secondo, per congratulazione del ritorno al suo Regno, fatta dal Marchese Gio. Luca Durazzo, Ambasciatore della Republica di Genova, nel mese di Gennaro 1662," containing a detailed and interesting account of English affairs. Beg. "Il successo della mia Ambasciata." Divided into three parts, with index of chapter-headings, f. 2.

Paper; ff. i + 263. Octavo. xvii cent. Marked on the back xv. Belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1830, lot 148); and to Benjamin Heywood Bright (sale-cat. 1844, lot 82). Phillipps MS. 12246 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 480).

- 38885. "MÉMOIRE sur la décadence de la Religion et des Mœurs, et sur ce que l'on peut proposer pour la réparer," in two parts with index, preceded by an autograph letter of presentation, apparently to some Cardinal. The writer, who was just about to leave Italy, signs "Clement," with date, "Rome, Dim. 14 avril 1771." Occasional notes and corrections have been added by the author, and on f. 121 b is the date Naples, 2 février 1771. The Jansenist sympathies and knowledge of Spanish affairs suggest as author Augustin J. C. Clément (later Constitutional Bishop of Versailles) who travelled in Spain and Italy and was in Rome about this date.

Paper; ff. i + 123. Folio. Marked lxxvii on the vellum back, and inside "Cod. 202." Belonged to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1830, part of lot 56). Phillipps MS. 5049 (sale-cat. 1899, lot 388).

- 38886. "THE FORTUNE OF WAR, or a ten years Captivity in France, by Robert Bastard James, Lieut. in the Royal Navy"; 1804-1814. Autograph. James was wrecked when in charge of a captured sloop off the Loire, and carried across France to Verdun (f. 26). He escaped in 1807 (f. 33) and reached Ulm (f. 53), where he was arrested by the Bavarian authorities, and handed over to the French at Strassburg (f. 58). He was then transferred to the fort of Bitsch (f. 77), a lithograph of which, published by L. H. Wall, Lieut. R.N., 17 May, 1817, is prefixed (f. 1) to the volume. He remained in Verdun or Bitsch for most of the period till his release by the advance of the Allies (f. 106). In 1814 he was master's mate in the Sparrow, which brought over Prince Platoff and Count Barclay de Tolly (f. 109 b), and finished his service in the Mediterranean in June, 1816 (f. 111 b). Published almost completely in Blackwood's Magazine (June, 1899), pp. 925-958, under the title of "A prisoner under Napoleon," by Prof. Edward Dowden, the late owner.

Paper; ff. 111. Small octavo. A.D. 1822. Dowden sale, lot 32.

especially the second, are treated by E. Dowden in The Atlantic Monthly, vol. c (1907), p. 74, and illustrated with many extracts. They comprise:—(a) “A singular History in a Series of Letters from a Father to his Son, 1794,” recounting Hayley’s efforts, ultimately successful, to secure a pension for the poet Cowper. Correspondence with Thurlow, Pitt and Lord Spencer is quoted in full, and extracts of letters from S. Rose and Rev. S. Greatheed. There are verses by Hayley addressed to Miss Catherine Thurlow, f. 19, Lord Thurlow, ff. 29, 34, and Pitt, ff. 44, 52. f. 2;—(b) “The Second Memorial . . . containing a minute Account of devices employed to restore his dejected spirits”: copies of correspondence of Hayley and of Cowper’s other friends, from June, 1797, with an introductory letter to Rev. John Johnson, July, 1809. The chief writers besides Hayley are Cowper’s cousins, Harriet, Lady Hesketh, and Rev. John Johnson. Letters to Cowper from W. Wilberforce and the Bishops of London (Beilby Porteus) and Llandaff (Richard Watson) are on ff. 186, 188, 205. The originals of the Hayley-Hesketh letters (except the last few) are in Add. MS. 30803A, ff. 2–26, but none of the Hesketh-Johnson correspondence appears in Letters of Lady Hesketh to Rev. John Johnson, 1901. On f. 206 b is a letter from Hayley to Thurlow, asking preferment for Johnson, 16 Aug. 1804, followed by Thurlow’s reply. The apparent recovery of Cowper in 1800 drew forth Hayley’s sonnet on f. 247. f. 118. Paper; ff. ii + 249. Small quarto. Lot 172 of the Hayley Correspondence (Sotheby’s sale-cat. 20 May, 1878). 38895A, B, C. Two GREEK DOCUMENTS on vellum or leather. They were discovered by a peasant about the year 1909 in a cave in the mountain called Kuh-i-Sālān, near Avromān in Persian Kurdistan. When found, they were enclosed, along with other documents, in a hermetically sealed stone jar containing millet seeds. Passing from hand to hand, several documents appear to have been lost, but eventually the present two with a third probably written in Pahlavi (now Or. MS. 8115) were obtained by Mirza Sa'īd Khān, a doctor of Sinna, who brought them to England and put them in charge of Prof. E. G. Browne of Cambridge. They were eventually sold at Sotheby's (24 July, 1914, lot 543), and have been acquired by the Museum subsequently. Both the Greek documents have been published by Mr. Ellis H. Minns, with translations and an elaborate commentary, in Journ. of Hell. Stud. vol. xxxv, 1915, pp. 22-65. See also New Palaeographical Society, 2nd Ser., pt. iii (1915), pl. 51, 52. Both are written in duplicate, the two versions corresponding in the main, but with considerable differences of detail. Written in a fair-sized, easy cursive hand of fairly early type.  $10\frac{7}{8}$  in.  $\times$   $8\frac{3}{8}$  in.

The first separate edition was published in 1902. Only pencil versions exist of "The Penitent," here with no title, f. 22; "The Four Reformers,"

The present copy is carelessly written (see f. 10, where l. 48 of the printed edition is written a second time instead of l. 49, although accompanied by the gloss on the latter). The glosses agree substantially with those in 12 D. xiii. Text beg. "Dicatur urina quoniam fit renibus una"; the ending is that of the printed edition, with the mistake of "castra" for "casta" in the penultimate line. Commentary beg. "Urina dicatur in renibus una quia ibi formatur generaliter." f. 2.

39177. MISCELLANEOUS treatises, viz. :—

1. The "Academ Roial" of Edmund Bolton. Holograph. Other versions of this work are in Harley MSS. 6103 and 6143. A full account of this MS., which seems to be the latest, and to be the actual copy prepared for King Charles I (but presented after 1630, if at all, see addition on f. 2b) is given by Joseph Hunter in Archaeologia, xxxii (1847), pp. 132–149 (see especially p. 134, footnote b). The proposed device and arms of the academy are painted in the margins of ff. 6, 6b, and the list of suggested members is at f. 7b. f. 1b.
2. Arms, in trick, of twelve peers created 8–14 James I. f. 10 (inserted leaf).
3. Part of Robert Cooke's Baronage (see Harley MS. 214, etc.) from Edgar Atheling to Hugh Courtney. The blazon only of the arms is written (on blank escutcheons), and this is sometimes omitted. Followed by a modern index by George Burrell, of Thetford (see note, f. iii b). f. 11.
4. Genealogical tables, with arms in trick, beginning with the Kings of England from Edward III to Charles I. The pedigrees of English peers, which follow, agree in the main with Harley MS. 1529 and Stowe MS. 599, the latter of which also belonged to Sylvanus Morgan; all these MSS. appear to be based on a work (compiled about 1587 ?) entitled "Baronagium Angliae," of which several copies exist (Harley MSS. 806, 1160, etc.). The present compilation seems to have been made at various dates between the years 1591 (see f. 67b) and 1605, and includes nearly all peers of the degree of earl or higher at that period. The names of the families are given in the Index. Additions to this portion are chiefly in two hands, one of about 1635 (e.g. f. 64b), the other (e.g. f. 69b, entry dated 1644) that of Sylvanus Morgan. On ff. 94–114b are continuations and additional pedigrees for new creations to about 1639, in the hand, except for a few additions, of Richard Mundy, by whom Harley MSS. 1529-1577 were chiefly compiled. f. 63b.

Paper; ff. iii + 114. Quarto. xvii cent. Belonged to Sylvanus Morgan (d. 1693), whose signature and motto are on f. i and initials are on the covers; afterwards to George Ashby, Rector of Barrow, co. Suff.; to George Bird Burrell, of Thetford (two of whose book-plates are on f. i), see his note on f. 9; and to Edmund Henry Barker, who gave it in 1828 (see his note on f. iii) to the Rev. Joseph Hunter, F.S.A., whose book-plate of arms is on f. iii (sale-cat., Sotheby's, 1861, lot 290). On f. 8b is pasted a cutting from Sir Walter Raleigh's History of the World, pt. i, bk. ii, ch. 7, § 3.

- 39184. CASTRATIONS of Holinshed's Chronicle, ed. 1587, printed, with MS. notes by Francis Thynne. By an order of the Privy Council (1 Feb. 1586-7, Lord Cobham attending) the recently published second edition of Holinshed was ordered to be examined "for as much as the same booke doth also conteyne reporte of matters of later yeeres that concern the State and are not therefore meete to be published in such sorte as they are delyuered . . . the rather also for that ther is inserted such mention of matter touching the King of Scottes as may give him cause of offence" (Acts of the Privy Council, 1586-1587, p. 311). The matter chiefly affected by this order was Thynne's Annals of Scotland, but the condemnation seems to have been extended to all his contributions in vols. ii, iii. The present collection covers all the castrations. It contains from vol. ii, pp. 405-464 (ff. 2-23b), minus the castrations (pp. 421-4, 433-6, 443-50), which follow (ff. 24-31b); from vol. iii, pp. 1419-1538 (Thynne's Discourse of the Earls of Leicester, John Stow's Annals, 1585-1586, Thynne's Lives of the Archbishops of Canterbury, Treatise on the Cobhams, Catalogue of the Lord Wardens of the Cinque Ports) and (added in a hand of circ. 1700) a transcript of pp. 1556-1559, which were not included in the castrations (ff. 34-95b). The excerpts from vol. i are headed in a late 17th cent. hand "Castrations of Holinshed" (f. 1), and the same hand heads the excerpts from vol. iii (f. 32) "Qn. Eliz. An: Reg. 27—Begins p. 1419—ends 1538 wth MS. Notes and MS. Verses out of Bridges book." This last reference, no doubt, is to the uncastrated copy of Holinshed, which (according to Hearne, Diary, vol. lxxiv, p. 240) was in the possession of [?John] Bridges, [the historian of Northamptonshire (1666-1724)], cf. F. J. Furnivall, Thynne's Animadversions, E.E.T.S., 1875, p. lxxxix, note 1. Thynne's formal withdrawal of a statement in ii, p. 443 about the Earl of Shrewsbury is in Egerton MS. 2124, f. 69 ("Althoughe the same be already wthdrawne in most of the bookes and onely remayneth in some fewe w<sup>ch</sup> only weare dispersed before therror was sene").

Occasional notes by Thynne occur throughout in the margins and interlined, but the main body of his corrections and additions is concentrated on the treatise on the Cobhams (f. 74). The history of this treatise is now clear. The first collections on the Cobhams are in Cotton MS. Faustina E. viii, f. 39 (1581). These were extended into the treatise as incorporated in Holinshed in 1587. On the castrated sheets Thynne made his corrections and amplifications. From these corrected sheets a new draft of the treatise was made, with fresh additions and arms in tincture (Add. MS. 12514, f. 56), probably in 1597. A presentation copy of the finished work was dedicated to Henry Brooke, Lord Cobham, 20 Dec. 1598 (Add. MS. 37666).

Paper; ff. 95. Folio. Circ. 1587-1597. Transferred from the Department of Printed Books.

39216. Vol. I (ff. 109). “A Century of Roundels”; the corrected MS. as sent to the printer. According to a cancelled note on f. 50b twenty of the roundels were written by 6 Feb. [1883], four more by the 9th, and three more by the 10th of the same month. The two roundels on “A Baby’s Death, i, ii,” have cancelled dates, respectively “Jan. 26, 1883” (f. 45) and “In bed, night of Jan. 26” (f. 46).

Preceded (f. 1) by a roundel, headed “Sairey Gamp’s Roundel,” beg. “A baby’s thumb, the little duck’s,” included in a fragment of a letter to [Miss Isabel Swinburne], beg. “My dearest Abba. The preceding burst of lyric song, in Sairey’s very best handwriting, was compoged by that lady a day or two ago while dredging, and wrote down faithful before breakfast; which she do hope it may give satigefaction to Mrs. Harris—whose Eavenly dispogician is wellbeknown—and her family circle." Dated: "The Pines, Feb. 19. 83." Printed in Posthumous Poems, 1917, p. 142.

Paper. Octavo; ff. 109. The roundels are written on half-sheets of notepaper, sometimes with the printed heading: "The Pines, Putney Hill, S.W." Purple calf binding, gilt-tooled, inscribed: "I.S. from A.C.S."

39217. Vol. II (ff. 135). Poems, chiefly of the period 1878–1904, a number of school compositions and the Essay on Mary, Queen of Scots. Mainly autograph.

1. School compositions. Swinburne was at Eton from 1849–1853. (a) Latin elegiacs on "Arminius." The tutor has noted at the end "Writing improved" (f. 2b). f. 1;—(b) "The triumph of Gloriana, or the Temple of Loyalty. On the Queen's visit to Eton." A long poem, in heroic couplets, beg "What Muse shall boldly raise a humble lay." Printed (privately) in the Triumph of Gloriana, ed. E. Gosse, 1916. f. 3;—(c) English Essay on the theme:

Nullum numen habes si sit prudentia; nos te

Nos facimus, Fortuna, deam [Juvenal, X. 365].

f. 11;—(d) French exercises. f. 15.

2. "On the Death of Sir John Franklin." This appears to be the MS. from which the poem was privately printed by E. Gosse, The Death of Sir John Franklin, 1916. It was afterwards included by the same editor in the Posthumous Poems, 1917, p. 75. The poem (which is not in Swinburne's hand) was enclosed in an envelope (f. 20) endorsed (in a contemporary hand) "Admiral Swinburne" and (in a later hand) "Algernon C. Swinburne's poem on the death of Sir John Franklin for the Newdigate 1859–60?" On the basis of this last inscription Mr. Gosse printed the poem as Swinburne's composition for the Newdigate Prize, for which he entered in 1858, the set subject being "The Discovery of the North-West Passage." This poem, however, appears to have been lost and a correspondence in the Literary Supplement of The Times, 1917, 19 July–6 Sept., pp. 345, 357, 369, 393, 429, between Mr. Gosse, F. L. Latham (the successful competitor for the Newdigate, 1858) and Mrs. M. J. C. Leith makes it certain that the present poem is the one referred to in two letters from Swinburne to his mother (dated "Navestock, Ash Wednesday, [22 Feb.], 11 Mar. 1860") printed in Disney Leith, The Boyhood of A. C. Swinburne, 1917, pp. 52, 53 : "You may have seen in the Guardian that there is a prize at Oxford of £50 (I think) for a poem on the subject of Sir John Franklin and the late discoveries. I have written for it . . . it didn't take two mornings' work." It appears from these letters that there were three copies of the poem : the original in Swinburne's hand (now in the possession of Mrs. Disney Leith, op. cit., p. 52 note), the copy prepared for the examiners and one sent to his mother. The present copy (which has corrections here and there) may be the one last named. It appears, at least, to have been continuously in the hands of the family. f. 21.

3. Early poems : (a) "Echo" : a lyric (six 8-line stanzas) beg. "In the dusk of starlit hours." A cancelled beginning is on f. 28b (reversed) Watermark 1851. Printed in Posthumous Poems, p. 87, as belonging to the Oxford period. f. 27 ;—(b) "Ode to Mazzini" : irregular ode (17 stanzas), printed in Posth. Poems, p. 167. A fragmentary earlier copy, found among Swinburne's effects after his death, has been printed by E. Gosse, Boston Bibliophile Society Publications, No. 27, 1913, p. 13. On internal evidence Mr. Gosse assigns the composition to 1857, and suggests that the present copy may have been made later (? 1860). f. 29.
4. "Les Enfants Pauvres," with the original by V. Hugo. Dated "Feb. 13/70." Printed in Poems and Ballads, Sec. Series, 1878, p. 225 ("From Victor Hugo"). f. 39.
5. Poems printed in Tristram of Lyonesse, 1882 :—(a) "Seven Years Old," p. 253. Signed : "A. C. S., Jan. 20th, 1881. For the seventh birthday of H. W. M. (a chick!) Feb. 4th." f. 40 ;—(b) [A Child's Pity], p. 262. Signed : "A. C. S. to H. W. M." f. 42 ;—(c) "A Child's Thanks," p. 266. Signed : "A. C. Swinburne. Dec. 7th, 1881." f. 44.
6. "A Baby's Death, i-vii." Printed in A Century of Roundels, 1883. A second copy of nos. ii-iv, originally numbered i-iii follows (f. 48). f. 45.
7. Poems printed in A Midsummer Holiday, 1884 : (a) "A Ballad of Sark," p. 86. f. 49 ;—(b) "After a Reading," p. 51. f. 53 ;—(c) "Maytime in Midwinter," p. 100. Two alternative titles "Thanksgiving" and "Springtide in Winter" are cancelled. f. 53 ;—(d) "A double ballad of August (1884)," p. 105. f. 54 ;—(e) "Heartsease Country. To Isabel Swinburne," p. 109. Two copies, one (f. 56) the original draft, with corrections, as sent to the printer, the other (f. 58) a fair copy ;—(f) "A Ballad of Appeal. To Christina G. Rossetti,"

- p. 112. f. 60 ;—(g) "Cradle Songs (to a tune of Blake's)," i-vii, p. 115. f. 62.
8. Poems printed in Poems and Ballads, Third Series, 1889 :—(a) "Baby-Bird," p. 88. Dated "Sept. 13th, 1888." f. 65 ;—(b) "A Baby's Epitaph," p. 118. Two copies, the first signed and dated : "April 1885." f. 67.
9. Poem, without title, printed in Astrophel, 1894, p. 184, as "Epicede." With cancelled draft of stanza 5. First printed in The Nineteenth Century, March, 1894, p. 523. f. 69.
10. Poems printed in A Chammel Passage, 1904 : (a) "The High Oaks. Barking Hall, July 19th, 1896," p. 73. Two copies, the first the author's autograph draft, with corrections, the second the copy for the printer in another hand, only stanzas 6 (ll. 4-9), 11, 12, and an occasional correction being autograph. First printed in The Nineteenth Century, Sept. 1896, p. 341. ff. 71, 76 ;—(b) "Barking Hall: A Year After. A sequel to 'The High Oaks,'" p. 80. Signed. f. 81.
11. Two translations, in verse (beg. "Day of wrath, the years are keeping") and prose, of the Dies Irae. Printed in Posth. Poems, p. 89. f. 29.
12. Article on Mary, Queen of Scots, written for the 9th edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, and printed in that and subsequent editions. See a note in the 11th edition, xiv. p. 817, where an extract is given from a letter dated 4 Apr. 1882, in which Swinburne speaks of the gratification afforded to him by such a commission to one of his "idle trade." f. 87. Paper (many of the poems are written on blue paper, as is also the case with the original MSS. of Laus Veneris, Dolores and A Word for the Navy, cf. T. J. Wise, A Bibliographical List, pp. 30, 42, 67) ; ff. 135.

Ff. 50, 45-49 originally preceded art. 1, as is shown by the worm-holes, as well as by a note on f. 39b. Contents:—

1. "[F]undacio": the charter of Edward III incorporating the College, 6 Aug. 1348. Printed in Dugdale's Monasticon (1830) vi, p. 1354, cf. Cal. Pat. Rolls, Edward III, viii, p. 144. A later copy is in Harley MS. 564, f. 1. f. 1.

Followed (f. 22b) by forms of admission, here made out in the name of John Arundell, who was Warden or Dean from 1417 to 1452, and (f. 24) by two tables of chapter-headings for the statutes. In Harley MS. 564, in which the statutes begin at f. 4, these forms are in the name of J[ohn] F[aux], Dean 1462-1470, and in Cotton MS. Vespasian F. ix (statutes beg. f. 2) in the name of A[nthony] M[aney], Dean 1612-1618. The bull of Clement VI, 30 Nov. 1350, which is recited by Edington, is printed in Monasticon, vi, p. 1355. f. 3. Between arts. 2 and 3 are inserted in later hands (a) Bull of Sixtus IV, 22 July, 1475, empowering the Bishop of Salisbury at the request of the College to make new statutes. f. 26b;— (b) "Exposicio dubiorum verborum iuris Anglie": explanation of soke, sake, etc. f. 23b.

3. "Hic incipiunt iniuncciones": injunctions made by John [Kemp], Archbishop of York and Papal Legate, following upon a visitation of the College made by him as Chancellor, 22 May, 1430. Dated 22 Feb. 143 $\frac{1}{2}$ . Followed (f. 39) by a "breue regium de eisdem obseruandis," 22 Feb. 1432, and (f. 40) a table of chapter-headings for the injunctions. f. 29. At the end of the King's letter, and before the table of chapters, is a note in another hand: "Require alias litteras regias executorias super isto breui sub signeto factas et decano ac capitulo capelle predicte transmissas exequendas et in omnibus perimplendas in inceptiōne istius libri descriptas," referring to art. 11, now bound at the end of the volume (f. 46). This is followed in an early 16th cent. hand by the form of the oath in English taken by [Thomas Howard,] Lord Howard, [Thomas West, 8th] Lord Delawarr, and Sir Henry Marny on admission as Knights of the Garter, 28 Apr., 2 Hen. VIII [1510]. f. 39b. Arts. 4, 5 are in a different, but nearly contemporary, hand.

6. Bull of Clement VI, 12 Feb. 135 $\frac{1}{2}$ , giving the College exemption from ordinary episcopal jurisdiction. Printed in Monasticon, vi, p. 1355. f. 42b.
7. Incomplete transcript of bull of Eugenius [IV], dispensing the Warden and Canons from residence in other benefices which they may hold. The date is missing [1431-1447]. f. 43b.

Arts. 9-13 originally preceded art. 1. They are in different hands, art. 11 alone being possibly in the same hand as arts. 1-3, 6 and 8.

9. "Carta per quam oblationes capelle et lasta allecis dantur canonicis residentibus et non aliis": inspeximus and confirmation by Henry VI of a confirmation (dated 3 Nov. 1399) by Henry IV of a charter (dated 16 Oct. 1393) of Richard II, giving to resident Canons only the right to share in the offerings in the Chapel of Windsor and the gift of herrings from Great Yarmouth (see art. 10). Dated 14 Feb. 1439. Attested by John Brokholes and Richard Sturgeon, clerks. f. 45.

Ff. 50, 51 were both originally attached to the covers. F. 50b, which stood at the beginning of the volume, contains in a 16th cent. hand the form of the English oath "takyn byfore admytting any to the college, for renownsing thauthoritie of the bishop of Rome"; n.d. [circ. 1535?]. The last leaf, f. 51, contains in a late 15th cent. hand a record of a new statutory provision for the terms of Canons' residence made by Richard [Beauchamp], Bishop of Salisbury and Dean of Windsor, 15 Mar. 147 $\frac{3}{4}$ .
Vellum; ff. 51. 11 $\frac{1}{8}$  in.  $\times$  7 $\frac{3}{8}$  in. xv cent. (1432-1452?) Initials coarsely illuminated. Probably belonged to George Carew, D.D., Dean of Windsor (1568-1572, afterwards of Exeter, d. 1583), since the name of Mary Carewe is scribbled on f. 50b, and those of Mary Dowrishe and Walter Dorishe are on f. 45, and according to the Devonshire visitation of 1620 (Harleian Soc. vi, p. 93) Walter Dowrish m. Mary, sister of the Lord Carew [George, afterwards Earl of Totnes] and therefore daughter of the Dean. Its later history is uncertain, but the name Thomas Madoces is scribbled (16th-17th cent.) on f. 45, as are also the initials (17th-18th cent.) R. B. On f. 1 is a note by Francis Blomefield, the Norfolk historian, that he copied the charters on ff. 45, 45b "in Libro Extractorum, anno 1782." Rough calf binding, 18th cent., formerly falsely labelled "Statutes of the Garter."

39236. WODEHOUSE PAPERS. Vol. XIX. Ranulph Higden, Polychronicon. The continuation (from 1342 to 1376) is that which is printed in the Rolls Series edition of Higden (ed. C. Bavington and J. R. The text of Higden in the two MSS. is also similar, both being derived from an exemplar in which many words were illegible, but this MS. is not a copy of the Caius MS. Title, "Policronicon." Beg. "Post preclaros arcium scriptores." At the end are additions, whereof (a) is in an early 16th cent. hand, the rest are probably of the late 15th cent., viz. (a) List of Popes to Julius II [1503-1513], with date and length of pontificate added for the first fifteen only. f. 138 ;—(b) Genealogical table of the kinsmen of Christ from Ysacar and Nazaphat. f. 140b ;—(c) Index to names in the Polychronicon, roughly alphabetical. f. 141 ;—(d) Genealogical table of the descent of Henry VI of England from Louis IX of France. f. 147b. Paper. ff. i + 147. 11 $\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$  8 in. For the water-marks cf. Bricquet, Les Filigranes, nos. 3528, 9478, 12995, and for those in the tables at the end Beazley Collection (Add. MS. 38637) nos. 351, 409. Middle of the xv cent. Double columns. Sec. fol. "-tensis episcopus." Initials in red. ## EGERTON MANUSCRIPTS

ACQUIRED IN THE YEARS

1911-1915.

ACQUIRED IN 1911.

Eg. 2890. SERMONS, in Latin, by Odo of Cheriton (d. 1247), viz. :—

1. "Incipiunt euangelia dominicalia iuxta expositionem magistri Odonis Anglici": fifty-nine sermons on the Gospels for Sundays from Advent to the 25th Sunday after Pentecost, together with Christmas (ff. 10, 13, 14b, three sermons), Ash Wednesday (f. 30), Easter Monday (f. 67b), Lesser Litany (f. 80), and Ascension (ff. 82, 84, two sermons). These correspond to the list of 66 sermons drawn up by Hervieux from five Paris MSS., two of which have colophons stating that the collection was completed in 1219 (L. Hervieux, Études de Cheriton et ses dérivés, 1896, pp. 19, 118, forming vol. iv. of his Fabulistes Latins), except for the omission of the sermons for the feasts of St. Stephen, St. John, Innocents, Circumcision, Epiphany, Purification of the Virgin, Maundy Thursday, and Good Friday (the first six of which are here classed with the Sermones de Festis, see below art 2, sermons i-vi), and for the inclusion (ff. 44-64b) of a long discourse on the Passion. This last, placed between the sermons for Passion Sunday and Easter, and apparently intended for Wednesday in Holy Week, is headed "Passio domini nostri Jesu Christi secundum Lucham" and beg. "Appropinquabat autem dies festus azimorum. . . Notandum quod facies tituli competenter Luchæ evangeliste adaptatur"; it is evidently the same work (lacking the prologue) as the "Tractatus de Passione" attributed to Odo, and found, in conjunction with his Sermons on the Sunday Gospels, in the Paris MS., Bibl. Nat., lat. 16506, and MS. 38 of Balliol College, Oxford (Hervieux, pp. 134, 140). As compared with the 69 sermons in Arundel MS. 231, which are attributed there to Odo jointly with Jean d'Abbeville and Roger of Sarum (Hervieux, pp. 136-139; Cat. of Romances, iii, pp. 57-78), nos. 1-4 correspond to nos. i-iv in the Arundel MS.; 5-7 to vi-viii; 8-11 to xv-xviii; 12-20 to xxi-xxiv; 22-52 to xxxi-lxi; 53, 54 to lxiii, lxii; 55-59 to lxiv-lxviii. No. 21, the discourse on the Passion, is omitted in the Arundel MS.; nos. v. (Christmas Eve), xii (Sund. aft. Christmas), xix (5th Sund. after Epiphany), xxx (Palm Sund.), and lxix (26th Sund. aft. Pentecost) of Arund. 231 are omitted; and nos. ix–xi, xiii, xiv, and xx correspond to sermons i–vi in art. 2 below. The text varies considerably from that of Arund. 231, as might be expected from the composite nature of the latter MS. As regards the exempla, while some are omitted here, there is on the whole a close agreement with the Arundel MS., and still closer with the Paris MS. lat. 16506, which Hervieux (pp. 265–343) took as basis. Apart from the exempla, only a series of abridged extracts from the sermons has been printed, in 1520 (see Hervieux, pp. 142–145). Beg. “Dominica prima de aduentu domini. Matheus. xxi” capitulo. Cum appropinquasset Ihesus Ierosolimis. . . Presens euangelium bis in anno legitur . . . quia causa utriusque aduentus in hoc euangelio mystice declaratur.” Ends “ut a morte anime resuscitati sic in uia uiuere ualeamus ut ad uite gloriam perueniamus, prestante domino nostro, etc.” f. 1.

2. Twenty-eight sermons on the Gospels for certain Church festivals. All but the first six, which are grouped in other MSS. with the Sermones Dominicales (see art. 1 above), are included, with many variations in order, in the 26 Sermones de Festis, a list of which, based on four Paris MSS., is in Hervieux, op. cit. p. 121. Another copy of what appears to be the same series, containing 27 sermons, is in the Oxford MS. Balliol 38 (see Hervieux, p. 140). Exempla occur, though less frequently than in the Sermones Dominicales, and it is evident that both series have been used for the 13th cent. collections, such as those in Harley MS. 3244 and Royal MS. 7 D. i (see Cat. of Romances, iii, pp. 457, 477). Among the exempla are the following:—(a) Pelican and her young. f. 170;—(b) Dying hermit kisses thief's hands (= Harl. 3244, no. 109). f. 217;—(c) Dead monk of Grandselve appears with black feet (ib. 108). f. 223b;—(d) Bishop [Paulinus] goes into slavery to redeem a widow's son (ib. 112). f. 228b;—(e) Captive king and his three sons (see above, Add. MS. 38654, no. 1). f. 228b;—(f) Serpent tracked by St. Germanus to adulteress's tomb (= Harl. 3244, no. 114). f. 242b;—(g) Priest's dead concubine seen as a mare ridden by the devil (ib. 115). f. 243;—(h) Apologue of the three rings (= Roy. 7 D. i, no. 2). f. 244;—(i) “Beatus Theodolus,” Bishop of Sion, and the soul confined in a block of ice (= Harl. 3244, no. 117). f. 247b;—(k) Imprisoned miner “in montibus Borgundie” fed by his wife's offerings for his soul (ib. 118). f. 248;—(l) Dead knight appears to comrade (ib. 119; see also Add. 38654, no. 9). f. 249;—(m) Dead Countess of Champagne set up by abbot for her knights to gaze at (see B. Hauréau, Notices et Extraits, iii, 1891, p. 70). f. 250b;—(n) Burgher fills his tomb with food for the poor (= Roy. 7 D. i, no. 180). f. 250b;—(o) Bad custom in the world, the young die (= Harl. 3244, no. 121). f. 251;—(p) The dead rise to protect their friend (= Roy. 7 D. i, no. 194). f. 252b.

Vellum; ff. i + 194. 12 in.  $\times$  7 $\frac{1}{4}$  in. Early xiv cent. Gatherings of 12 leaves (<sup>i<sup>16</sup></sup>), with catchwords, but many leaves are missing, viz., at beginning and end, and also three leaves after f. 38, 12 after f. 106, 2 after f. 107, 8 after f. 132, 5 after f. 181, and single leaves after ff. 67, 83, 96, 135, 142, 164 and 192. Flourished initials in red and blue. The name John (Ihon, Yon, Yan) Barns is scribbled (15-16th cent.) on the margins of ff. 21, 61b, 106b. On f. 1 is the inscription (19th cent.), "From the library of Robert Higgins, who lived at Eastnor [co. Hereford] in the time of Charles the 1st and Cromwell"; and the name Samuel Higgins is scribbled on ff. 14, 21b, 31, and on f. 77 together with Anne and Mary Higgins, probably the children of Joseph Higgins, Rector of Eastnor, d. 1847, and descendants of Robert Higgins of Eastnor, d. 1678

(C. J. Robinson, Mansions of Herefordshire, 1873, pp. 110, 111). Afterwards belonged to Willoughby Baskerville Mynors, of Bosbury House, Herefordshire (Sotheby's sale-cat., 19 July, 1911, lot 687).

Eg. 2892. DE PLURALITATE beneficiorum, four lectures by Richard Rotheram, Fellow of Balliol College, Chancellor of Oxford University in 1440. Without title. Beg. "Necesse est ut scandala veniant Mt. 18. Condilecti karissimi sancta summaque caritate." Lect. iv ends imperfectly "virtualia que non consueuerant." The author's name is given in a copy in Balliol College Library, MS. 80, which contains five lectures. The passage quoted in H. O. Coxe's Cat. Codicum MSS. in Coll. Oxon., i, p. 23, referring to Salisbury, does not seem to occur, but at f. 57 b is a reference to privileges improperly enjoyed by the Canons of Hereford, where Rotheram held a prebend in 1430 and was Treasurer (resigned 1434) and Chancellor (occurs 1435, 1441).

Vellum; ff. 81. 10 $\frac{1}{4}$  in.  $\times$  7 $\frac{5}{8}$  in. Middle of xv cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (last imperfect) with catchwords. Sec. fol. "sedicionis condempnacio." On f. 1 is a full border of English work, with initial N containing the arms of the see of Winchester (gu., two keys in bend sinister or and arg. addorsed and conjoined in the bows, interlacing them in bend dexter a sword arg., the point in chief, hilt or) as given in T. Fowler's Corpus Christi (Oxf. Coll. Histories), 1898, p. 241, but varying from the usual arms, where the keys are in bend dexter. Fine contemporary binding of oak boards covered with brown leather. The four stamps used, one of which reproduces a design employed in Winchester bindings of the 12th century and another a Durham design of the same date, are as follows:—(a) a griffin passant to l. (19  $\times$  15 mm.). On the front cover five impressions arranged vertically form the central panel, which is divided from the inner border by a three-line fillet broken by diagonal lines;—(b) a bird (swan?) with tail ending in foliage, passant to r. (17  $\times$  17 mm.), cf. a stamp used in the binding of a Durham 12th century MS. now Add. MS. 24659. 19 $\frac{1}{2}$  impressions of this form the inner border;—(c) a monster with human head (to l.), grotesque head to r., bird's feet and wings, and a tail to r. (20  $\times$  17 mm.). 30 impressions of this form the middle border;—(d) A curved branch or garland (?) (between four dots), with a peacock feeding across it (22  $\times$  16 mm.), closely resembling a stamp used in the Winchester bindings of Mr. Dyson Perrins's Hegesippus (formerly Mr. Yates Thompson's no. 51 (Illustrations from 100 MSS. in the library of H. Y. Thompson, iv, 1914, pl. 2), the Winchester Domesday belonging to the Society of Antiquaries (see Victoria County History, Hampshire, vol. i, plates facing pp. 528, 530), and Add. MS. 15350. 33 $\frac{1}{2}$  impressions of this form the outer border. On the front cover the birds' heads are outwards in the horizontal, inwards in the vertical rows. These borders are separated and enclosed by simple four-line fillets. The end cover differs very slightly in the number and arrangement of the stamps. The back has five bands and is decorated with fillets. Portions remain of two brass clasps, and the mark of attachment of a chain at the foot of the front cover. Sotheby's sale-cat., 27 July, 1911, lot 253.

The arms of the see of Exeter occur on f. 8 b, impaling those of William Cotton, Bishop 1598–1621, which are here represented by the adopted Ridware coat (3). This is a mistake of the compiler ; his arms were Cotton (2), given above, as is shown by his tomb in Exeter Cathedral. At the end are the following loose leaves :—(a) "A discent of the lords of Conington, from Waltheof, Earl of Huntingdon and Northampton," down to Feb. 1730 [1]. f. 26 b ;—(b) Pedigree to show kinship with Archbishop Chichele, Founder of All Souls' College, Oxford ; ending with the children of Mrs. Bowdler [Elizabeth Stuart Cotton] and with Thomas Wodehouse ; with notes, and advice that "this half sheet be annexed to Mrs. Bowdler's pedigree by way of rider." Dat. Jan. 26, 1767. f. 28 ;—(c) Piece cut from a letter in the same hand to [T. B]owdler Esq., beginning "I have heard of old Sir R<sup>ts</sup> being indicted for stealing the Council books" (cf. Add. MS. 36682 A, f. 4 ; note in same hand). f. 29. Paper ; ff. i + 29. Folio. Each of the covers has the armorial book-stamp of Sir Robert Cotton, affixed, as is stated in a pencil note (f. 1) signed by John Holmes, Assistant-Keeper of MSS. 1850–1854, "(by permission) from a stamp belonging to the Trustees of the British Museum in 1838." Eg. 2894. "THE ANCIENT Language and the Dialect of Cornwall, with a revised and much enlarged Glossary of Cornish Provincial Words. Also an Appendix, containing a list of Cornish writers on the Cornish Dialect, etc.," by Fred. W. P. Jago, M.B. Lond. Second edition. 1892." Autograph ; the intended second edition (unpublished) of a work originally published in 1882. In a new preface (f. 11) the author states that about thirteen hundred provincial words have been added to the Glossary, and that the list of writers on Cornish dialect, etc., is much enlarged. Passages have been added to the text, or other passages substituted.

Photographic portrait of the author on f. 2 b, and engraving of Dolly Pentreath and her house on f. 377 b (frontispiece to first ed.). Paper ; ff. 402. Folio. Half morocco binding.

Eg. 2895. MEXICAN Picture-writing. The MS. is of skin, six skins being attached together by means of an adhesive paste, the whole measuring 14 ft. 5 in. by 8½ in. ; the whole skin is then folded in the common screenlike form. On the surface of the skin a white priming has been laid to receive the painting. This has scaled off in places, taking with it parts of the painting. The subjects are drawn with a black outline filled in with colour (black, red, green, blue and yellow). The paintings are to be read from left to right on the recto, and, the book being turned over, in the same direction on the verso. The last page (p. 32), though primed, has been left blank, and part of the painting on p. 31 seems to have been deliberately scraped away. The codex was, perhaps, left in an unfinished state. The subjects are as follows :—(a) On a horse-shoe shaped framework filled with lattice work, fringed with flint knives and surmounted by an eagle, a human figure is stretched, the left foot in the mouth of an ocelot, which is seated on a hill supporting the framework. On the left hand is a priest with black body-painting, having the sign 1 Maçatl attached to him and above his head a serpent. From the mouths of priest and serpent issue volutes representing speech or song. On the right hand are two year-signs, 11 (?) Tecpatl associated with the day-sign 4 (?) Tecpatl and 13 Calli with 2 Quiahuitl. Other symbols below are much obliterated. The subject appears to be the sacrifice of a victim to some god. p. 2 ;—(b) A procession of eight priests with day-signs and numbers attached, all except the first in the series with black body-painting ; they carry censers, torches, conches, rattles etc. and march from left to right across pp. 3, 4. To no. 2 in the series a town-glyph is attached by a line. This ceremonial is, no doubt, connected with the sacrifice on p. 2 ;—(c) A series of twenty-six main groups of two persons each covers pp. 5–31 (that on p. 31 has been erased, but it is a probable assumption that the subject was the same as in the others). The figures are in each case those of a male and female. The male figure is seated on a throne or stool and usually wears a mask or headdress, sometimes of an animal, bird or reptilian character (ocelot, eagle, snake etc.), sometimes the mask of a god (Tlaloc occurs twice). The females have the kneeling attitude, peculiar hair-dressing and patterned enagua, which are characteristic of women ; the main difference is in the device on the shoulder mantle which varies in each case. All have their calendrical name appended. In the first of the series (p. 5) the male personage, with the mask of Tlaloc, is seated on an elevated throne before a temple on a hill (a town-symbol ?) and the female figure kneels before him ; each of them has the sign 1 Cipactli. In the others, with one exception, the male figure has no town-symbol, while the kneeling female figure is accompanied by hers. In the exception (p. 30 ; now the last complete representation) the female figure, with flower-garlanded head and holding a flower in her left hand, is seated on a stool, while the male has his temple behind him. On some pages two or more smaller groups of the same type appear, connected with the larger group by a red line along which in some cases footprints run, connecting either the man or the woman with the larger group. In one case (p. 21) the two groups are connected only by volutes representing speech, but the man of the smaller group has attached to him by a red line the year-sign 12 Tecpatl associated with the day-sign 12 Malinalli. Over each of the figures of the larger groups, and the temples of both groups, are inscriptions in some Indian language (not Nahuatl), in a Spanish hand of the 16th century. These are much obliterated, but in some cases can still be read clearly. Longer inscriptions on pp. 14, 25 are also much obliterated. The subject of the codex is uncertain, but it probably records the genealogy of some Indian dynasty (cf. the genealogies represented in Antigüedades Mexicanas, Junta Colombina de Mexico, in 1892, Codice Baranda and Codice Dehesa). A facsimile of the MS. (omitting the inscriptions) was made, when it was in the possession of Sanchez Solis in Mexico in 1882, and published in Peñafiel, Monumentos del Arte Mexicano, Berlin, 1880, Pl. ii, pp. 260–288, with a description taken from an article by Francisco P. Troncoso in the Añales del Museo Nacional de Mexico, iii, p. 121. Troncoso states that the MS. is of Mixteco-Zapotecan origin from the region of Oaxaca, and compares for the style the Oxford codices, Bodl. MS. 2858 and Selden MS. 3135.

Pp. 32. Before A.D. 1519 (?) The MS. was sold after the death of Felipe Sanchez Solis, and came into the possession of Ernst Ludwig Karl, Freiherr von Waecker-Gotter, German Plenipotentiary in Mexico (d. 1908). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2896. MEXICAN Picture-Chronicle. The drawings, executed in outline in black ink on three sheets of agave paper (A–C), from the indications of lines, footprints, etc., appear to present a continuous subject. The subject is probably a tribal migration. The upper edge of sheet A is much frayed, and it is not clear how much is lost. At the head of the sheet (in its present condition) stands a city walled on three sides with a temple on the unwallled top side. Above the city to the right is a large black sun. Five signs (13 Tecpatl, 13 Acatl, 9 Tecpatl, 12 Acatl and 1 Tochtli) are attached to personages within the walls, and, without, on the right-hand side, are four year-dates (reading downwards: 13 Acatl, 1 Tecpatl, 13 Calli, 1 Tochtli). The city is the centre of various trails, represented by footprints with town-symbols at intervals. The rest of sheet A is occupied by one of these trails, which starts from a figure with a sun-symbol attached and connected by a cable with five descendants. Before this figure (which looks to left) is a travelling staff and (facing to right on the other side of the staff) another figure, with black body-painting and the sign 4 Quauhtli, who stands at the end of the trail leading from the town. From the figure with the sun-symbol the trail goes from right to left and left to right alternately to the foot of the sheet. Year-signs occur at intervals (13 Calli, 6 Acatl). The trail on sheet A ends at the representation of a dog's head with ears squared off at the ends and crossed by two black bars. This town-glyph also appears on sheets

1-4 in Eg. 2897. It is not certain whether sheet B immediately continues the subject of A. A trail runs down the left-hand side ending at a cross-roads near a temple on which a later hand has set a cross. Attached to the cross-roads is the year-sign 7 Tecpatl. To the right above the temple is a figure from whose foot starts a cable which branches out into various lines of descent continued on sheet C. The upper part of sheet B to the right of the trail is occupied by a representation of four warriors shooting with bows and arrows at a mark set up in the ground. Below them is an inscription in Nahuatl in a 16th century Spanish hand. On sheet C is another inscription in the same hand, a list of town-names, beginning with the partly obliterated name "Itzcuitl[a]pan." The style of the drawing, like that of Eg. 2897, is very similar to that of Add. MS. 30088, a picture-map found, according to a letter enclosed with it, in a stone chest in the ruins of the Indian city of Metlatoyuca in the State of Puebla.

Agave-paper, now mounted between glass. 2 ft. 8 in.  $\times$  1 ft. 3 in.; 2 ft.  $5\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft.  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in.; 2 ft.  $9\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft.  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in. (approximate measurements, the paper being much frayed). xvi cent. On the back of sheet C is the inscription: "José 1824." From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2897. FRAGMENTS (11) of a Mexican picture-writing or writings, executed in the same style as Eg. 2896 above. How far the different sheets are to be connected, or in what order, is not clear. The same town-glyph—a dog (itzcuintli) with ears squared off at the ends and crossed at the tips by two black bands—occurs in a prominent position on sheets 1-4, and it will also be found in Eg. 2896 at the foot of sheet A. Another glyph (an axe chopping wood) occurs on 1, 4, 7 (verso), 8. It is probable that all the sheets refer to the same district. The drawings on the verso of sheet 7 are in a noticeably less careful style, and are probably by another hand. Sheet 1 is a map, with the town denoted by the dog's head glyph in the centre of a number of other towns, all represented by their glyphs. The other sheets contain genealogies. Year-signs occur on sheets 2, 4, 6, 8.

Agave paper, now mounted between glass. 1 ft.  $5\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft. 4 in.; 1 ft.  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft.  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in.; 1 ft.  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft. 3 in.; 1 ft.  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft. 3 in.; 1 ft.  $4\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft.  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in.; 1 ft. 4 in.  $\times$  1 ft.  $3\frac{1}{2}$  in.; 1 ft. 4 in.  $\times$  1 ft. 3 in.; 1 ft.  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in.  $\times$  1 ft.  $3\frac{1}{4}$  in.; 11 in.  $\times$  1 ft.  $2\frac{1}{2}$  in.; 11 in.  $\times$  1 ft. 5 in.; 1 ft.  $5\frac{1}{4}$  in.  $\times$   $8\frac{1}{2}$  in. xvi cent. (?). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2898. DOCTRINA Christiana, in picture-writing and Nahuatl. Written by "Dom. Locas Matheo Eseriuano" in 1[6]14 (cf. f. 29 b).

The present MS. does not seem to have been in Boturini's collection (see the Catalogue given as an Appendix to his Idea, 1746, p. 54). The order is as follows:—(1) The sign of the Cross, f. 1;—(2) Lord's Prayer, f. 1 b;—(3) Ave Maria, f. 2 b;—(4) Apostles' Creed, f. 3 b;—(5) Salve Regina, f. 5 b;—(6) Ten Commandments (incomplete, f. 7 b being blank), f. 8;—(7) Five Commandments of the Church, f. 8 b;—(8) Seven Sacraments, f. 10;—(9) Fourteen articles of the Faith, f. 10 b;—(10) A Catechism (?), f. 13 b;—(11) The Rosary, f. 20;—(12) Fourteen Works of Mercy, f. 25 b;—(13) Eight Beatitudes, f. 27 b;—(14) Confiteor, f. 28 b.

The drawings are to be read from left to right across the two pages of each opening.

Eg. 2899. PSALTER, in Latin. Contents:—

1. Calendar, containing many distinctively Scottish saints. These include, besides SS. Fillan, Monan, Duthac (here commemorated on Mar. 9, instead of the usual date, Mar. 8), Margaret (translation, June 19, not the rarer deposition on Nov. 16), Moloc, Serf, Blane (here Aug. 11 instead of 10), Ninian, and others of almost universal veneration (cf. A. P. Forbes, Kalendars of Scottish Saints, 1872), the following less common entries:—Jan. 10, S. Katani episcopi, ix lect. [St. Cathan al. Chattan, usually honoured on May 17, and chiefly associated with the island of Bute, but also with Argyllshire, see J. M. Mackinlay, Ancient Church Dedications in Scotland, ii, 1914, pp. 109, 110];—Jan. 13, S. Kentigerni ep. et conf., duplex festum, and July 7 (a nine-lesson double feast for the Translation of St. Thomas the martyr), S. Kentigerni ep. [suggesting a connexion with Glasgow];—Feb. 15, S. Colmoci ep. et conf., ix lect.;—Feb. 25, S. Cumini abb. [of Iona, usually Feb. 24];—Mar. 5, S. Mircoci ep., ix lect., S. Kyarani ep.;—Mar. 13, S. Conani ep. et conf., ix lect. [apparently associated with Glenorchy, near Inverary, co. Argyll (see Forbes, p. 308); perhaps the "S. Comnanus abb. Huensis" who occurs on Mar. 14 in the Kalendar of D. Camerarius (ib. p. 236)?];—Oct. 5, S. Ali ep. et conf. [? Ailbe, Bishop of Emly in Munster, usually honoured on Sept. 12];—Oct. 20, S. Maldybhii ("abbatis" scored through in red) conf. [St. Fintan Maeldubh, Abbot of Clonenagh in Ireland (Acta SS., 20 Oct., p. 896, etc.). It is perhaps relevant to note that Kylmalduff was the ancient name of Inverary parish (Mackinlay, p. 138)] ;—Nov. 4, S. Ferguciani ep. et conf., ix lect. [associated most specially with Glamis, co. Forfar, but also with Glasgow Cathedral, as well as other places in Scotland (Breviarium Aberdonense, Bannatyne Club, 1854, pars estiva, fo. clxiii b ; Mackinlay, pp. 26, 210–213)] ;—Nov. 5, S. Monidi ep., ix lect. ;—Dec. 30, S. Duthaci ep. et conf., ix lect. It is not easy to form any precise conclusion, but the Calendar on the whole seems to suggest Argyllshire as a probable place of origin. Other entries worth noting are Mar. 23 (instead of 19), S. Joseph “cuiuscunque confessoris,” duplex festum, and May 20, S. Bernerdini “cuiuscunque confessoris,” ix lect. [St. Bernardino of Siena, d. 1444, canonized 1450]. There are a few additions by a somewhat later hand, viz. Feb. 4, S. Modani abb., ix lect. ;—Feb. 17, S. Bercani abb. ;—Feb. 19, S. Meleno abb., ix lect. ;—Mar. 8, S. Connani ep. conf. ;—Mar. 24, S. Dongarti ep. et conf., ix lect. ;—Apr. 21, S. Molroue [for Maelrubha?] ep. et mart., iii lect. ;—Aug. 9, S. Mocadii ep., ix lect. ;—Oct. 27, S. Odorani conf., ix lect. ;—Dec. 14, Bedani ep. conf. ;—Dec. 22, S. Iternani ep. et conf. ;—Dec. 23, S. Petridiaconi conf. The precise significance of these additions is not obvious, but three of them may perhaps be regarded as confirming the localization suggested above : Modanus, patron of Kilmodan, near Inverary ; Odoranus, venerated at Iona, Oronsay, and in the Argyllshire islands generally ; Bedanus al. Baedan, patron of Ardchattan, co. Argyll (see Mackinlay, pp. 144–150). f. 1.

2. Psalter, Gallican version ; with divisions, marked by large initials, at Pss. xxvi (“Feria secunda”), xxxviii, li, lii, lxviii (“Feria v<sup>a</sup>”), lxxx (“Feria sexta”), xcvi (“Sabbato”), ci, cix (“In dominicis diebus ad vespertas”), and cxviii. Ends with Ps. cxlvii, followed by the “Quicumque uult,” imperf. at end. f. 7.

3. On the flyleaf (f. iii) is written a poem in the Irish language and character in a hand of circ. 1500, beg. “Aingeal de dom dhin” (30 quatrains). It is a poem of the lorica type (cf. L. Gougaud, Étude sur les Loricæ Celtiques, Bulletin d' Anc. Litt. et d' Archéol. Chrét., i, 1911, p. 265 ; ii, 1912, pp. 33, 101), sometimes attributed to St. Columba. Printed from the Leabhar Breac (facs., 1872–76), p. 262 b, l. 19, with collation of other MSS., by T. P. O’Nolan in the Miscellany presented to Kuno Meyer, 1912, p. 254. For the connexion of the Campbells of Glenorchy with Gaelic poetry see D. Mackinnon, Cat. of Gaelic MSS. in Scotland, 1912, pp. 243, 297. A fuller description will be given in the forthcoming Catalogue of Irish MSS. in the British Museum.

Vellum (exc. f. i) ; ff. iii + 154.  $9\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$   $6\frac{3}{4}$  in. xiv and late xv centt. (artt. 2, 1), circ. 1500 (art. 3). Gatherings of 8 leaves (i<sup>6</sup>, art. 1, last<sup>4</sup>), mostly with 'catchwords. Large coloured initials of crude Celtic design on ff. 7 (priest with two thurifers), 30 (scribe at desk), 44 b, 57 b (horse), 58 b (wrestlers), 72, 89, 104 b, 106 b, 121 (mermaid), 127, and quaint designs (human heads, animals, etc.) in many of the margins; flourished initials in red, blue, and green. On f. iii b is a 16th cent. inscription, "Liber Coline Campbell of Glenurquhay eiusdem Glenurquhay": probably Colin Campbell, 3rd Laird of Glenorchy, co. Argyll, d. 1523 (see The Black Book of Taymouth, ed. C. Innes, Bannatyne Club, 1855, p. 17), ancestor of the Earls and Marquises of Breadalbane. Old press-marks on f. iii: "Shelfe 7. numb. 26" (16th cent.); "pr. 6. sh. 2 N° 37" (18th-19th cent.). Bookplate of arms of the Earl of Breadalbane, 18th cent. Sotheby's sale-cat., 5-7 Feb. 1912, lot 702.

Preface beg. "Quoniam quidem ut in rethoricis Tullius"; text "Capillus ex fumo crosso (sic) et calido." f. 2 b. Additions to the above are:—(a) An anatomical description of the human body, in a 13th cent. hand, beg. "Exposicio membrorum. Quo ordine quibusque ossibus uel uenis uel neruis uel quibus compaginibus uel iuncturis uel quo scemate homo in utero formetur uel contineatur." f. 2, continued f. 1;—(b) Part of the tract of Johannes Hispalensis, printed by Hermann Suchier in Denkmäler Provenzalischer Litteratur und Sprache, 1883, pp. 473-480; see also Opera hactenus inedita Rogeri Baconi, fasc. v, Secreta Secretorum, etc., ed. R. Steele, 1920, pp. xvi and 68, l. 17 and note. Preface beg. "Cum de utilitate corporis olim tractaremus"; text, "Quia igitur humanum corpus, O Alexander, alteratur, conuertitur, et per hoc corrumpitur." The text except for certain differences in the wording corresponds with Suchier's edition as far as p. 478, section 2, l. 95; the last nine lines of the MS. do not occur in the printed version. In a hand of circ. 1200. On f. 102 b is the colophon "Dkgnxs fst ppfrbrkxs mfredf sxb," i.e. "Dignus est operarius mercede sua," the vowels being replaced by their succeeding consonants. Followed by fifteen hexameters, in the same hand, beg. "Confert omnimodam paulinum commoditatem," and by two medical recipes in a 13th cent. hand. f. 103;—(c) Various medical verses, etc., in 13th cent. hands; that beg. "Ars, etas, uirtus" is printed in Renzi, Collectio Salernitana, ii, p. 650; cf. Flor Medicinæ, ll. 1574-6 (Renzi, i, p. 496) and the remainder are chiefly variants of other passages in the same poem. f. 105:—(d) Prayers, in a 15th cent. hand. f. 104 b.

Vellum; ff. i + 105.  $8\frac{7}{8}$  in.  $\times$   $5\frac{7}{8}$  in. Late XII cent., with additions, the main portion perhaps written in England. Gatherings of 8 leaves, except i<sup>4</sup> (2, 3, 4 cancelled). Sec. fol. "capitula." Outline decorative initials on ff. 2 b, 21, 31 b, 46, 62, 78 b, 87 b; other initials in red and blue. Contemporary English binding of brown leather stamped as follows:—Upper Cover: (a) Central vertical panel, having in the middle five impressions of a circular stamp representing Samson and the lion, with legend SAMSON [cf. similar but not identical stamps, without the legend, on the cover of a Durham MS. of Leviticus and Numbers (Burlington Fine Arts Club, Cat. of Bookbindings, 1891, Plate iv; Weale, Cat. of Rubbings of Bookbindings in the South Kensington Museum, no. 27, cf. no. 23)]. The left and right sides of the panel are formed respectively by seven juxtaposed impressions of a stamp charged with two dragons interlaced, the upper one inverted, and eight impressions of a stamp charged with a cockatrice having a row of eight dots in the space between the tail and the back;—(b) Rectangular border formed at top and bottom by five juxtaposed impressions of a stamp representing Sagittarius (a centaur shooting to r. over shoulder, with three stars in background), and on the left and right sides respectively by eleven juxtaposed impressions of a stamp bearing a lion with palmated tail, looking to r. over shoulder, and eleven and a half juxtaposed impressions of another bearing a stag facing l., this last being identical with a stamp on the lower cover of the Winchester Hegesippus formerly in the collection of Mr. H. Yates Thompson (Illustrations, vol. iv, 1914, pl. 2; sale-cat. 1920, lot 31). The border is separated from the inner panel and from the edge of the cover by bands having a two-line fillet on each side, the inner fillets prolonged at the four corners to form small rectangles with the outer ones: the bands are relieved at intervals with ten-foiled rosettes within circles alternating with groups of four dots within circles. Under Cover (a large portion of the upper layer of leather gone): (a) Central vertical panel, having in the middle four juxtaposed impressions of a pair of oval stamps of St. Peter with key and legend PETRVS and St. Paul with sword and legend PAVLVS (cf. Weale, op. cit. no. 22). These impressions are almost obliterated, but can be distinguished on the under layer of leather. The left and right sides of the panel are each formed by eight juxtaposed impressions of a stamp bearing a contorted gryphon with palmated tail;—(b) Rectangular border formed at top and bottom by five juxtaposed impressions of a stamp charged with a man on horseback with sword, riding to r. (cf. similar but not identical stamps on the upper cover of Add. MS. 35167; and on either side by nine juxtaposed impressions of a stamp bearing two wyverns addorsed, their tails ending in foliage. The border is separated from the panel and from the edge of the cover by bands as on the upper cover, the dots between the rosettes being in this case in groups of three on the outer band and ranging from three to six on the inner band. This MS. is mentioned by Mr. Strickland Gibson (The Localization of Books by their Bindings, in Transactions of the Bibliographical Society, viii, p. 29; reprint, 1907, p. 13) as the only example known to him of an early binding composed wholly of leather: it was at that time in the possession of Mr. George Dunn. On f. 103 b is the note "Orate pro datore huius libri unum pater noster et aue maria quia peccatrix fuit etc.", in a 15th cent. hand, and on f. 105 is a Hebrew transliteration of the letters KONDT, which is probably connected with the signature Kond Eyseken on f. 104 b, also in a 15th cent. hand. An erased inscription is on f. 2, of which only the word "monasterii" is legible. Phillipps MS. 6925 (sale-cat. 1903, lot 287). Afterwards belonged to George Dunn (bookplate, f. i; sale-cat. 1913, lot 451). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2901. DECRETALS: an anonymous collection, the latest being attributed to Pope Lucius III (1181-1185), with marginal gloss, partly contemporary and partly of slightly later date, in which frequent reference is made to Gratian's Decretum, etc.; a single decretal of Clement III (Jaffé, Regesta, ed. 1888, no. 16596, A.D. 1187-1191) is on f. 23 b, but this leaf is an interpolation. Beg. "De sponsalibus et matrimonio:—Augustinus in libro fidei pactionis et consensus," see Corpus Juris Can., ed. Friedberg, i, col. 1078 (Gratian, Dec. II. xvii. ii. 51), and ii, col. 680 (Decret. Greg. IX, IV. iv. i). Preceded (f. iii) by a list of the tituli in an 18th cent. hand on paper.

Vellum; ff. v + 97.  $9\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$   $6\frac{1}{4}$  in. Late XII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (except the third which is of 10 by interpolation of 2 leaves), with catchwords, wanting the fourth gathering and a leaf after f. 17. 37 lines to a page. Small initials flourished in red and blue. An illuminated initial on f. 1. German 17th cent. binding in white doe-skin, blind-tooled, with thongs. Belonged (17th cent.) to the Imperial monastery of St. Maximin at Treves, afterwards to Frederick North, 5th Earl of Guilford (sale-cat. 1830, lot 169, cf. Phillipps folio cat.), Tho. Thorpe, the bookseller (cat. 1831, no. 11879), Sir Thomas Phillipps (MS. 7369 or 7790, sale-cat., 5-10 June, 1899, lot 652) and George Dunn (bookplate; sale-cat., 1913, lot 457). From the Farnborough Fund.

Eg. 2902. SACRAMENTARY, apparently executed for a monastery connected with Jerusalem (see below, artt. 1, 6). Contents:—

1. Calendar. Jan. and Feb., on the first leaf of an inserted sheet, written in an Italian script, late 14th cent., evidently for the use of Augustinian Friars Hermits (Feb. 6, "Anniversarium patrum et matrum ordinis nostri"; Feb. 9 [for 10?], "S. Guillemi conf., semi duplex," in red; Feb. 28, "Translatio S. Augustini ep. et conf.," also in red: cf. Add. MS. 16890, etc.). The original Calendar (Mar.–Dec.) has a number of entries referring specially to Jerusalem, viz. Mar. 18, "Ierusalem. Alexandri ep. et mart."; May 4, "Ierusalem. Quiriaci ep. et conf."; July 15, "Dedicatio ecclesie dominici sepulchri. et liberatio Ierusalem"; Aug. 23, "Ierusalem. Zachei ep. et conf."; Oct. 22, "Ierusalem. Marci ep. et mart."; Oct. 29, "Ierusalem. Narcisi ep. et conf." Apart from these, there is a preponderance of French saints, e.g. "Andegavis. Albini ep. et conf." (Mar. 1); Germanus (May 28, July 31, Oct. 1 and 11); Medard and Gildard (June 8); Marcial (June 30); Martin (July 4 and Nov. 11, the latter with octave); Giles (Sept. 1); Salvius, Bishop [of Alby] (Sept. 10); Maurilius (Sept. 13); Remy and Vedast (Oct. 1); Denis, etc. (Oct. 9); Quintin (Oct. 31); Amantius, Bishop [of Rodez] (Nov. 4); "Bricii ep. et conf. et gloriosi Verani ep. et conf." (Nov. 13) [the latter doubtless either Bishop of Cavaillon or of Vence]; Anianus (Nov. 17); Trophinus, Bishop [of Arles] (Dec. 29). St. Thomas of Canterbury is included (Dec. 29, d. 1170, canonized 1173), but not the Conception of the Virgin (Dec. 8). The following insertions occur, in an Italian 14th cent. hand: Apr. 14, "O[biit] Deus te adiuvet, clericus"; June 30, "O[biit] Petrus Johannes bonus [Bongiovanni], clericus"; Oct. 22, "O[biit] dominus Egidius, cardinalis diaconus," perhaps referring to Aegidius Petri Leonis, card. diac. S. Nicolai in Carcere Tulliano, d. 1195. f. 1.
2. Table of movable feasts for the nineteen years of the lunar cycle. f. 7.
3. "Oratio S. Ambrosii episcopi ad Missam" (modern heading): the prayer before Mass, beg. "Summe sacerdos et vere pontifex." The conclusion, followed by collect, secret, and postcommunion commemorating the Resurrection, is in an Italian script, late 14th cent., on the second leaf (f. 8) of an inserted sheet (see art. 1 above). f. 7 b.
Ff. 9, 10–13 are misbound; they should follow ff. 19, 139 respectively. see below, artt. 5, 7, 8.
4. Preface (general) and Canon Missae, the latter containing the rubrics "Leo papa adiunxit" (at the "Hanc igitur oblationem"), "Gregorius papa constituit pater noster" (at the Lord's Prayer), "Sergius papa" and "Innocentius papa constituit dare pacem"

- (before and after the "Agnus Dei"); cf. A. Fortescue, The Mass, 1912, pp. 137, 387, 370. Imperfect, wanting the first leaf of the Canon. f. 14.
5. Prefaces for special occasions, followed by introits de Tempore from Advent to Low Sunday. ff. 19, 9.
  6. Sacramentary, as follows:—(a) Temporale; with the "stationes," mostly as in the Roman Missal. At Maundy Thursday is an injunction (f. 45) "ut eo die religiosus [sc. religiosus] quisque a communione sese minime subtrahat" (cf. Harley MS. 5289, f. 165, Durham Cathedral, 14th cent.); and on Good Friday the stealthy ("in modum furentium", sc. furantium) rending of the veils over the altar at the words "Partiti sunt uestimenta mea" is ordered (f. 45 b, cf. Harl. 5289, f. 168 b, and see H. Thurston, Lent and Holy Week, 1904, p. 336). The monastic character of the book appears from such phrases as "Postquam autem adorauerint fratres" "communicent sub silentio fratres" (ff. 48 b, 49), etc. A curious feature is the citation of authorities for special points of ritual, e.g. "Auctoritas Alexander papa," "Auctoritas Amalarius," "Benedictio cerei, quam Zosimus papa constituit" (ff. 49, 50 b), etc. f. 20;—(b) Sanctorale, beg. vii kal. Jan., Nat. S. Stephani protomart.; agreeing in the main with the Calendar, but containing only the following references to Jerusalem:—v id. Mar., "Ierusalem. S. xl. Mart." (f. 82);—[id. Jul.], "Missa pro libertate Ierusalem de manu paganorum" (f. 93);—xi kal. Nov., "Ierusalem. S. Marci ep. et mart." (f. 110 b). f. 74 b;—(c) Commune Sanctorum. f. 117;—(d) "In dedicatione ecclesie," "In dedicatione altaris," and "Missa cotidiana de illo sancto qui in presenti iacet monasterio." f. 118 b;—(e) Missae votivae. f. 120 (Mass for Queen added in margin, f. 124, in a contemp. hand).
  7. "Oratio S. Ambrosii, quem (sic) sacerdos dicat supplicando ante altare finita missa [sc. ante Missam]": prayer beg. "Deus qui de indignis," and other prayers before Mass, including "orationes uestiarum." ff. 139 b, 10–11.
  8. Ordinarium Missae. ff. 11–13 b.
  9. Missa "pro commemoratione S. Marie et omnium sanctorum et pace ecclesie," added in a slightly later hand. f. 13 b.
  10. Gospels "de resurrectione," "de ascensione domini," "de sancta trinitate," etc. f. 140.
  11. Marriage service, with nuptial Mass. f. 145 b.
  12. Exorcismus salis et aquae, "In purificatione S. Marie. Benedictio candelarum," and the 3rd and 2nd Gospels for Christmas Day. f. 148.
  13. "Missa S. Aquatii sociorumque eius" [presumably either the Acatius said to have been crucified on Mount Ararat, or the "Agathius sive Acacius" martyred at Constantinople: see Acta SS., 22 June, p. 151, 8 May, p. 288]; followed by the Gospel for the Annunciation, imperf. at end. An addition, late 13th cent., on a blank page. f. 151 b.

At the beginning and end are fragments of a Legenda, apparently written in Italy, 13th cent., in double columns of 36 lines, containing at beg. (i) Passio S. Anastasii [22 Jan.], parts of lections 7-9: a different version from those enumerated in Bibl. Hag. Lat., nos. 408-413; but lect. 9 is nearly identical with lect. 7-8 for SS. Vincent and Anastasius in the printed Roman Breviary (Venice, 1478) Ends "uenerantur in monasterio ad Aquas Saluias." f. ii;—(ii) "In S. [E]merentiana" [23 Jan.]: parts of lections 1-3, lect. 3 nearly identical with cap. 3 of Acta S. Agnetis printed in Acta SS., 21 Jan., p. 717. Beg. "... gaudiis sollempnem nobis gl[ori]ose Emerentiane." f. iii;—and at end (iii) Apparitio S. Michaelis in Monte Tancia [8 May] (Bibl. Hag. Lat., Suppl., 1911, no. 5947 c). Beg. (imperf.) "archangeli dedicata. . . Introitus autem cripte minus a medio montis deorsum pendet." Ends "Ab illo autem die Sabinensium populus locum cepit uenerari. . . patronum atque intercessorem aput deum altissimum, qui uiuit," etc. f. iv;—(iv) "Passio sanctorum Gordiani et Epimachi" [10 May]; imperf. at end. Eg. 2905. S. AUGUSTINE, De Civitate Dei, libb. i-ix. The original text written without chapter-divisions, which have been added by a later hand, although they do not correspond in all cases with the divisions of the printed work. The text has been retouched in several places in blacker ink, e.g. ff. 117 b, 121 b.

Vellum; ff. 155.  $9\frac{5}{8}$  in.  $\times$   $6\frac{3}{8}$  in. Late xii cent. Written probably in Spain. Gatherings of 8 leaves (i<sup>6</sup>, last<sup>4</sup>; f. 1 a separate fly-leaf), the majority with catchwords. Sec. fol. "confugientes." On f. 2 is a decorative initial G formed by a grotesque with foliage, enclosed, together with the rubric and opening words of the text, in a rectangular frame with curious zig-zag and other ornament, somewhat coarsely executed in red, green, white, yellow and blue. The title in Spanish occurs twice on f. 1 in 17th-18th cent. (?) hands. Modern binding of brown morocco, stamped; an older binding of brown leather, with small stamps including a Paschal lamb and an eagle displayed, is laid down on the inner covers. An erased note of ownership (contemporary) on f. 155 b, of which only the words "Lib[er] See Marie" can be read (cf. f. 2). No. 4360 in Thorpe's cat., 1826. Eg. 2906. ACCOMPT-BOOK of the Company of Smiths, Goldsmiths, Chandlers, Pewterers, Plumbers, Cutlers and Wire drawers in the city of Coventry; 1684-1821. The receipts and payments cover the whole period except the years 1697 and 1819, of which there is no record. For books on the earlier history of the Company see T. Sharp, Coventry Mysteries, 1825, pp. 13-42; H. Craig, Two Coventry Corpus Christi Plays, 1902 (Early Eng. Text Soc., extra ser. 87), pp. 82-93; and M. D. Harris, Coventry Leet Book, 1907-1913 (E. E. T. S., orig. ser. 134, 135, 138, 146), pp. 743-746.

At ff. 35 b, 121, etc., are entries relating to "the Company's seats in St. Michael's Church," cf. M. D. Harris, Story of Coventry, 1911, p. 326. Their principal celebration seems to have been the "great feast," to which there are constant allusions. Entertainments appear to have been held at the "Half Moon." The Company employed a "follower," for whom shoes were bought (ff. 6, 7, etc.), a "sidesman" (f. 66), "2 traine souldiers" (f. 69, cf. ff. 10, 11, etc.), who perhaps formed the "body-guard" referred to on f. 89, a summoner (f. 3, etc.) and a boy (f. 4 b, etc.). A special form of membership appears to have been that of a "love-brother," to which John Gamble was admitted in 1712. Under 15 Oct. 1704 (f. 30) is a note of expenses on account of the "famous victory by Duke of Marlborough over the French and Bavarians," i.e. Blenheim, and under 1 May, 1707, of a thanksgiving for the Union. On 17 June, 1727, the Company spent £1 13 8 in proclaiming King George II, and on 11 October £1 12 at his coronation. There are signatures of masters and wardens throughout the volume, many of whom are described as practising other crafts than those mentioned above, e.g.:—Innholders (ff. 6 b, 87 b);—Malt-mill-maker (f. 81 b);—Vintner (f. 82 b);—Wine-Merchant (f. 84 b);—Brasier (ff. 84 b, 86 b, 87 b, 88 b);—and Brickmaker (f. 94 b). On f. 126 b there are attestations of inspection and examination, 1822–1833.

The volume is illustrated by numerous coats-of-arms of the companies in tinctures, as follows:—Smiths (f. 19);—Chandlers (f. 21);—Cutlers (f. 22 b);—Goldsmiths (f. 24, more correctly on f. 116 b);—Plumbers (f. 34 b, another form on f. 121 b);—Pewterers (f. 47). Arms of the following crafts also occur:—Coopers (f. 84 b);—Fletchers (?) (f. 89 b);—Brickmakers (f. 94 b);—Weavers (f. 96 b, another form on f. 114 b?);—Painter-stainers (f. 102 b);—Carpenters (?) (f. 103 b);—Masons (?) (f. 104 b);—Stationers (?) (f. 107 b);—Grocers (f. 109 b);—Leather-sellers (?) (f. 115 b). Many of the above coats-of-arms frequently recur, especially those of the Smiths and Chandlers. Cf. C. Welch, Coat-Armour of the London Livery Companies, 1914.

Paper; ff. i + 126.  $17\frac{1}{2}$  in.  $\times$   $12\frac{1}{2}$  in. xvii–xix centt. Bound in wooden boards covered with brown calf, repaired. Belonged to George Dunn (bookplate, f. i; sale-cat. 1913, lot 452).

Eg. 2907. NEW TESTAMENT, in Latin; Vulgate version. The arrangement of books is regular, except that the Catholic Epistles precede the Pauline and Hebrews, and that Colossians comes after 1 and 2 Thessalonians and is followed (f. 269 b) by the apocryphal "Epistola ad Laodicences." Romans is preceded by the argument beg. "Romani sunt in partibus Ytalie" (Berger, Préfaces, 1902, no. 280 A), and Hebrews by the argument "In primis dicendum est" and preface "Hebrei proprio gentis suo (sic) uocabulo" (ib. nos. 283, 285). The text has many characteristic features, e.g. a long addition after Matth. xx. 28 (cf. Wordsworth and White; Nouum Testamentum Latine, pt. i, 1889-98, p. 124), a shorter one at the end of Acts (ib. pt. ii, 1905, p. 228), and the inclusion of 1 Joh. v. 7 (the passage relating to the Three Heavenly Witnesses), but after verse 8 (cf. Sir F. G. Kenyon, Textual Criticism of N. T., 1912, p. 208). Modern chapter-numeration inserted in the margins by a later hand.

At the end (f. 309 b) is a Calendar, having a striking preponderance of French saints, including some that are specially associated with the south of France, viz. Pontius, martyr (Nice, Narbonne, etc.), May 11; Genesius, martyr (Arles), Aug. 25; Salvius, Bishop (of Alby), Sept. 10; Amantius (Bishop of Rodez), Nov. 4; "Pauli Narbone" (Paul, Bishop of Narbonne), Dec. 11 (usually venerated on Mar. 22, but in many places on Dec. 12, see Acta SS., 22 Mar., p. 369). St. Thomas of Canterbury is not mentioned, and the Conception of the Virgin (Dec. 8) has been inserted with a plummet. In a blank space at the end of the Apocalypse (f. 309) are the following verses in a slightly later hand:—(i) Three elegiac couplets on the name Adam (cf. Amalarius, De Eccles. Offic. lib. i, cap. 7, in Migne, Patr. Lat. cv. 1004), beg. "Anachole dissis arcos messimbrios orbis";—(ii) Four leonine hexameters beg. "Acumbens dormit, discumbens fercula sumit";—(iii) A distich against women, "Femina tormentum iuuenum mortis monumentum/ Hechom inem primum de celo traxit ad imum."

On ff. 315-327 are tables of Epistles and Gospels throughout the year, in a 15th cent. hand; and on f. 327b are notes of the foundation of the Dominican order, the deaths of SS. Dominic, Peter Martyr, and Thomas Aquinas, and the canonization in 1455 of St. Vincent Ferrer.

Vellum; ff. ii + 327. 5 $\frac{3}{4}$  in.  $\times$  3 $\frac{3}{4}$  in. Early XIII cent. Gatherings of 8 leaves (last<sup>15</sup>). Sec. fol. "eo cogitante." Illuminated initials in gold and colours, often with border-prolongations, at the beginnings of books, neatly executed in a curious and interesting style, with the opening words of many of the books in red and blue capitals on coloured grounds; smaller initials flourished in red and blue; words omitted in the text have been supplied by the scribe in the margins, and surrounded with elaborate decorative designs in red and blue outlines. Old binding of wooden boards, with leather thong and brass clasp. On f. ii, "Ista biblia est michi Jacobo Verder presbytero in ecclesia sancti Agricole [at Avignon?] beneficiato" (15th cent.). Sold at Sotheby's, 30 June, 1913, lot 158.

The volume opens (f. 1 b) with prose summaries of the plays beg. “Prime comedie que Andria dicitur hec est materia,” but of these only the first three have been written. The plays are immediately preceded by (a) Life of Terence, beg. “Terentius Afer genere extitit,” f. 5;—(b) Prose argument of Andria, beg. “Orto bello Athenis” (cf. F. Glosses in several hands are profuse throughout Andria and in parts of Eunuchus and Adelphoe. Of the later sources those most frequently cited by name are Jacobinus Mantuanus and above all the Catholicon of Johannes Balbus de Janua. A marginal note to Petrarch on f. 113 relates: “Hoc dixit Petrarcha propter seipsum, qui comedias scripsit. Verum postea suas uidens, illasque comediis Terentii conferens et uilissimas suas esse respectu Terentianarum considerans, laceratas in ignem cremari dedit, ut narrauit Petrus de Parma, qui admodum familiaris Petrarche fuit et se ab eodem audiuisset asseuerauit.” On f. 114 b are two sets of verses on the plays:—(a) Six elegiac couplets, beg. “Andria quid portet iuuenes que sponte sequantur”;—(b) Couplet—“Andria et Eunuchus, Euton, Adelphys, Hecyra, | Phormio succedens fabula sexta datur.” Vellum, with paper fly-leaves; ff. ii + 115.  $11\frac{7}{8}$  in.  $\times$   $8\frac{3}{8}$  in. A.D. 1419. Colophon on f. 111 b: “Terentii Afri explicit Hecyra, vi<sup>a</sup> uidelicet et ultima comedia, per me Odoardum natum Jacobi Bergognini civis Astensis die nono Septembris .M. ccccxviii. In Viconovo dyocesis Ferrariensis Deo gratias Amen." On f. 24 is the Greek colophon—Τελος του Τερεντιου και της ανδριας. Θεω χαριτες. Gatherings (beg. f. 5) of 10 leaves. Sec. fol. "Natus." The body of the text has 31 lines to a page. Illuminated initials head the various sections, two on f. 6 enclosing miniatures (female and male heads). Binding of red morocco, tooled (17th–18th cent.). A partly effaced inscription on f. 1 ends "... scripsit uigilia s. Luce 17 Octobr. 1436." On f. 1 b is an old number N. 55; and on f. i "H. viii 23." On f. 1 b, in pencil, "10 luigi osia 44 scudi in Roma 31 Marzo 1826." Belonged to Charles Butler of Warren Wood (sale-cat. 1914, lot 4992), who apparently bought it of J. and J. L[eighton], 25 Nov. 1896, for £25 (pencil note on f. i).

No Egerton MSS. were purchased in 1915.
